

WORKERS FORM VILLAGE

Las Vegas, Nev., March 30.—(UP)—A little city which the federal government now has planned on the Nevada desert is being built up by mining boom camp workers. The Boulder boat landings are from here.

The "tent city" composed mostly of tents and their families awaiting employment on Boulder dam. Many of them had taken to live on until the dam was under way and are living under the tents to make the money last until jobs.

Most 50 tents house the men and their families and two stores supply the campers with provisions.

Shoppers provide their own food. Several times a week food is brought from the dam by old-fashioned wagons.

Wagons to a favorite spot beyond the bank of the river are being used to bring a fiddler and a guitar with them, and soon there will be singing.

AS ON VERGE OF BREAKDOWN

It hadn't been for Sargon I would have had to have given up on my life," stated Mrs. H. H. Gleason, 247 North

MRS. WILLIAM H. GLEASON

St. Indianapolis. "I suffered with soreness and pains in my back, hips and thighs. Almost every night, about one or two o'clock, I'd wake up in such a way I couldn't go back to sleep. The whole system seemed to be in a toxic condition.

"I've only been taking Sargon for three weeks, but every bit of the pain and soreness is gone already. I sleep soundly all night, and have more energy than I've had in years. Sargon Pills keep my bowels regulated in an easy, natural manner that I've never found in any other laxative. I'd feel really ungrateful if I didn't tell others about Sargon."

Resolution of Respect
Eureka Temple, No. 39.

We, the committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to our departed sister, Theresa Meyers, whose death occurred March 8, would submit the following:

Whereas, it has pleased in His all wise, mysterious providence, to call from us to His realm above, the spirit of our departed sister, and while we bow in humble submission to the Divine call, it is but fitting that we bear testimony to her good qualities and express in this manner our deep sorrow to her sorrow-stricken husband, son and daughters, for them it is an irreparable loss.

Resolved:

That we extend to her family and friends our heartfelt sympathy in this their time of sorrow and commend them to the infinite love and mercy of God.

Resolved: That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the lodge, a copy be sent to the family, and to the city paper.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

(Purdue News Service)

The experience of Indiana poultry raisers shows clearly that chicks free from Pullorum Disease (Bacillary White Diarrhea) have a much higher livability, than chicks from flocks harboring the disease, according to Wm. Kohlmeier of the Purdue Poultry Department. Veterinarians and disease specialists agree that infection with the Pullorum Disease organism causes more chick losses than any other trouble.

Since this disease can be transmitted through the hatching egg from parent stock to offspring, the only reliable means of control is to obtain chicks from flocks free from the trouble. Either the agglutination tube test, or the so-called "Rapid" agglutination test where blood serum is used, is a satisfactory means of identifying disease carrier birds. There is also evidence to show that considerable spread of the disease may take place within the incubator at hatching time. Hence Mr. Kohlmeier advises using a separate incubator for eggs from Pullorum-free flocks.

Results from six Indiana counties last season showed a mortality of only 8 percent of chicks started where "clean" chicks were used. On the other hand, those using chicks from untested flocks suffered a loss of 15 percent of the chicks which were started. This demonstrates quite clearly the value of clean chicks.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 30.—English pictures lack punch because censors devalue them before a camera starts to grind. This is the theory of Conway Tearle, who has just returned to Hollywood after eight months in London.

"I made a picture called 'Captivation' for an independent producer, John Harville," explains Tearle. "When they brought the script to me I suggested a number of changes to inject a little life into it. The company was agreeable, but they informed me that the censors would never give their okay."

"They are much stricter upon native companies than upon the American films coming in. As a result, you get only lightweight stories from England."

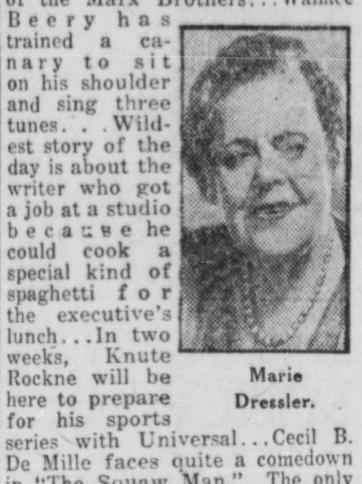

"Salaries of the English stars are about half what they are in Hollywood," Tearle declares. "Few players receive more than $1,000 a week. On the stage, $600 a week is a big salary."

Motion picture patrons, on the other hand, pay more for their entertainment. First-run houses, running program pictures, charge $1.75 for the best seats.

"If the censorship restrictions are ever lowered, you will see an entirely different sort of film come out of England," predicts Tearle. "They have the ability and the willingness over there. There simply are too many don'ts."

VOX POPULI.
Warner Brothers' "Svengali" was previewed at the Forum Theater in Los Angeles. Coming out after the show, a flapper was heard to remark: "That Mr. Barrymore is getting so, he acts more like Fredric March every day."

LATEST GOSSIP.
Walter Huston's son has been signed by Samuel Goldwyn to write scenarios for United Artists. The lad has had an arrangement to split all his literary commissions with his father, who staked him until he could sell his stories. Paramount has turned thumbs down on the proposals of several fan magazines to take "straight" pictures of the Marx Brothers. Wallace Beery has trained a canary to sit on his shoulder and sing three tunes. Wild West story of the day is about the writer who got a job at a studio because he could cook a special kind of spaghetti for the executive's lunch. In two weeks, Knute Rockne will be here to prepare for his sports series with Universal. Cecil B. De Mille faces quite a comedown in "The Squaw Man." The only bath-tub he could get into the picture was a tin one. As a matter of fact, Mr. De Mille has used only 6 bath-tubs in 57 pictures.

HOLLYWOOD GESTURE.
One of Hollywood's better known writers went down to Malibu Beach this week to visit a friend. He found the place closed up, but a man wandered out and asked if he wished to see the house. The writer explained he had come to visit the owner.

"Well, he's gone now," replied the stranger, "and has left the house with my company to sell."

The writer explained he had come down on invitation to take a swim and asked the agent if he could use the house.

"I'm sorry, but I can't let you in," replied the real estate man. "The house is for sale."

Very much touched, the writer then asked the price. The agent told him. "Oke," he said. "Here." Whereupon he wrote out a check and gave it to the delighted salesman.

Then he went in swimming.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for Liver Pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.
