"Stop" Signs Will Be Made Larger On Roads

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—(UP)—"Stop" signs on county roads that intersect with state highways are to be enlarged, it was announced today by A. H. Hinkle, maintenance superintendent of the state highway department.

Fast driving on highways has increased the danger at intersections, Hinkle said, and although the signs that were two feet in diameter and placed 50 feet back from the main road were sufficient for several years, larger signs are now needed. The new signs will be four feet in diameter and placed 75 or 100 feet from the highway.

treasurer brought the displeasure of the White House, in answer to questions, said, "it was a matter of common rumor in Washington at the time," but added he had no personal knowledge of the facts.

No action was taken in the matter but the incident appeared to some to accentuate the series of differences between the White House and the senate.

Wheeler persisted in the statement he had been informed privately by a member of the committee that the president was responsible. He said the reversal came the day after the announcement that the United States Steel corporation had concluded a contract with the Soviet government for importation of 80,000 to 150,000 tons of manganese ore annually.

Bratton read a newspaper account charging that Bingham was one of the committee members who said he had changed his vote because "the White House wanted it."

Bingham promptly denied he had changed his position or that the president had attempted to influence his vote.

"The president never sent word to me," said Smoot, "and I don't believe he did to a single member of the committee."

turn for direct quotation, but they privately expressed their pleasure. Wealthy individual traders were immensely relieved.

Hundreds of accounts were destroyed, however, in the early trading, and bargains in large quantities were picked up later.

When the market turned up, the whole list made sharp gains. It then hesitated for a brief interval as gains were being digested. The next move was another advance that continued to the close. A final burst of buying caused most issues to close on highs of the day.

Pantages Hope Rises

Los Angeles, Nov. 7.—(UP)—Alexander Pantages' hope of escaping a sentence of from one to 50 years in San Quentin penitentiary was bolstered today by affidavits of three women members of the jury which convicted him of attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle. The affidavits declared that the jurors were coerced into agreeing to the verdict.

The jurors were Mrs. Christina D. Ulrich, Mrs. William Ingles, and Mrs. Lotta C. Steiner, who said they believed inclusion of a recommendation for clemency in the verdict would enable the theatrical man to receive a light sentence, whereas the court must disregard the recommendation, under the law.

The coercion allegation was based on their contention that a fellow-juror told them they would be criticized over the radio by the Rev. Bob Shuler if they did not vote to convict.

Johnson Answers Hoover

Washington, Nov. 7.—(UP)—Senator Hiram Johnson, Repn. Calif., thanked President Hoover today for the explanation that Johnson's name was omitted inadvertently from the guest list of a White House dinner for the foreign affairs committee Tuesday evening.

The text of the reply made public by Johnson follows:

"My Dear Mr. President:

"Yesterday morning Mr. Richey delivered to me your kind note. May I express to you my very great appreciation of it, and my thanks for it. Most sincerely yours,
"Hiram W. Johnson."
