

DECATUR DAILY DEMOCRAT

Published Every Evening Except Sunday by THE DECATUR DEMOCRAT CO.

J. H. Heller, Pres. and Gen. Mgr.
A. R. Moulhouse, Sec'y & Bus. Mgr.
Dick D. Heller, Vice-President

Subscription Rates:
Single copies $.02
One week, by carrier 1.00
One month, by mail 3.00
Three months, by mail 8.00
Six months, by mail 15.00
One year, by mail 30.00
One year, at office 30.00
Prices quoted are within first and second zones. Elsewhere $3.50 one year.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application.

National Adver. Representative
SCHERER, Inc.,
35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago
415 Lexington Avenue, New York

Charter Member of The Indiana League of Home Dailies.

Those born yesterday will have the advantage of only having to celebrate their birthdays each four years.

There are so many organizations against something these days that the Cordon Democrat is tempted to say "half the country is trying to tell the other half how to live."

Some of the old adages are still good. For instance this one: "If you're right you don't have to get made, and — if you're wrong you can't afford too."

By the way, yesterday was also the deadline for paying your store tax. If eligible under that statute and you failed to send it in, you are now liable to a fine of from $25 to $100.

Get that yellow tag off your car, the deadline is past and its necessary to have the 1932 plates on. To try to beat this is just a little foolish for the evidence is right there in the open and the law against you.

Keep your feet on the ground. Don't get excited about this or that. Perhaps things are not as bad as they seem. The best thing we can all do these days is to use old fashioned common sense. Don't do things that will make conditions worse after a while.

Salary reductions seem to be in order, but we haven't heard of many of the $50,000 per year get hampered. Perhaps they are needed worse now than in the good old days. The fellow who can put things over in a big way these days is worth a lot of money.

The democratic pow wow and jubilee will be a big success and you will get more than a dollars worth of enjoyment out of it. Come and hear Myers, McNutt, VanNays, Fredericks, Posey, and the others and see what you think of them and their suggestions. That's just being fair.

If you have any thing to sell, advertise it. You may know you have it and that it's a bargain but how do you expect the other folks to know it if you don't tell them? You can advertise in the Daily Democrat at low cost, increase your sales and help yourself as well as the purchaser. That's the way to improve business.

The railroads are borrowing money from the new finance corporation and will, we are sure, after the experiences of the past few years, husband it for a rainy day.

Don't Starve to Grow Thin

Don't harm yourself by an abnormal diet. Doctors do not advise that now. Science has found that a lacking gland secretion is a great cause of excess fat. So doctors, the world over, now feed that lacking factor. And excess fat, under this right treatment, has been disappearing fast. Marmola prescription tablets present that treatment ready-made. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in every circle you can see the delightful results of Marmola. Go do what the wise are doing. Use the right method to reduce. Ask your druggist for Marmola. Read the book in the box to learn what to expect, and why. Do this now. It is folly to stay fat.

A lot of us have had some tough experiences but we doubt if they compare with those of the railroad magnets who for years were the "biggest toads in the puddle" of business.

Dr. John P. Koehler, health commissioner of Milwaukee, Wis., gave some health don'ts in a talk recently before a young people's club. Here they are: Don't swear unless you want to take a chance on indigestion, high blood pressure, or even heart and mental diseases. And don't lie if you would shun tuberculosis and cancer. Oh, what a lot of misery some people are inviting!

Parking troubles are not new. They date back at least as far as 1660, when Charles II issued the following order: "Whereas the excessive number of hackney coaches in the City of London are found to be a common nuisance, the streets and highways being thereby made impassable and dangerous; we command that no person or persons permit or suffer said coaches to stand or remain in any of the streets. Given to our court at Whitehall the eighteenth day of October, 1660." If we remember rightly there is an old saying that there is nothing new under the sun.

James Kirby Risk, who died last Saturday at his home in Lafayette, had been a factor in Hoosier politics during the last forty years. He was an uncompromising advocate of the temperance cause and was one of the close friends and ardent admirers of the late William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Risk was twice a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He had served since 1920 as a member of the board of the Indiana state school for the deaf and was counted as one of the most active and valuable trustees of that institution. Mr. Risk was a leader in the Indiana movement for the adoption of equal suffrage. He was an Indiana representative on the executive committee of the National Anti-Saloon League and had been an executive of the Indiana Dry Federation. His neighbors in Lafayette and Tippecanoe county had honored him with elections to city and county posts. His friends throughout the state, regardless of political affiliations, held him in high respect as a man of fine ideals who had the courage of his convictions.—Indianapolis Star.

