THE WHEAT SITUATION:

The farmer who thinks there is nothing wrong in the present low price of farm products should investigate. Our attention has been called to a paragraph from a bulletin issued by the agricultural department of the United States and therefore we presume, correct, regarding the wheat situation of the world. It is almost startling to learn that prices for wheat in Europe are from $1.70 to $1.82 per bushel while in this country the price is below forty cents. The paragraph reads as follows:

"Germany has general tariff of $1.62 per bushel on imported wheat and requires millers to use 97 per cent of domestic wheat, except under a special provision whereby 30 per cent of foreign wheat may be used when imported at a reduced tariff rate of $1.16. France has a minimum tariff rate duty, to which United States wheat is subject, of 85 1/4 cents per bushel and a maximum duty of $1.07 1/2 per bushel and permits only 40 per cent of foreign wheat in milling mixtures. The Italian wheat duty is $1.07 per bushel and recently revised milling regulations permit 95 per cent of imported bread wheat to be used in milling in southern districts and 75 per cent foreign in northern and central areas. During the period July, 1931, through January, 1932, Italian millers were only allowed to use 5 per cent of imported wheat in milling mixtures. The effectiveness of these measures is apparent in prices of good milling native wheat which was quoted May 20th at Hamburg at $1.82 1/2 per bushel, at Paris at $1.80 1/2 and at Milan, Italy at $1.70 per bushel."

The Democratic state convention will be held at Indianapolis next Monday and Tuesday and many from here plan to attend. They will adopt a platform and nominate a state ticket and then comes the big battle for control of the state.

The leaders are enthusiastic over the outlook for victory and if no mistakes are made they will very probably be in charge of the state the next four years. The public is looking for leadership of the right kind and will follow loyally.

There is a lot of talk about nominating Calvin Coolidge as vice-president but the yankee ex-president is perhaps smiling as he recalls the story of the "tail that wagged the dog." Of course there would be nothing wrong about it. You will remember how in the early days a former President became a country justice of the peace and another returned to congress.

The Adams county board of review are doing a splendid job of equalizing taxes and that's not only a tough assignment but a very important one. Every tax payer now has his day in court and if he has objections to his assessments he should appear before these gentleman and state them. The board deserves the sincere assistance of every good citizen in its work.

"Today our nation is in the midst of its most perilous economic crisis," shouted Senator Dickinson in his keynote speech. That's quite an admission coming from such a source at Republican national convention and the senator should have gone right on and told what he intended to do about it.

It looks like they were trying to slip Vice-President Charlie Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Dolly Ganns, out of a side door. The only trouble is that Dolly insists on talking out loud and don't seem to care about the politics of the thing. Dawes looks like a favorite. And he took a nap once.

These are times when we should all support home merchants and keep the dollars at home. When you give your money to a street vendor, a peddler or an agent, its gone for good. Let's help each other by being loyal. We all do better and feel better.

For some peculiar reason the Republicans don't seem to be able to agree on the prohibition question. There are a hundred different views of how it can be handled best with the idea in view of course of securing the most votes.

Opening the twentieth Republican national convention in Chicago, Senator Dickinson referred to the full dinner pail of 1896, opened it wide and found it empty and the delegates cheered twenty minutes.

The greatest enthusiasm so far in the G. O. P. convention in Chicago came when the large American flag was unfurled.

Ironing Curtains
When ironing curtains, fold the curtain lengthwise with the selvage to the right, within about an inch of the center, being careful to keep the selvage straight. Unfold and iron without stretching the two inches in the center which were omitted when the curtain was folded. This will make the curtain look like new, there will be no fold in the center, and it will hang perfectly.

Mending China
To mend broken china, use a cement made by mixing plaster of Paris with the white of an egg to the consistency of cream.

Ice Cream
The ice cream will freeze quicker if finely cracked ice is used instead of the larger pieces.

