Paris Styles

By Mary Knight
Press Staff Correspondent
Jan. 5—(UP)—Clothes are not smart unless they fit right. They may pay a thousand dollars for a gown, but unless it fits the lines of your body, the material simply gawd. The fashion fortune will look like 30 women in the world certainly not stylish—in fact, very smart—but many a plain dress can be smarter, have more style than a woman who only style to her credit. There is a woman here in Paris, for instance, who may accurately be said to be everywhere and do everything, and yet, in the lingo of the fashion world, she is "style minus." It is her things fit her that make her outstanding in any crowd, social, athletic or what.

Remember that it is the "fit" of things that counts far more in this fashion business than amount of wrinkled, or bulky, or anything else.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT BRIDGE
The members of the Monday Night Bridge Club and two additional guests were entertained at home of Mrs. H. L. Merry on one street, Monday evening. Games of bridge were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Dave. The guests, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Noah Frye were both accompanied with lovely gifts. The ladies were then invited to dining room where the table was laid with beautiful lace doilies, tall tapers and miniature Christmas trees furnishing the decorations. A two course luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be in two weeks Mrs. Harry Helm.

ACID STOMACH

Acidity Was the Vampire of Her Energy
She was still a young woman. She was smart, played tennis and hockey, went on long hikes. Her household duties were not a burden. After the slightest exertion, she found it necessary to take Markay's Tablets. Hyperacidity (excess acid condition) of the stomach and intestines was responsible for her continual fatigue. It was just one of the many ills of women—and men too—who are daily harassed by forms of acidity such as heartburn, gas, indigestion, biliousness, loss of vitality, fitful sleep, sour stomach, pains in the back. These are due to excess secretions of various acids and juices in the digestive system. Markay's Tablets give instant relief by neutralizing the hyperacid condition and re-establishing the normal alkalinity of the system. This freedom from pain is close at hand—at your drugist's. Make this simple 7-day test: Go to any good drug store for a package of Markay's Tablets. Take one after each meal as directed for 7 days. If you find Markay's Tablets do not give you better digestion, more refreshing sleep, heartier appetite, more genuine pep—then return what remains of your package, and the drugist will gladly refund your money at once.

ART DEPARTMENT PRESENTS PROGRAM
The presentation of the "Living Pictures" of old Masters by the Art Department before members of the Woman's Club at the Library Hall, Monday evening, formed a novel and most interesting program. Following two duet numbers, "In the Heart of the Hills," and "Mighty Lak a Rose," by the Misses Mary Maxine Brown and Eileen Birk, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. Von Burk, the first picture, "Angel Heads," was presented by David Langston, Ronald Stucky, Wanda Leatherman, Kathryn Edwards, Joan Miller, Kathryn Schmitt, Bobby Mutschler, Patricia Edwards, Phyllis Loss, Kath von Vogelweide, Letha Fiedlerjohann, and Mary Smith, members of Mrs. Robert Mills Kindergarten class posed this picture.
Miss Mary Kathryn Schug played piano selections between the pictures, "The Boy with the Torn Hat," by Sully, posed by Billy

Brown; "Baby Stuart," Van Dyke, posed by Kathryn Ann Edwards; "The Age of Innocence," Joshua Reynolds, by Letha Fiedlerjohann, and "The Boy with the Rabbitt Raeburn, posed by Bobby Mutschler. Miss Neva Bandyberry gave an interesting review of the life of the artists and the models and why these pictures have lived as they have.
Mrs. Henry Neireiter, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. A. Holt-house, sang "Ha k, Hark the Lark" while Mary Maxine Brown posed the painting, "The Song of the Lark."

Isabel at here "Pot of Basil" grieving for her lover, slain by her crafty brothers, was beautifully and strikingly portrayed by Mrs. Adrian Wemhoff. The apathy of the American people that allowed Whistler's masterpiece, "The Artist's Mother," to be acquired by France for their National Museum is indeed regrettable. This mother picture was presented by Mrs. Nellie Haney, accompanied by selections of mother songs by Miss Schug. Miss Brandyberry gave the interesting story of each painting.

The background of each picture was painted by Mrs. John T. Myers. Mrs. Robert Mills had charge of the program.
Proceeding the program a short business session was conducted by Mrs. E. D. Engeler, president of the club. Announcement was made of the next meeting of the club which will be Monday evening, January 25 when the Music Department will be in charge. The club members were also reminded of the special program to be given by the Literature Department of the Club on February 22, which will be the club's part in the Bi-Centennial program in honor of George Washington.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Monroe Methodist Episcopal Church will meet at the church Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

Richard Goldner celebrated his eighth birthday anniversary at a party given from four to six o'clock Monday afternoon at the Dallas Goldner home.