Test Your Knowledge

Can you answer seven of these test questions? Turn to Page Four for the answers.

1. Who was Anna Held?
2. Who was Quana Parke?
3. Who adopted the motto, "Be sure you're right then go ahead?"
4. What does "per stripes" mean?
5. What is a kulak?
6. What short of plants are annuals?
7. Which Presidents of the U. S. served more than two terms?
8. Does water ever get hotter than the boiling point?
9. What did the Naval Court of Inquiry find as the cause of the sinking of the Battleship Maine?
10. In what years were the First and Second Battles of the Marne fought?

Modern Etiquette

—by—
ROBERTA LEE

- Q. What should a guest do when he misses a train which is too convenient to a house party?
- A. He should wire the host and hostess immediately.
- Q. Is it proper to have a full centerpiece for the table?
- A. Yes, the silver plate heaped with grapes, apples, or oranges is very effective.
- Q. Do men have "at home" printed on their cards?
- A. No.

Card of Thanks

We wish in this manner to thank the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us in this sad hour and the consoling words spoken by the ministers and singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Everhart,
Mr. and Mrs. John Crist.

BARGAINS — Bargains in Living Room, Dining Room Suites, Matresses and Rugs. Stuckey and Monroe, our Phone number is 44

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

Household Scrapbook

—by—
ROBERTA LEE

Metal and Glass Polish

On excellent polish for metal and glass can be made by mixing one part of wheat flour to five parts of potter's clay. Apply with a damp woolen cloth. This compound will also remove tar and grease from the glass and metal parts of an automobile.

Black Silk

To clean and freshen black silk, sponge it well with cold and strong black tea. Then iron carefully on the wrong side.

Baking

Before placing anything in the oven to bake, always test the oven. If a sheet of paper burns when thrown into the oven, the oven is too hot.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Daily Democrat File

2,500 laborers to be used between Marion, Ohio and Hammond, Ind., for double tracking the Erie.

T. J. Durkin plays prank on Prosecutor R. C. Parrish by burning small round hole in the prosecutor's hat.

Dent Spencer returned from visit at Vincennes, Ind.

Ed Engeler sells Berne drygoods and grocery store to Phil Souders and Clayton Smith of that city. Erie borrows ten million dollars for double tracking.

Ireta Erwin is spending the week with friends at Monroeville. Ex-commissioner, David, Werling of Preble township, is able to be out after week's illness.

Decatur basketball team defeats Fort Wayne 46-30.

Jesse J. Helm is elected exalted ruler of Elks.

C. J. Lutz and daughter, Miss Jean, leave for visit at Indianapolis.

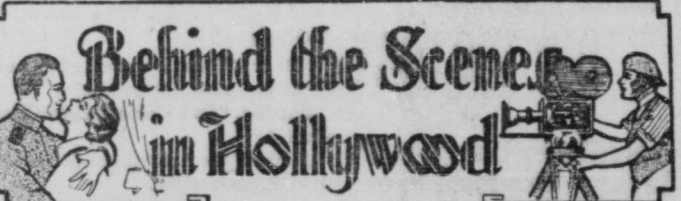

Lessons In English

Words often misused: Do not say "I do not know as I can see you tomorrow." Say "That I can see you." Often mispronounced: Poem. Pronounce po-zm, not poem. Often misspelled: Rebuttal; two t's.

Synonyms: Invent, design, concoct, devise, discover.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: Plutocratic; pertaining to the rule or dominion of wealth, or of the rich. "He was the son of a plutocratic family."

Get the Habit — Trade at Home

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., — 00—

Blondes still predominate in the year's film discoveries. And Radio, it would seem, has a particular leaning in that direction.

To a list which already includes Constance Bennett, Ann Harding, Helen Twelvetrees, Gwyl Andre, and Phyllis Claire, the studio now adds another fair-haired charmer.

She is Julie Haydon, 22-year-old stage actress who has just appeared for R. K. O. in "Symphony of Six Million."

Previous to the part which won her a contract, Miss Haydon had had very little screen experience. Two bits at M. G. M. are about the sum of it. On the stage, she has done some work in stock, and she appeared in Mrs. Fiske's company, when the late star played "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" on the coast. Recently, she was in Ian Keith's production of "Hamlet."

Now Radio plans to groom her for leads.

GOSSIP OF CELEBS.