AS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION OPENED

This excellent view depicts the Republican convention in Chicago getting under way. At the lower left, Senator Simeon L. Fess, of Ohio, national chairman, is seen officially beginning the proceedings. At upper right, Senator W. L. Dickinson, of Iowa, temporary chairman of the convention, is pictured beginning the keynote speech. Speaker's stand is indicated by circle.

OBITUARY

Carl Schafer was born in Wallhausen, Germany, February 8, 1889. He was the son of Jacob and Catherine Schafer. He came to Decatur from Germany when he was eight months of age and resided here since that time. As a little child he was presented to the Lord in the sacrament of Holy Baptism, and as he grew up was instructed and confirmed May 22, 1904, in the blessed faith of Our Lord, Christ Jesus. He has always manifested a great interest in church work and was active in behalf of our church until the last, serving as senior elder in the church at the time of his death and having formerly served as deacon and treasurer of the church. He was also a member of the Moose lodge of this city.

On May 22, 1917, he was married to Irene Eady with whom he shared labor and rest, joy and sorrow until his sudden death. Their happy and peaceful union was blessed with two sons, William Schafer, age 13 years and Richard Schafer, age 11 years.

On Sunday morning, May 15th, 1932, he suffered a severe heart attack while he was helping to carry the casket bearing the body of the late Rev. Adolph R. Fledderjohann into the church. He was taken to the Adams County Memorial Hospital where he was a patient for a few days, but his condition remained serious until his death, Thursday, June 9th, 1932. In conversation with his friends, he occasionally spoke of his ailments and seemed to anticipate that death might come very suddenly. At about 6:30 o'clock in the evening, June 9th, 1932, he passed away of coronary thrombosis, having attained the age of 43 years, 4 months and one day. Suddenly struck by his sudden departure is his widow and two sons, his father, five brothers and sisters, Fred Schafer of Chicago, Ill.; Jacob Schafer of Lima, O.; Mrs. James Duer, of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Mary Keller and Adam Schafer, of this city, and many other dear relatives and friends.

"They do not die, who leave us For that better, fairer land; It would not so bereave us Could they make us understand! Though dark the cloud above us When they speak to us no more, They think of us and love us, And have only gone before."

OBITUARY

Rev. Adolph R. Fledderjohann was born near New Knoxville, O., August 19, 1895, and was dedicated to the Lord in baptism by Rev. Mr. Noll. After religious instruction, he was confirmed and received into the membership of the Reformed church at New Knoxville.

He graduated from the Mission House College in 1917, and three years later from the Seminary. He first served the Reformed church at Linton, Indiana, for five years. The Zion Reformed church at Decatur was next served by him for seven and one half years.

He was president of the Decatur Ministerial Association, had served six years as Dean of the Daily Vacation School, and took active part in the affairs of the community.

He was president of the Fort Wayne Classis in 1931, and at the time of his death he was chairman of the Classical Board of Trustees. In 1920 he was united in marriage to Matilda Meckstroth, with whom he shared his many duties as well as his joys and sorrows. To this union five children were born, and of these a pair of twin boys preceded their father in death. Surviving is the widow, three daughters, Virginia, Letha and Roberta, his mother, two sisters, three brothers, and a host of relatives and friends.

See The Big Show
... Now Going On

As you read these lines, the Big Show has already begun. It's a new bill every day—right here, in your favorite newspaper. Make yourself comfortable, and turn the pages.

You'll find it a sparkling review—full of movement, and life, and interest, and news. News of the world of people and places. And news of the world of goods and services.

See it all; read it all. The news columns will keep you posted on events of the day, and the advertising columns—why, they're news columns, too, of course. Advertisements are news of the things you need and want. If you don't want them today, you probably will tomorrow.

Here, as the news passes before your eyes, make a note of this product, and that service. Tomorrow, when you start out to shop, you'll be able to make a bee-line for the place that has just what you want, at the price you want to pay. Considering the tiny amount you've spent for a seat down-front, our Big Show is far, far more than your money's worth on that score alone.
