THIMBLE THEATER

Gotham Eagerly Awaiting Walker-Seabury Word Duel

Mayor and Grand Inquisitor Are Both Masters of Repartee. Intensive Exchange of Verbal Stilettos Expected.

Unmoved by discussions of nation and international affairs by Congress, New York is eagerly looking forward to the approaching and long-delayed meeting between Mayor James J. Walker and Judge Samuel Seabury, counsel for the Hofstadter Investigating Committee, now probing municipal affairs in Bagdad on the Hudson. Since the Seabury Committee issued its futile summons to Russell T. Sherwood, reputed financial aide of Mayor Walker, to appear and be quizzed about Hizzoner's finances, Gotham has been licking its chops in anticipation of the day when Judge Seabury and New York's dapper Executive would meet and exchange samples of the snappy rhetoric for which each is noted. Mayor Jimmy is renowned far and wide as a past master in the art of squelching an opponent with a snappy comeback. The target of much criticism, Jimmy has literally "wise-cracked" his way out of many difficult situations. In Judge Seabury, Jimmy will meet a foe man worthy of his steel. Seabury, too, is noted for the devastating quality of his verbal ammunition, which, though not quite as scintillating as the Mayor's, has remarkable penetrative powers. So there we have two masters of wit, rarin' to go, and even the most reckless gambler will hesitate to wager on the result.

New York, May 4.—The solons in the Big House on the Hill in Washington, D. C., may toss millions of words thither and yon about European war debts; righteous Senators may quiz financial magnates about raising and lowering operations on the stock exchange, and politicians may continue to grind their little axes, but Bagdad on the Hudson remains blissfully blasé to such going on. Gorgeous Gotham is focusing all its attention at the moment upon the approaching clash between its elegant Mayor, James J. Walker, and two eminent counsel for the Hofstadter Committee, Judge Samuel Seabury.

Since the committee began its investigations into municipal affairs nearly two years ago, New York has eagerly looked forward to the day when the dapper Mayor would be called to pit his nimble wits against the not-so-scintillating but none-the-less brilliant wits of Judge Seabury.

Many times—notably upon the occasion when the committee summoned Russell Sherwood, said to be Mayor Walker's financial aide, to appear before it—the clash seemed imminent and Gotham said up and took notice. But somehow Hizzoner has never made the acquaintance of the Star Chamber where so many figures connected with his administration have been made to feel uncomfortable. Now, however, the duel of brains is at hand.

Though poles apart as far as personality goes, Mayor Jimmy and Judge Seabury have one thing in common: both are men of the keenest mentality, never at a loss for the retort proper.

Mayor Walker is renowned all over the world as a master of the "snappy comeback." It is a question whether New York ever had a mayor who was the target for criticism that has been Jimmy's lot, but to the delight of his admirers and to the bitter chagrin of his enemies he has always risen to the occasion and literally "wise-cracked" his way out of all his difficulties. In Judge Seabury, Mayor Walker

PETITION FOR A MACADAM ROAD

THE BIG NEWS is on the inside pages too

Probably you read the front page of your paper first. But think how soon you forget the "news of the day"—and how long you enjoy the things you buy because of some item in an advertisement.

Almost always, there is big news for you somewhere in the advertising columns of this paper. Look for it. Here's a piece that tells how to make a nicer angel cake—a note on the new models of the car you hope to buy next—news of fashions and furnishings, of hardware and hats. . . Interesting, intimate, often dramatic news that really concerns you and yours.

Remember that size alone is not a measure of value. Often an advertisement in small space will offer just what you want at a saving. So form the good habit of reading the advertising section of this paper carefully. It will save you time and money. It will make your home healthier, wealthier, happier.

Read and you will find!
