PLANS MADE FOR 4-H CLUB

Club Calf Committee Meets With Archbold To Complete Plans

The Adams County 4-H Calf Club committee, composed of Sol. Mosser, Henry Achleman, Osa VonGuten, David J. Mazelin and Peter B. Lehman met with the County Agent at the home of Sol Mosser in Jefferson township Monday evening to lay plans for the 1932 4-H Calf Club season.

Mervin Miller, tester for the Dairy Herd Improvement Association also attended the meeting. Slight changes were made in the ages of the purchased calves for this work, to conform with the State Fair Classifications.

Junior Calves, will be those dropped between February 1 and April 15th, 1932. Senior Calves will be those dropped between August 1, 1931 and February 1, 1932. Senior Yearlings is a calf dropped between February 1, 1932 and August 1, 1931. The rule that a full lactation period would be required in the third year was retained.

In addition to the usual classes of Jersey, Guernsey and Holsteins, Henry Achleman expects to enroll an Ayrshire Club. Boys and girls interested in enrolling in 4-H Calf Club will be interested in knowing that Sol Mosser represents the Jersey, David J. Mazelin and Osa VonGuten the Holstein breeders, Peter B. Lehman the Guernsey and Mr. Achleman the Ayrshire.

Death Is Accidental

Mt. Vernon, Ind., Jan. 19.—(U.P.)—A verdict of accidental death was returned today in the case of Lennie Morrow, former Posey county recorder, who was found dead of shotgun wounds in a field.

It was decided that Morrow, who was hunting, was killed when his gun discharged accidentally while he was crossing a fence.

Introduces Repeal

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—(U.P.)—The Kentucky legislature had before it today a bill to repeal the state's prohibition act, sponsored by a Protestant minister who is a member of the lower house.

FORMER KLAN DRAGON MUST REMAIN LIFER

Representatives of newspapers and press associations have "camped" on the supreme court, in anticipation of a decision. Normal watchfulness has been redoubled during that period. Scarcely for a minute, night or day, when anyone was in the court, was it devoid of press representatives.

The numerous occasions when reports of an impending decision were received, were signals for a battery of press representatives to enter the room. Always it was the same story—after hours of waiting, the judges departed with no action, and seldom with a hint as to what the future might hold.

What it cost in dollars and cents, however, was insignificant in comparison with the nervous tension involved.

The Stephenson case was, during these years, the source of many a nightmare on the part of editors and reporters throughout the state. Men were called from their beds, frantically summoned from lunch and sent in haste to the supreme court room.

Column upon column of type was set, and placed in readiness for a quick "Extra," only to be thrown into the dumps as some new development made it obsolete.

Whatever the general reaction to the decision may be, it is one huge sigh of relief to the press.

Other developments, of course, are inevitable, but it is hardly anticipated that any will involve the long, nerve-racking vigil which characterized the years of waiting for this action.

DAWES NAMED TO HEAD NEW CORPORATION

name at this time because of the required change in plans as to the chairmanship of the delegation to the arms conference. Otherwise, General Dawes would be leaving for Europe tomorrow.

"In view of the change in General Dawes' plan, Secretary Stimson has undertaken the chairmanship of the delegation to the arms conference at Geneva. The secretary will not attend the opening meeting but will take part in the work of the commission after the preliminaries have been disposed of. Ambassador Gibson will be acting chairman of the delegation."

Reports that Dawes would head the finance corporation were circulated at the time of his announcement that he would retire as ambassador to Great Britain and also would leave the arms delegation after the work was organized. However, the reports failed of confirmation and it was understood Mr. Hoover would look elsewhere for a head for the reconstruction corporation.

This morning, however, the reports of Dawes selection were revived and at noon his appointment was announced.

Dawes appointment was looked upon as substantiation of denials both at the White House and by Dawes that Dawes' dramatic announcement of his retirement from the realm of diplomacy indicated a disagreement between him and Mr. Hoover which might lead Dawes into the presidential field.

Stimson had been expected earlier in the arms conference negotiations again to head the American delegation, as he did at the London naval conference two years ago. However, the pressure of work here changed these plans originally and Dawes was named.

Subsequently events including the president's huge economic relief program which called for a "big man to put it over" caused changes all along the line and resulted in today's announcement.

Whether Stimson eventually will actually go to Europe remained conjectural.

Carving Mountain Memorial

Probably the biggest sculpturing job ever undertaken is that now in progress in the hills of South Dakota. Carvers, under the supervision of Gutzon Borglum, world famous sculptor, are shown carving out the gigantic memorial on Mount Rushmore, near Pierre, S. D. In the finished sculptured group will be the faces of Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Roosevelt. The work is now nearly half completed
