Edgar Bush, lieutenant governor, wants a promotion and is asking for the republican nomination for governor. Well, it wouldn't seem like a campaign without Ed out after some job.

President Hoover wants economy and in a special message to congress is urging steps towards that end. Most commendable and if the great engineer had started that program two years ago we would have been a long way on the road to prosperity.

Vote on the primary on May 3rd. This is the way in which you have representation in your government, county, state and national and you certainly this year ought to be deeply interested in your government and in who serves you. Good citizens will vote.

Decatur stores were busy today, especially those which advertised in the Daily Democrat this week. We insist that the only way to get out of a business slump is to show more life and the best way so far discovered is by newspaper advertising. Try it next week.

Have you a vacant lot about the city that you are not going to use this year? Turn it over to the United Charities, William Linn, secretary, and they will see that some deserving person plants a garden on it, thus helping those who need supplies. Its a good act and won't injure your lot a nickles worth.

Franklin Roosevelt gets twenty-five of the twenty-six delegates from Wisconsin as a result of this weeks primary, furthering his chances for the nomination on the first ballot in the convention or soon thereafter. He is undoubtedly the favorite of the majority of democrats every where.

An organization in Indiana would abolish the townships to save a few thousand dollars. Why not by the same rule do away with the state government and save millions? It will be a sorry day when we do away with townships, and trustees for that will be the first step towards a centralization of governmental power that will not prove to the advantage of the average citizen.

There is nothing to get excited

Have A Radio Party

My campaign for the Democratic nomination for Congress must be made largely by radio. I am a working man, although I work at a desk, and can not do as wealthy candidates or idle ones can—spend my time running up and down the district calling on the leaders who imagine they control the votes of their towns or counties. I think in these days that really is largely imagination, anyway. But I can do this. I can chat with you a few minutes occasionally by radio. I am going directly to the voters of the Fourth Congressional District in that way. Please do me the honor to tune me in. I will not impose on you with a long speech. My chat will be short and definite. There will be no oratory. But I will "say things."

about in the program concerning the time to be used here. About every merchant in the city has stated his intentions of operating this year on standard time so what's the difference what the ordinance says? To conform with that unanimous action, it seems that the matter would be definitely settled but whether they do or not, it looks as though we will go right ahead this year with the old town clock as the official timer.

Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three naval officers are on trial at Honolulu for the "honor" murder of Joe Kahahawai, some months ago and the case is attracting world-wide attention. It is claimed that the native kidnaped and assaulted Mrs. Fortescue's daughter, Mrs. Massie, and that the four persons now charged with murder captured him and put him where he won't bother any more white women. The defense is a new one in name, though old as time. They call it "alarm clock" insanity.

Adams county voters should cast their ballots in the primary on May 3rd for an Adams county man for congress. We have three. Two of them, Senator Thurman A. Gottschalk of Berne, and Mr. Farrar of Geneva are candidates on the democratic ticket and Dr. H. O. Jones of Berne is seeking the republican nomination. This county has never had a congressman and we have the chance this year, an advantage which we should not overlook. These men are all competent and if elected will serve you well. Choose one and support him. Be loyal to Adams county.

It is interesting and vaguely comforting to learn that Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, received no fewer than 600 votes for President in the recent German elections. Most of us thought the United States had a monopoly on the harebrained custom of voting for such impossibilities as clowns, athletes and comic strip characters in national elections. That was a saddening thought, for it made it look as if American voters were less intelligent than the voters of other lands. Now, however, Germany comes to the rescue. The German voters, it develops, can play that game, too. In one of the most momentous elections in her national history, Germany managed to dig up 600 citizens who could see nothing wrong in voting to put Schmeling in von Hindenburg's place.—Kokomo Tribune.

A Jumper
A jumper can be made for the baby by sewing a plain kimono dress, with a tail piece about two inches wide stitched to the middle of the back hem. Sew two buttons on the middle of the short hem and two button holes in the lower end of the tail piece, to hold the garment down while creeping.

Cleaning Carpets
To make rugs look like new, scrub with a stiff brush moistened in diluted ammonia, and then rinse with garden hose while hanging on the line.

