Sinuses

The cells or cavities contained in certain bones, as the frontal, ethmoid, sphenoid and superior maxillary, are called sinuses. The frontal sinuses are two irregular cavities extending upward and outward from their openings on each side of the nasal spine, between the inner and outer layers of the skull, and separated from one another by a thin bony septum. They give rise to the prominences above the root of the nose, called the nasal eminences.

STRUCTURE IS ROCKED BY BOMB

Chicago Has Second Outrage in Two Days; Damage is $20,000

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(U.P.)—The American Furniture Mart, one of the largest buildings in the world, was rocked shortly before midnight by a time bomb which caused damage estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000.
It was the second sensational bomb outrage in the city within two days. Tony May, who was called "the millionaire newsboy," was fatally hurt and his son, Eugene, 16, seriously injured Sunday when a bomb, concealed in a package which May thought contained a birthday present, exploded in his hands.
The blast which completely wrecked an area about 25 feet square in the furniture mart was so loud it aroused V. Lee Alward, president of the mart, who was in his home several blocks away. He hurried to the building and told police he knew of no reason for the bombing.

All the office equipment in one room was shattered by the explosion. A hole two feet square was torn in the floor where the charge went downward. The masonry between two large windows as separated and windows throughout one section of the huge building were rocked from their casings.

When the building was completed only a few years ago it was said to contain more floor space than any other building in the world. It is located near the loop, just off Lake Michigan and in the gold coast district.

The bomb, police said, apparently was thrown from a passing auto and exploded in a side entrance and in the doorway to the Kroehler Company display rooms.

Alward said he was at a loss to determine whether the attack was directed at the mart or the Kroehler Company. Kroehler officials said they knew of no reason why their rooms should be bombed.

Alward said most of the damage was to windows. The blast was so powerful it shook out 45 window panes in the sixth floor and broke windows in fashionable apartment and clubhouses in the district. A cab company telephone operator, sitting at his desk in a building a short distance from the mart, was thrown to the floor.

SCIENTIST IS DEATH'S VICTIM

conditions for an entire season could be forecast through study of sun spots.

He was an eminent seismologist and an authority on meteorology, as well as a distinguished astronomer.

Father Ricard was born in Plaisians, Drome, France, and at the age of 23 came to America and attended Woodstock College in Maryland. He joined the Society of Jesus and in 1887 became a professor and doctor of physics here.

A daily weather forecast was prepared by Father Ricard for Santa Clara county for many years and he concentrated on research work along this line, spending sometimes 18 hours or more a day in his observatory, until he had gained a knowledge of the sun that enabled him to make his forecast 10 days in advance. The system became so perfected that it gained the approval of the United States weather bureau.

Because of his accomplishments, Father Ricard was given membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Meteorology Society of America, the Seismology Society of America, and Astronomy Societies of France, Belgium and Mexico.

The other heirs of Aunt Lucy who are present during this night of strange happenings, are Louise Bashford, played by Gretchen Winans; Stella Faber, played by Margaret Kitson, and Eva Harper, played by Mary Jane Kunkle.

Miss Verneal Whalen, instructor of English, directed the play, and Miss Blanche McCrory, senior class sponsor, assisted in the management. Miss Bernice Closs, pianist, played several popular numbers before the curtain rose.

The play will be repeated to night at the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

POLICE CHIEF
WRITES LETTER

Hoping that you will appreciate that the sentiment expressed in this egg throwing affair is not the sentiment of the good people of this City, who feel that the better team won and credit them for it.

There is a rumor to the effect that Huntington football team was egged in your City about two years ago, whether or not this is true we do not tolerate reprisals.

The offenders have been duly brought into court and assessed fines and sentences which have been suspended on good behavior. Also they have been disciplined at school.

Any damages will be taken care of by these offenders. Mail the bill and I will give them my personal attention.

Hoping you will accept our apologies and feel that this element of ill-feeling as expressed by the offenders is in the minority, I am.

Yours respectfully,
Carl H. Lippincott,
Chief of Police
