Here's New Firestone "Air Balloon" Tire

When Firestone pioneered and developed the original balloon tire in 1922, they established the principle of very large cross section tires and using very low air pressure and on wheels of small diameter. The "Firestone Air Balloon" simply emphasizes a further degree of this Firestone principle to give added riding comfort and safety.

A new low pressure tire, so ample in its billowy proportions that it gives the impression of being attached to the hub of the wheel instead of to the rim, is announced by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

Known as the "Air Balloon," the new tire carries only from ten to fourteen pounds pressure and is designed primarily to increase riding comfort.

VICTORY SEEN
BY DEMOCRATIC PARTY LEADERS

dress was largely a reiteration and elaboration of points stressed in his Jackson Day speech in Washington, with a vigorous plea for a clean-cut party platform.

He urged an "honest, open declaration" as to what the Democratic party was going to do regarding "this prohibition law," and praised the Raskob plan for submitting to the people an amendment whereby dissatisfied states could handle their own liquor problems.

It was apparent from the welcome Smith received that he still is the Bay State party's favorite son. An indication of this feeling was shown when Daniel A. Gallagher, former U. S. attorney general, rose on a chair and said:

"It has been said here tonight that we should not ask you what your plans are. I say to you, go slow with your plans, because the party is going to draft you. Don't throw away the brown derby. You'll need it again and it won't look bad at all when you hang it up down in Washington."

At this introduction Smith rose, but he made no reply to Gallagher. In Chicago, J. J. Shouse, chairman of the national executive committee, warned against over-confidence. "The victory is ours," he said, "if we hold together and do not let enthusiasm wane."

Shouse attacked what he called "certain inspired reference in newspapers to a so-called Raskob-Smith-Shouse combination for or against a particular candidate. 'Let me tell you,' he shouted, 'this is dream stuff. We have no sentiment at national headquarters beyond a desire to have nominated not only the best man, but the man most certain to carry our banner to victory.'"

In Atlanta, the dinner was a "love-fest." Roosevelt was referred to once as "Georgia's adopted favorite son" by Judge A. B. Lovett, of Savannah.

In Columbus, three men prominently mentioned as presidential possibilities spoke. They were Senator Robert S. Buckley, of Ohio, Gov. George White and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois.

Buckley declared against a general sales tax, but said such a tax might be necessary on luxuries. He said all business will collapse, if the Federal Reserve Banks are "polluted" with frozen securities, and advocated a higher income tax in the upper brackets. White reviewed his record in office.

Lewis declared the electorate has appealed to the Democrats for guidance in past times of depression and would again turn to them for leadership next November.

"America," Lewis said, "has no friend in all the world." He cited the Far Eastern and the war debt and reparations situation in connection with his statement.

Coincident with the victory dinners, Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, of Oklahoma, started an eastern speaking tour, which observers construed as being a bid for the presidential nomination.

His tour will carry him as far east as Washington.

NOW SHOWING—"GETTING DOWN TO FACTS"

OGDEN MILLS
TO BE SPEAKER

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 14.—(Special)—Ogden L. Mills, undersecretary of the treasury, was announced today as the second of a series of important speakers who will come to Indianapolis for the Twentieth District Conference of Rotary International Feb. 22-23.

Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma was the first of conference program headliners to advise Dr. John H. Beeson of Crawfordsville, district governor of Rotary, that he would be present.

Mr. Mills has not informed Dr. Beeson what the subject of his address will be. He consented to appear on the program of the second day's session, provided unforeseen business in Washington does not prevent his fulfillment of the engagement.

Mr. Mills, following a rapid rise in politics in New York, went to Washington identified as a "youngster" generation member of the federal government. Returning from nineteen months service in the American Expeditionary Forces as a captain, he was elected from the seventeenth congressional district of New York in 1921. He served until 1927 when he was appointed undersecretary of the treasury.

State Bureau Aids

Indianapolis, Jan. 15.—(U.P.)—The state bureau of criminal investigation aided actively in capture of 12 bank bandits during December 1931 it was revealed today in the monthly report of E. L. Osborne, chief of the Bureau.

Seven bandits were convicted and sentenced during the month, nine were in jail pending trial and one was killed, the report said.

One of the convicted robbers was given a 30 year sentence; three were given 20 years each and three were given 25 years each.

There were six bank robberies reported during the month.

Osborne said his division now was working on 100 cases including 17 new cases reported during the last month of the year. There were nine cases solved during the month, he said.

The file of $2,806 finger prints in the bureau aided materially in making 371 identifications of law violators during December. Five parole violators were identified and two escaped prisoners were apprehended during the last month of the year.

The report said six persons had been arrested for conspiracy in