Games of Progressive Peanuts were played and prizes were awarded to Marjorie Miller, Karl Miller, Robert Deitsch and Josephine Wolpert. Following the games, a delicious luncheon was served. Richard received a number of pretty birthday gifts from his little friends.
Those present were Bobby Mutschler, Richard Gehrig, Karl Miller, Catherine Schroyer, Lois Frank, Letha Fiedlerjohann, Junior Wolpert, Bobby Hunter, Dickie Gardner, Howard Gehrig, Ruth Ellen Miller, Mary Frank, Virginia Fiedlerjohann, Paul Wolpert, Marjorie Miller, Lois Wolpert, Jackie Hunter, Josephine Wolpert, Phyllis Hunter, Junior Owens, Catherine Louise Yager, Robert Deitsch and Janet Goldner, and the honored guest.

The Ever Ready class of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School will meet in the church basement, Thursday night at six-thirty o'clock. A pot-luck supper will be served to the members of the class and their families. Each member is requested to bring sandwiches, one dish of food and table service. At this meeting, the Mystery Pals for the next year will be revealed and names for new pals will be drawn. The election of officers will also be held.

RESEARCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS
The members of the Research Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. R. Lannan on North Tenth street for the first meeting of the New Year.
After repeating the collect and the reading of the minutes, the president took charge of the meeting and conducted a discussion of current events. At the close of the program the annual election of officers was held.
The officers chosen were president, Mrs. Fred Fruchte; secretary, Mrs. Carl Pumphrey; and treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Fiedlerjohann.
The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. O. L. Vance on North Second street, Mrs. B. H. Franklin will have charge of the program.

Slain by Maid

These two boys, George P. Heindel (left), 1, and John Heindel, 4, were the innocent victims of the madness of a maid who hanged them and then hanged herself in the home of the boys' parents in River Forest, Ill. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Heindel, returned to their home from a bridge party to find the maid, Mary Roth, had killed the children and then hanged herself while in a fit of insanity.

BRIDGE MEET NEARING END

New York, Jan. 5.—(UP)—The Culbertson-Lenz contract bridge match, is slowly but surely becoming a sideshow of dowagers and a vista of boiled shirts as it draws to an end.

While Sidney Lenz and Commander Winfield Liggett, Jr., were chopping 3,385 points off the commanding lead established by Ely and Josephine Culbertson, last night's session turned into such a swirl of high society folks that a squad of subway guards were needed to keep everybody standing up.

The Culbertsons' lead still stands at 16,835 points, with only 21 rubbers to go. But they were not worried by the loss, even if there were many "ohs" and "ahs" in the corridor, in the press room and behind the peep-screen in the playing room.
And the size of those 1932 dowagers is something to startle you. Adjectives can hardly describe them. It's almost necessary to get down the can of imported olives which says in plain language: "Super colossal large olives." That's what the dowagers are—super colossal large.
Two of them barged into the press room at one time during last night's performance and three reporters came within an inch of being shoved out of a window.
So far as the actual match was concerned, it was a rather freak evening, with doubling back and forth from beginning to end. There was one ruber in which every hand was doubled.
During the evening Culbertson produced, for the benefit of the press, a front page from the Memphis Press-Scimitar which carried a picture of an old unemployed man named "Ely Culbertson." The old man was depicted chopping wood to earn a few cents and the headline said: "Work, then eat, motto of jobless. 75 men earn bread at city's wood yard."

State Official Dies

Lebanon, Ind., Jan. 5.—(UP)—Henry A. Kernode, 68, veteran examiner for the state board of accounts, ended his life here by stepping in front of a Big Four passenger train. Illness and grief over death of his wife were assigned as motives.
A farewell note which he hastily wrote on an envelope in his pocket said, "a mistake has been made. Forgive me one and all."
Kernode was prominent in state educational circles. He was an instructor in local schools for several years after being graduated from Central Normal college, Indiana State Teachers college and Valparaiso university. He was credited with efforts which resulted in passage of the treasurer's tax duplicate law, and assisted in formulation of reporting systems for auditors and treasurers.
A brother and a sister survive.
Clemenceau lived in the United States for a short time when a child, his father being exiled by Napoleon III.

Two horses were shot under Colonel George Washington, and four bullets went through his clothing at the time of Braddock's defeat.

No American book has ever approached the circulation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."
