into the open sea with the hope of being picked up by a steamer.

They drifted for five days with out food or water, the men said. A steamer which passed less than a mile away failed to sight them.

They came back to shore and lay prostrate on the beach or tried to find their way out of the bush. They were found on June 26, six miles west of Cape Bernier.

Capt. Bertram and Flaumann started from Port Darwin for Batavia in a seaplane on May 14. They were not heard from again until weeks later, when natives found part of the plane and Capt. Bertram's cigarette case on the shore of the Timor Sea.

Search for the men was concentrated in the locality where these discoveries were made, but they had gone to sea on their makeshift float and had drifted away from the rest of their plane. Police Constable Marshall finally received word that natives had rescued the men, and he hurried to their assistance.

The fliers said a shortage of gasoline forced them to land and reach their machine. Then they started their aimless wanderings.

Objective Switched
Lathrop, Cal. -- (UP) -- While Mrs. J. W. Brakefield relieved her husband in an all-night vigil for chicken thieves, burglars entered the bedroom where Brakefield was sleeping, stole his trousers, money, watch and other valuables.

Missouri Without a Roach
Columbia Mo. -- (UP) -- When the University of Missouri begins its fall term it will be without a member of the Roach family for the first time since 1908. Anna Evelyn and Catherine Elinor Roach, twins, graduated this spring, were the eleventh and twelfth members of the family to leave the school since an older sister entered it 23 years ago.

Married After 60 Years
Hannibal, Mo. -- (UP) -- A romance that began in St. Louis in 1872 culminated here recently in the marriage of Henry Romberg and Mrs. Catherine Terry, both 73 years old. After a tiff 60 years ago they separated, each married, had children and grandchildren before they met here again.

Tea-time in Greenwich
Greenwich England -- (UP) -- A thousand guests visiting the Royal Observatory, the cradle of timekeeping, here were amazed when Sir Frank Dyson, Astronomer Royal, served them tea when all the clocks pointed to 3 p.m., as hour early, as all good Britshers know. Sir Frank explained with gentle scorn that although Greenwich does not recognize Summer Time, or "daylight saving" time, all the rest of England has moved its clocks ahead and he was willing to give them tea by their own time instead of his.