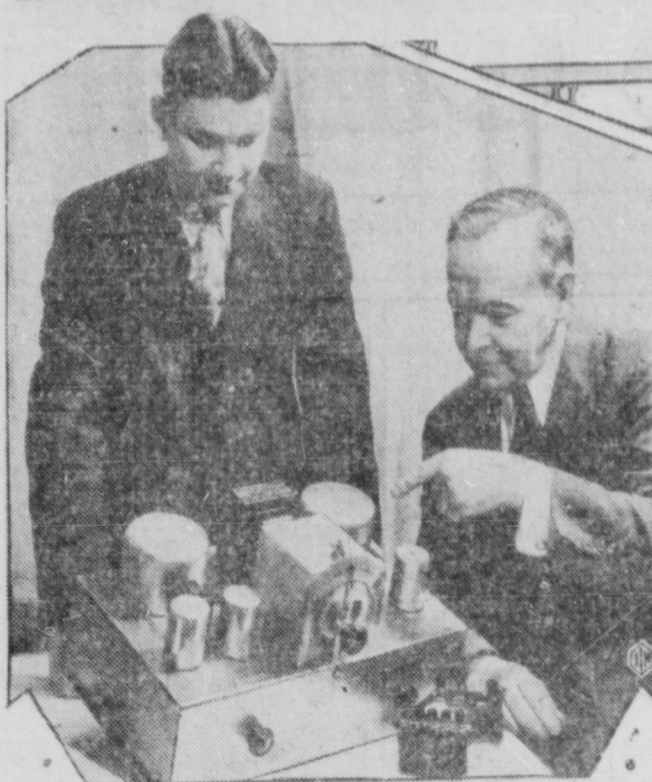

Cookies
When making cookies for the children, use different shapes of cutters. They can be purchased in the shapes of animals and flowers.

Lessons In English

Words often misused: Do not say "Is Mrs. Brown a relation of your husband?" Say, "a relative," or, "Is Mrs. Brown related to your husband?"
Often mispronounced: Little. Pronounce the l as in lie, the th as in smooth, not as in wealth.
Often misspelled: Thistle. Observe the second l.
Synonym: Distress, suffering, anguish, agony, affliction, sorrow, grief.
Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: Inapt; not suitable or appropriate. "The remark was inapt."

Invented "Tubeless" Radio

Expected to revolutionize the entire industry, this radio receiving set, the invention of Ernest Patrick (left), 21-year-old electrical genius of Columbus, Ind., is remarkable for its total absence of tubes. For radio fans of the world the invention means a simplified and economic receiving set which is expected to make every type of set now in use obsolete. Dr. Bruce Morgan, noted British scientist and consulting engineer, is shown examining the new marvel.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Daily Democrat File

The John Diller home on 3rd st., which was owned by James K. Nillick, was destroyed by fire. Mrs. J. S. Coverdale received wire from Dr. Coverdale telling of his safety and also that of the Clark Coverdale family from the floods in Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry returned from Atlanta, Ga., where they were called by the illness of their son. Miss Lulu Atz entertained the C. E. Society.

A river of gasoline flooded on Monroe St. when Ben Liniger's run away team crashed through 75 gallon tank.

The school enumeration began today.

A. R. Bell sprained wrist while cranking car.

Miss Georgia Meibers gave six o'clock dinner honoring Miss Smolton of Wiltshire and Miss Gibson of Chicago.

W. A. Kuebler and C. A. Dugan have gone to West Baden for ten days.

Clayton Carroll and Miss Mae Rademaker attended the play at the Temple.

Mrs. John Colchin was down town today for the first time since her injury in an automobile accident ten months ago.

Modern Etiquette

ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should a man rise when dining with a woman and another woman stops to speak to them?

A. Yes.

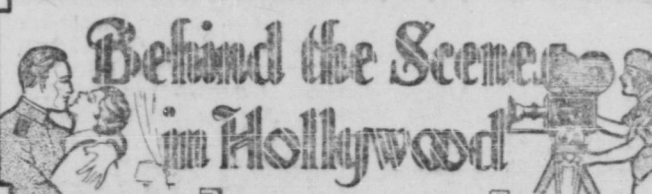

Q. May terms of endearment be used in death notices?

A. No; they are not considered good taste.

Q. Should one talk much about himself when conversing with another person?

A. No; for the one who does is soon regarded as a bore.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 9.

—All you swivel-chair adventurers and count me in, prick up your ears at this. By mid-Summer, Carl Laemmle, Jr., will have one film troupe working in Greenland and another in the Malay Archipelago.

The young Universal executive has just engaged Dr. Arnold Fanck to head an expedition into northern Greenland to photograph a story called "Iceberg." Simultaneously, he will dispatch another company to the South Seas to film "The Black Pearl."

Dr. Fanck is perhaps the leading European director of outdoor melodramas. He was responsible for "The White Hell of Pitz-Palu," "Storm Over Mont Blanc," and several other memorable photoplays. None surpass him in dramatizing the elements against backgrounds of natural splendor.

In his coming expedition, however, he'll be competing against one of Hollywood's outstanding directors of adventure films. For Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer also is sending a company to the polar regions to film "Eskimo" and heading this company will be W. S. Van Dyke, veteran of "White Shadows in the South Seas" and "Trader Horn."

Hollywood observers already are sharpshooters about the significance of these films. They wonder if the screen, perhaps, is not on the verge of a new cycle—a series of pictures actually photographed in the far corners of the earth—the ultimate to date in vicarious thrills.

NO THRILL FOR THEM.

Movie stars are no thrills to the waiters in Filmdom's favorite haunts.

The other noontime, Jim Mitchell dropped into one of these places for a sandwich. Almost the only other occupants were a few tourists.

"Waiter," one of them asked timidly, "where are all the stars?"

