Paris Styles

By Mary Knight
United Press Staff Correspondent

Paris, Jan. 2—(UP)—How many maidens have donned their new winter coats to go riding in "his" new sport roadster, touring car, or what has he only to find that when they get nicely nestled down in the seat besides him the grand new coat flaps open over the knees. Anyone, who ever has experienced this, knows the value and importance of Schiaparelli clothes in general and Schiaparelli coats in particular.

If even a tiny thread of cold air can get in through the new wrap-around winter coat, said thread of cold air has to have the strength of Samson! The coat in question is of green tweed. It fits the waistline snugly and the skirt section wraps completely around the body and snaps into place again where it starts with two smart square clips—she is famous for her fasteners—and a lovely snug fitting collar of black seal tempts the chin to snuggle down into it without any idea of resistance.

The members of the Dutiful Daughters class of the Evangelical Sunday School will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred McConnell, Tuesday night at seven-thirty o'clock. Mrs. Dick McConnell and Mrs. Harge Haggard will be the assisting hostesses.

The Phoebe Bible class of the Zion Reformed Sunday School will meet Wednesday night at seven-thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. Walter Deutsch on South Seventh street. Mrs. Dallas Goldner, Miss Matilda Sellemeyer, and Mrs. Ralph Vager will be the assisting hostesses.

A Memorial Service will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Warren, Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, for Rev. G. A. Work, a former pastor in Decatur, who died recently.

Severe members from the local church are planning to attend the service.

The Woman's Club will meet in the library all Monday night at seven-forty-five o'clock. The meeting will be in the charge of the Art Department and the subject will be "Living Pictures." Mrs. Robert Mills will be in charge of the program.

Miss Madge Hite will entertain the members of her Dinner Bridge Club at her home, Thursday evening at six-thirty o'clock.

The meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. H. M. DeVoss, Thursday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, will be held at the home of Mrs. L. A. Graham, instead.

Mrs. Pinchot's Candidacy Olive Branch to Hoover

Wife of Pennsylvania Governor, in Announcing Opposition to McFadden in '32, Opens Way for Truce Between Husband and President.

REP. LOUIS MCFADDEN GOV. and MRS. GIFFORD PINCHOT

Behind the announcement of Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, that she will oppose Representative Louis T. McFadden as a candidate for Congress in 1932, is the faint rustle of the olive branch. The joint desire of the Pinchots, heretofore vigorous critics of the Hoover Administration, to defeat McFadden is seen by G. O. P. leaders as the first step to the burial of the hatchet between the Pennsylvania Chief Executive and the President. Senator James Reed and other supporters of the Pennsylvania administration are pleased at the turn of events, Senator Reed showing his pleasure by declaring that he would not be a party to any "hand-picking" of a third candidate and asserting that any "loyal" Republican would be satisfactory to him, thus indicating that Mrs. Pinchot might come within the category of "loyal Republican."

The Pennsylvania First Lady is no stranger to the political arena. In 1928 she proved herself an astute politician by coming within 3,000 votes of beating Representative McFadden. In her scathing denunciation of McFadden's attack upon the President, Mrs. Pinchot stated that "everyone must resent an unsubstantiated accusation of treason against the President." Such an appeal to the loyalty of the electors may be expected in the coming campaign. It is almost certain to bring results.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 31.—Behind the announcement of Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, that she will oppose Representative Louis T. McFadden as a candidate for congress for the Fifteenth Congressional District is the faint flutter of the wings of the dove of peace.

Mrs. Pinchot's scathing denunciation of Representative McFadden's attack upon President Hoover came as a surprise to all who have been aware of Governor Pinchot's vigorous opposition to the Hoover administration, and the joint desire of the Pinchots to have McFadden defeated for renomination is seen as paving the way to a burial of the hatchet between the Pennsylvania chief executive and the President.

That Senator James Reed and other supporters of the Pennsylvania administration are pleased at the turn of events is putting it mildly. No doubt they felt their Governor's outspoken criticism of the White House incumbent rather embarrassing at times. Regarding Mrs. Pinchot's candidacy, Senator Reed announced that he would not be a party to the "hand-picking" of a third candidate, declaring that any "loyal" Republican would be satisfactory to him, thus indicating that Mrs. Pinchot might come within the category of "loyal" Republican.

Mrs. Pinchot's return to the political arena results in a reconciliation between her husband and the President, Republicans will regard the sensational attack of Representative McFadden upon Mr. Hoover as a blessing in disguise, for it will have served a purpose dear to the heart of the G. O. P. It will be recalled that Representative McFadden charged the Chief Executive with violating his oath of office in the matter of the foreign debts moratorium, and that is the big gun that Mrs. Pinchot