Ann Harding plans another step in her campaign for privacy. She is having her telephone fixed so that it will take only outgoing calls. If anyone wants to reach her, they'll have to send a telegram. This town is a bit quieter for the departure of Lupe Velez. She concluded her deal with Florenz Ziegfeld over the telephone, and with characteristic impatience, boarded a plane for New York. De Mille has been taken off "Sinners in the Sun" at his own request. David Burton will take over... Dorothy Jordan is up in Santa Barbara getting measured for a diet. Jack Gilbert is getting to be a chess menace. And the laundries will be bumping off Clark Gable one of these days if the turtle-neck sweater dad gets going. Clark wears a double-breasted coat with them. Ralf Harold will play the heavy in the new James Cagney fight picture. Saw Wesley Ruggles back at Radio today. He lists a trifle to port, but otherwise seems recovered from his appendicitis operation. The incorrigible Gene Fowler has six goats, two parrots and three dogs for pets.

KAREN GETS TALKED ABOUT.

The horsewoman of Greta Garbo became a court issue in Los Angeles recently. Someone sued a riding academy for injuries sustained from falling off a rented steed. Defendant countered the animal was so docile and reliable it was given to Greta Garbo to ride.

KAREN'S BAD LUCK.

An unfortunate accident will rob Karen Morley of the chance to play the heroine of "Night Court." She sprained her ankle and the picture can't wait for her. Since it's an ill wind that blows nobody any good, Anita Page steps into the vacated part. Anita's got a new contract and some of us are hoping she will at least realize the promise she has shown in earlier pictures.

Lewis Stone is another addition to the cast of "Night Court." He'll play Justice Osgood, who is murdered in the cause of cleaning out court corruption. As reported before in these columns, this story is by Mark Hellinger and Charles Beahan.

DID YOU KNOW

That Neil Hamilton's magic equipment is valued at $4,000?

Under cross-examination, however, the riding master admitted he considers La Garbo an expert in riding.

When love has bound the heart 'Tis hard so hard to speak the words We must forever part. Dearest Mother we will lay thee In the Peaceful grave's embrace But the memory shall be cherished 'Till we see thy heavenly face."

I see mostly darkness when I look back upon my young boyhood. It was the darkness of ignorance and oppression with which I could not be content. But as I look a light falls upon my way. It came from gentle friendly faces. Mostly it was the light that shone out of the big honest, blue eyes of a young girl. I began to feel the stir of a new life in me. In a little time the restless, daring, adventurous human being that I am was born. He knew his way. No task was too great for him. He had a strange faith in his heart that no undertaking was beyond his strength. If it was an illusion it was worth having.

I knew mean and sordid people. These I have almost forgotten. But I do not forget or underestimate the kindly help of Mrs. Smithers, the kindly help of Mrs. Smithers, the gentle severity of Betsy Spenny, or the great heart of Bumpy Brown. Especially I remember the keen, intellect and fatherly counsel of the beloved doctor and the generosity of Mr. Converse and of Colonel and Mrs. Blake. Above all these forces that have helped to make me the man I am is that light which, long ago, shone upon me out of a girl's eyes.

I was a romantic young knight of the age of chivalry when, that day in December, elated by my success in Anita Dam I came to Colonel Blake's house. I sat down at the table with Ruth and her mother. Curiously I tried to ease the fullness of my heart.

"Forgive me if I look at you too much," I said to the beautiful girl.

"I am not quite ready to disclose, you and I must go tomorrow and make a careful survey of the premises of Robert Royce. Within twenty-four hours I think that we shall have our man in jail. Meanwhile we must keep our step softly."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

FINLAND FACES ARMED REBELS

Government Takes Drastic Action to Curb Revolt of That Nation

Helsingfors, Finland, Mar. 1.—(U.P.)—Civil and military authorities have been given drastic power by a governmental decree to suppress the rebellion of thousands of armed fascists concentrated north of here under leadership of the Lappo party.

The action was taken after the Lappo leaders delivered an ultimatum to President Pehr Evind Svinhufvud demanding reorganization of the government to suppress socialism. The Lappoites threatened a march on Helsingfors to enforce their demands.

The presidential decree empowered authorities to use military force to suppress printed matter; break up demonstrations, mass meetings, and processions; search the house of suspects; censor the mails, telephones and telegraphs; and to prohibit all traveling in Finland if necessary.

Government troops guarded all approaches to the city.

Other loyal troops were reported encircling the Lappo concentrations in the Maentasa district, some 50 miles north of Helsingfors. A company of infantry from Lathi, a tank battalion and another infantry battalion were participants.