"Oh this is Monday," he replied indifferently, "and they're all home doing their washing."

AND SO TO GOSSIP.

Bela Lugosi is appearing here in a mystery play. Although the audience didn't know it, he fell through a stage trapdoor the other evening and cracked three ribs.

While the management held the second act curtain 20 minutes, Lugosi was strapped up with adhesive.

He finished out the performance and has continued to appear ever since. Patsy Ruth Miller and Charlie Ray opened a musical revue in Atlantic City several nights ago.

Despite this, Hollywood hears Patsy may be returning soon to do a picture. Seen around the bright light places: Molly O'Day dancing with Joe Benjamin, the fighter, at "The Frioles."

Madge Evans and Tom Gallery were stepping again, too. Madge's mother also was along. At the fights, Buster Collier with Marie Prevost, also Sally Eilers and Hoot Gibson. Sally is planning a trip to New York, if Fox will let her go. Hoot already has given his consent.

Harold Lloyd's whole company, including 100 extras, were held up 20 minutes today while all and sundry hunted flies.

The comedian needed a fly for a gag scene with Arthur Houseman, who plays a drunk.

On the previous day, the property department had set eight flytraps in various Hollywood locations and had captured only 14 specimens. Nine of these had been lost in removing them from the traps.

Because the gag required an actual living fly, the whole company was set to work when the remaining five had been used up.

After Attack on 'Unjust Taxes'

Following his spirited defense of American capitalism and his appeal urging deletion from the House bill of more than $170,000,000 in "unjust" taxes, before the Senate Finance Committee, Secretary of the Treasury Ogdin L. Mills (second from right) is shown being interviewed by newspaper correspondents. Mills attacked the proposed levies on stock, dividends and business corporations, holding that such taxes would extend the depression.

ITALY MAKES NEW PROPOSAL

3.—Relief of the Danubian countries, representing 70,000,000 inhabitants;

4.—Revision within the spirit of the League of Nations of peace treaties responsible for the restlessness of people which may cause new wars;

5.—Renunciation of over-frequent convocation of international conferences raising the veil hopes of the people and increasing their difficulties.

The grand council reserved the right to examine Italy's position within the League of Nations at the October session. The Italian disarmament proposals were endorsed as offering the only practical and logical solution.

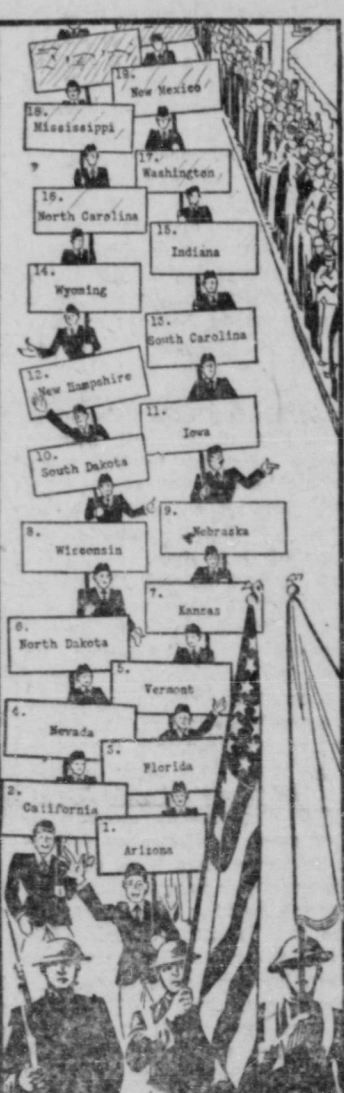

The government regarded the disarmament proposals as a challenge to all countries to prove the sincerity of their disarmament programs. The proposals were expected to meet all the essentials for ensuring peace without immediately destroying present armaments, which would increase unemployment.

The peace plan was mapped to be in full operations in five years. It proposed revision of the laws of war to provide greater protection to civilian populations, and asked for full voluntary reports on the armed forces of all nations.

The plan outlined the proposals submitted to the world disarmament conference by Foreign Minister Dino Grandi. It made the following suggestions for the immediate or gradual destruction of all means of war:

Destruction of heavy land artillery, tanks, armored cars, peace-

Indiana Has Chance To Lead Legion Parade

Here is the way Indiana stood as of April 1 in the race of American Legion departments, or states, for parade positions at the national convention to be held in Portland, Ore., Sept. 13, showing this state to have good chances of high honors in that event. The parade positions are determined by membership gain as of May 15 in comparison to its basic quota. It will be after distant departments have had a chance to vote their dues and cards into National Headquarters with post marks of May 15, before the final positions will be known. Every department is striving to get as many members paid up as possible at this time in order to boost its chance of heading the big parade in Portland.

Destruction of capital ships, submarines and aircraft carriers, and the pledge not to construct more;

Destruction of military dirigibles and bombing airplanes, without replacement;

Elimination of chemical armaments of every kind, especially gas, liquid, and bacteriological warfare.
