MAX BAER IS VICTOR AGAIN

Reno, Nev., July 5.—(U.P.)—Max Baer, California heavyweight, won a 20-round decision over King Levinsky of Chicago last night at Jack Dempsey's improvised arena, thereby joining the group of possible opponents for Max Schmeling in September.

It was Baer's second victory over the Chicago fish vendor in six months. He won with the same pile-driving body attack which gained him a 10-round decision over Levinsky in New York last January.

Baer, one of the hardest hitters in the ring, weakened his opponent with continuous barrage of stiff hooks to the stomach and short right jolts to the kidneys. In the nineteenth round Baer ripped a savage left hook to Levinsky's body, sending him to his knees. It was the only knockdown.

Baer won 12 of the 20 rounds; three were even, and Levinsky took only five, although he had been the favorite when they entered the ring. His supporters believe he had learned how to evade Baer's body attack. Baer weighed 202 1/2 lbs., Levinsky, 196 1/2.

Referee George Blake's decision was popular with the unexpectedly small crowd of 8,000.

The California fighter had more steam in his punches, showed superior stamina and displayed superior ring generalship. He set the pace for the fight after the sixth round, and forced Levinsky to box at long range or to mix it on the inside, as he desired.

After the fight, Levinsky claimed he injured his right hand in the early round. Baer said he fought as he had planned.

PIRATES, YANKS ARE FAVORITES

New York, July 5.—(U.P.)—The Yankees and Pirates should meet in the 1932 world series if it is true that the leading major league clubs on July 5 will be the leaders at the close of the pennant season.

The McCarthy men have a lead of seven and one-half games, despite their loss of a twin bill to the Washington Senators yesterday. But Pittsburgh has a lead of only one and one-half games over the Boston Braves, despite the Pirates' double victory yesterday over the Chicago Cubs.

The National league race is swirling along in the tightest dog fight in history.

Thus far, no team in the circuit has stood out as a certain pennant winner. All clubs seem to have weak spots and all seem to be playing below par baseball.

The Pirates have gained a great army of supporters by their 10 victories in their last 11 games. Seven pitchers proved themselves capable of rotating as starters, giving them probably the strongest hurling staff in the league. They are Swetonic, Meine, Brame, Harless, Swift, French and Kremer.

Pittsburgh dropped the Cubs, their closest rivals, to third place yesterday by beating them 9 to 6 and 6 to 5, the latter after an 11-inning battle. In the second game, singles by Padden, Lloyd Waner and Vaughn broke the deadlock in the eleventh.

The Braves replaced the Cubs in second place by downing the Phillies, 8 to 6, and 9 to 0.

Chuck Klein hit his 25th home run of the season in the opener, and in the nightcap got four hits in four trips to the plate.

Cincinnati won the first game in a double-header from the Cardinals, 7 to 3, and the second contest was called because of darkness at the end of the thirteenth inning with the score tied at 3-all.

Brooklyn's double-header at New York was washed out.

The Tigers replaced the idle Athletics in second position in the American league by taking both ends of a twin bill from the Browns, 2 to 0, and 12 to 7. Earl Whitehill yielded only one hit in the first victory.

Washington replaced Cleveland in fourth place by beating the Yankees, 6 to 3 and 12 to 6. In the first game Carl Reynolds, Washington outfielder, was trying to steal home from third when he collided with Bill Dickey, New York catcher. Dickey, angered by the impact, struck Reynolds and broke his jaw. After police quelled the disturbance, Dickey and Reynolds were banished. Lefty Gomez's winning streak was halted at 11 straight when he lost the first game. Babe Ruth drove out a home in the second game.

The White Sox and Indians divided a double-header, Cleveland taking the opener, 4 to 2, and Chicago the second, 2 to 1.

Philadelphia's double-header at Boston was washed out.

Yesterday's hero: Chuck Klein of the Phillies who drove out a home run and a single in the first game with the Braves, and made four hits in four tries in the second.

THE BIG FIVE

Babe Ruth made a home run and two singles in seven times up, accounting for four runs.
Lou Gehrig made a double and three singles in eight tries, accounting for one run.
Al Simmons, Hack Wilson and Bill Terry were idle.

HICKS VICTOR IN OHIO SCRAP

Tarzan (Hicks), Pennsylvania heavyweight won a three-round decision fight from Bittling Gooding of San Francisco, Cal., at Wapokeneta, O., Monday night at an American Legion benefit boxing show produced by Ray Snedeker.

Other fights went to draws, according to the Ohio boxing commission. Several good contests were on the program. Tuffy Burkhead of Decatur gave his bigger opponent from Fort Wayne a terrific lacing for three rounds, but the commission under its own decisions refused to declare a winner.

Doyle Smith fought a much heavier and bigger opponent but stayed the three rounds and Lyons, a colored-boy from Fort Wayne beat Bags of Portland in three rounds. Schunck and Ravi fought to a draw and Archer beat Dile Death in the final round, when Death was declared the loser for refusing to fight back.

The mixed doubles match was called off on account of rain. Another match is scheduled with Van Wert early in August.

Allison Reaches the Peak

By HARDIN BURNLEY

© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

UNLESS the play at historic Wimbledon has put Ellsworth Vines, America's ranking player and captain of the Davis Cup Team, back into the form which won for him the national championship last year, the weight of carrying the team to victory in the interzone finals at Paris may rest upon Wilmer Allison, of Texas.

Allison, who has been playing brilliant tennis this year, seems to have at last begun to justify the great things predicted for him several years ago when he defeated Henri Cochet at Wimbledon. In the recent Davis Cup matches against Brazil he and Van Ryn dissolved their doubles partnership temporarily to clean up the final singles matches. A few days later the Americans sailed for England in the wake of Vines who had left to get an early start for the Wimbledon tournament.

Right now many tennis authorities look upon Allison as the key man of the American team. For consistent playing he is far and away ahead of the other members of the team, at least this year. He and Van Ryn as a doubles combination, undoubtedly surpass any other combination that can be sent against them abroad. Should the American team prove successful in the interzone finals at Paris, beginning on July 22, (probably against the English team), it is difficult to visualize any doubles team the French may select beating Allison and Van Ryn. They are almost a certainty to score the doubles points for America.

It is in the singles matches that most of the concern is felt. Particularly since Vines' "in and out" playing this year. Shields, the other singles member of the team is also a bit off his game. Thus it is that Allison may have to carry an extra burden in the matches at Paris.

The tall Texan may be called upon to play in the singles match to the doubles. For anyone and Allison is well fitted for the job. Karol Kozeluh, famous national star, is of the opinion Allison would be one of the best singles players in the world. He was better endowed than he. Which may explain why he has devoted much of his life to the less strenuous matches.

Should Allison play in the singles against England it is that he will hook up with the giant Bunny Austin in the final match. And the latter is tough nut to crack for Vines or Shields. The latter has been playing great and is the hope of the team.

Anyway this seems to be son's year and as a single or in the doubles he will shine for America.