Government officials said they hoped the Lappo forces would surrender without serious fighting. The Lappo leaders, however, declared they had 20,000 to 30,000 men under arms and would enforce their demands.

The Lappo ultimatum demanded an anti-socialist government, outlawing of the powerful Social-Democratic party, alteration of fundamental state laws and abolition of parliamentarism.

Vilho Kosola, fiery orator with protruding eyes, is the peasant leader behind the Lappo revolt in Finland.

Kosola — called "Kosolini" by the Finns from his resemblance to Mussolini — has been behind the Fascist movement in Finland for years. The chief feature of his movement is its antagonism to Socialism. In the present revolt, the Lappoites have demanded the abolition of all Socialist parties in Finland.

Kosola also put the weight of his party behind the anti-prohibitionists recently successful in repealing dry Finland's prohibition laws.

OBITUARY

Margaret Jane Everhart, was born July 26, 1847 in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rneben McCarty and passed away February 24, 1932 at the home of her stepson, Mr. Absalom Everhart in Monroe, Indiana at the age of 84 years, 6 months and 28 days. She lived in Monroe for 20 years. She was united in marriage to David Everhart, February 14, 1884, who preceded her in death four years ago, from which time she has made her home with Absalom Everhart and Mrs. John Crist. Mrs. Everhart had been an invalid for seven years, but she never made a complaint. Everything was always all right with her. When asked if death should come, she always replied "I am ready to go. My days are nearly to an end." She was a member of the Monroe, M. E. church and loved to go to church whenever her health permitted her.

She leaves to mourn: three step-children, Absalom Everhart and Mrs. John Crist of Monroe, Michigan; nine step-grand children and seven step-grand grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Head of Findlay, Ohio and a host of friends, two sisters and one brother preceded her in death.

"Tis hard to break the tender chords When love has bound the heart 'Tis hard so hard to speak the words We must forever part. Dearest Mother we will lay thee In the Peaceful grave's embrace But the memory shall be cherished 'Till we see thy heavenly face."

FATHERS, SONS MEET

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

complicated at the piano by Miss Louise Haulbold.

Avon Burk, chairman of the committee in charge was the toastmaster, and W. Von Beery had charge of the music. Others of the committee were C. D. Linton, Charles Burd, Earl Colter, Joe Fryback, Leith Bowen, Rev. B. H. Franklin and Virgil Krick.

I was a romantic young knight of the age of chivalry when, that day in December, elated by my success in Anita Dam I came to Colonel Blake's house. I sat down at the table with Ruth and her mother. Curiously I tried to ease the fullness of my heart.

"Forgive me if I look at you too much," I said to the beautiful girl.

"I am not quite ready to disclose, you and I must go tomorrow and make a careful survey of the premises of Robert Royce. Within twenty-four hours I think that we shall have our man in jail. Meanwhile we must keep our step softly."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

666

LIQUID - TABLETS - SALVE

666 Liquid or Tablets used internally and 666 Salve externally, make a complete and effective treatment for Colds.

Most Speedy Remedies Known

WNU SERVICE

Copyright by WNU Service

"Ah! I thought so. It's a verbal flashlight on the past."

There was a call on the telephone. The doctor answered it.

"I'll be there in a few minutes," he said.

Turning to Shad he announced: "The girl is sick this morning and no wonder. While you finish your breakfast I'll go and see what I can do for her."

The doctor returned, saying: "Her heart is a bit troublesome. She'll get better. Naturally she is a little depressed."

He put a sealed envelope in Shad's hands.

"Therein is the photograph of the man who killed Oscar Perry. Please give it to your chief and tell him how we came by it. I think that when he looks at this photograph he will know how it all came about. If not I can tell him."

"They got into the backboard and drove away. Soon after they set out Shad remarked:

"I had waited a long time in the darkness when I heard Miss Spenny's clock strike eleven. A little later I heard a team cross the bridge. I knew that it had come from Ashfield. It stopped somewhere near. Probably in the shed at Smithers' store. I said to myself, 'There is Royce.' In a little while they walked into the trap."

"A curious kind of a man," the doctor exclaimed. "He is ill this morning and has sent for me."

"I wonder how he learned that the girl was at Miss Spenny's."

"How could every one help learning it with dear Miss Spenny's tongue as limber as it is?"

"They rode on in silence. Shad was just in time for his train. Near the depot in Canton a little before twelve o'clock he met Ruth Blake. He was on his way to the office. "You are going wrong," she said.

