Bureau To Be Continued

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 16—(UPI)—Passing of a proposed city budget, containing an appropriation for continuation of the city's free employment bureau, over the veto of Mayor Wood Posey, was believed likely today, following a caucus of city members.

Although no statements were made by members of the council, it was rumored that enough members favorable to continuation of the employment bureau continued to overrule the mayor's veto.

According to a ruling by attorney general James M. Ogdin, Monday, the mayor of a city does not have the power to dispose of an employment bureau, nor can he leave out of the city budget an appropriation for such a bureau.

A dinner was served at the noon hour Sunday for several close relatives and friends, and ice cream and cake, coffee and mints were served during the afternoon.

COOKING FROM VACUUM TUBE IS SUCCESSFUL

Scientists Experiment With New Short Wave Appliance in Radio

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—(UPI)

—New investigations into possibilities of the short-wave high-power vacuum tube give hope of producing radio waves which will do the family cooking, provide virusless illumination for homes, reduce pain and cure disease, according to Dr. Willis R. Whitney, director of the General Electric Research laboratories.

Simplified mechanism and a reduction in the cost of producing large volumes of radio energy are problems now facing solution. With these problems disposed of, control of the new power immediately will open up lanes of advance in industry and therapeutics, hitherto closed to science. Dr. Whitney stated.

In experimenting with the tube, it was found that by placing a wire over a table at a distance of a few feet from a radiating aerial, which was a copper bar about 10 feet long, a sausage in a glass container suspended from the bar was soon cooked thoroughly. The tube from which this power was produced was two feet long and five inches in diameter.

Different applications of this tube have been under investigation. For generations heat has been known to be useful in alleviating pain and curing some diseases. Recently medical research has indicated that fever temperatures in the human body are destructive to certain disease germs. The new vacuum tube produces this heat, causing blood temperature to rise to 100 degrees Fahrenheit in 15 minutes.

Dr. Whitney stated that as yet the high-power short-wave tubes are being used for experimental purposes only and the task now before the investigators is to bring them into practical usefulness at a reasonable cost and discover their possibilities for service to the world.