"How so?"

"Why, because you are to eat luncheon with mother and me. Mother wants to have a talk with you. Come on."

"I have got to see your father. He will not get here until seven o'clock tonight. He's been to Chicago."

"But I want to go to my room and change my linen and put on my very best suit of clothes."

"Why all that fussing?"

"I must be dressed like a gentleman. If it was any other girl I wouldn't care."

Ruth blushed. "That's a pretty joke," she answered, looking into his eyes. "Hurry and we'll wait for you."

CHAPTER XIII

The Truth Crushes Its Enemy. SHERIDAN MORRISON, now a distinguished lawyer, has written in a volume of reminiscences, not to be released for publication until he has been lying ten years in his grave, that a boy ought to be careful in making the memories that are to go with his up the road.

He has given the historian a limited right of quoting from this record of his early life.

He writes:

I see mostly darkness when I look back upon my young boyhood. It was the darkness of ignorance and oppression with which I could not be content. But as I look a light falls upon my way. It came from gentle friendly faces. Mostly it was the light that shone out of the big honest, blue eyes of a young girl. I began to feel the stir of a new life in me. In a little time the restless, daring, adventurous human being that I am was born. He knew his way. No task was too great for him. He had a strange faith in his heart that no undertaking was beyond his strength. If it was an illusion it was worth having.

I knew mean and sordid people. These I have almost forgotten. But I do not forget or underestimate the kindly help of Mrs. Smithers, the kindly help of Mrs. Smithers, the gentle severity of Betsy Spenny, or the great heart of Bumpy Brown. Especially I remember the keen, intellect and fatherly counsel of the beloved doctor and the generosity of Mr. Converse and of Colonel and Mrs. Blake. Above all these forces that have helped to make me the man I am is that light which, long ago, shone upon me out of a girl's eyes.

I was a romantic young knight of the age of chivalry when, that day in December, elated by my success in Anita Dam I came to Colonel Blake's house. I sat down at the table with Ruth and her mother. Curiously I tried to ease the fullness of my heart.

"Forgive me if I look at you too much," I said to the beautiful girl.

"I am not quite ready to disclose, you and I must go tomorrow and make a careful survey of the premises of Robert Royce. Within twenty-four hours I think that we shall have our man in jail. Meanwhile we must keep our step softly."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

RADIO PROGRAM

Tuesday's Best Radio Feature Copyright 1932 by United Press
WABC, CBS network, 5:15 p.m.
Reis and Dana
WEAF, NBC network, 7:00 p.m.
Sanderson and Crum
WEAF, NBC network, 8 p.m.
Musical Magazine
WJZ, NBC network, 8:30 p.m.
Great Personalities
WABC, CBS network, 10 p.m.
Columbia Symphony Orchestra

Wednesday's Best Radio Feature Copyright 1932 by United Press
WJZ, NBC network, 7:15 p.m.
Melo-Cliarings

WEAF, NBC network, 7:30 p.m.
Souza's Band
WABC, CBS network, 8:00 p.m.
Fast Freight
WABC, CBS network, 9:00 p.m.
Vitality Personalities
WABC, CBS network, 10 p.m.
Toscha Seidel

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Ada Barton, Monroe Route 3 underwent a major operation at the Adams County Memorial Hospital this morning.

Mrs. Mary S. Miller, 511 N. Fifth street, submitted to an emergency operation at the Adams County Memorial Hospital this morning.

Stated convocation, Royal

Masons tonight. All members requested to be present.

Secretary

Union Chapel U. B. Church

There will be a special Service Thursday evening at church at 7:30 p. m. Rev. V. Pastor of the First U. B. Church, Decatur, will make a fifteen minutes talk, which will be followed by the regular prayer services, expecting an attendance of at least, fifty at the prayer meeting.

The regular prayer services will be attended, and the interest very fine.

Getting U

Nights Lowers Vitality

If you feel old and run-down, Getting Up Night, Backache, Pains, Stiffness, Nervousness, Under Eyes, Headaches, Burning Bladder Weakness, caused by Urinary Acidity. I want you to get feeling right now. Come in and what I think is the greatest medicine I have ever found. It gives big improvement in 24 hours. Just ask me for Cystex (Said it's only 75c and I guarantee it quickly combat these conditions satisfy completely, or return your package and get your money back.

CALLOW & KOHNE

FLORENCE HOLTHOUS

Stenographic Work

Typewriting

Judge J. T. Merryman's Office, K. of C. Bldg.