Church entertained with a surprise party honoring Mrs. R. E. Vance in the Church entertaining rooms, Friday night, following the party given for Rev. and Mrs. Vance by the Juniors of the church.

Mrs. Vance has served as the choir director during her stay in this city. The choir presented her with a beautiful purse in appreciation of her work.

REV. AND MRS. VANCE ENTERTAINED AT PARTY

The Juniors of the United Brethren Church entertained with a farewell party Friday night in the church parlors, honoring Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Vance who will make their home in Plymouth.

The party in the form of a birthday party and twelve tables were arranged in the dining room. Each table was decorated with a scene representing various months of the year.

During the early part of the evening singing and reading by the Juniors was enjoyed. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Hitchcock. The Juniors presented Rev. and Mrs. Vance with a gift. The guests then gave a talk encouraging the Juniors to keep faithful.

This program closed with the singing of the song, "God Be with You Till We Meet Again" and prayer by Rev. and Mrs. Vance.

The children were then invited to the dining room in groups to find the table representing the month in which they were born.
Refreshments were served by Mrs.
Myers and Miss Ireta Fisher. Dorcas Hoiland and Mary Johnston.

THE RETURN OF THE SPIES

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR SEPT. 18 Numbers 13:1-14:45

By HARLOWE R. HOYT
WALTER SCOTT

Canaan, the land towards which the Israelites were traveling, was peopled by a sturdy race with whom the Israelites, worn with years of servitude and the strain of journeying, were little fitted to cope. As Moses pondered, Jehovah commanded him to send spies into the territory, choosing a prince from every tribe. Moses made his selection and the royal spies went ahead into the promised land.

At the end of forty days, the spies returned from their investigation, bringing with them huge grape clusters, pomegranates, figs, and spoils of the countryside, to prove its fruitfulness. They assembled before Moses and Aaron, and all the children of Israel came to hear what they had to report. During this time, the encampment had been stationed at Kadesh, in Paran, awaiting their return.

The report of the spies was not promising. It was a wonderful land, they said, flowing with milk and honey. But it was peopled by a race of tremendous strength and stature. The cities were fortified, and they feared the Israelites stood no chance in combat. Caleb and Joshua refused to agree with them and urged action.
"Let us go up at once," Caleb urged, "for we are well able to overcome them and triumph."

But Caleb and Joshua pleaded in vain. The Israelites were afraid. Their confidence in Jehovah's promise was wavering. Some urged that another leader be chosen to succeed Moses, and others that they give up the attempt and return to their Egyptian bondage. Jehovah now threatened to destroy them all, but Moses again inter-ceded. Prayers prevailed but Jehovah doomed them to the wilderness for forty years.

INDECISION

By Harlowe R. Hoyt

We are told in today's Sunday School lesson how spies sent by Moses into the land of Canaan returned to report their findings.
Canaan was the land of promise. Jehovah had assured the race that it was to be theirs, and they were pressing on in a desire to attain it. It was a land of plenty —of fruitful fields and heavy laden trees, in contrast to the wind swept desert they traversed. It was peopled by a race who long had lived there. But it was to be the land of the Israelites. Jehovah had promised this. Then came the spies with their report.
"We cannot hope to attain it," they said.

And despite the objections of Caleb and Joshua, who would have pressed on, they were afraid. By this indecision, they lost their opportunity. Jehovah condemned them to long years of wandering before they might attain their goal.

Procrastination is one of the greatest evils of mankind. More often than not, it is caused by indecision. We fear that we cannot attain the end we desire. We fear our own resources. Doubting our ability, we shilly-shally along, finding one excuse or another to condone our negligence. In the end, sometimes we accomplish our desire, but more often, we lose it.
Though we fail to realize it, we are punished for our indecision just as were the Israelites when they roved the wilderness for forty years.

The strong man is one who knows his own mind. He has the power to plan and the will to execute. He attains his end by direct means and with the certainty that comes from confidence in his strength.
We must be decisive to live a full and well rounded life.

Sunday School ? QUESTIONS ?

QUESTIONS

1. How far did the Israelites advance at this stage of their journeying?
2. What was their situation?
3. What did Jehovah command?
4. Who were included in the spies chosen by Moses?
5. What did they do?
6. Tell about their return.
7. What report did they make?
8. Who took issue with the report of the spies?
9. How did the Israelites receive the report?
10. What did Jehovah do to punish them?

ANSWERS

1. The Israelites after leaving Mount Sinai continued through the wilderness of Paran until they came to Kadesh-barnea.
2. They were not fitted to combat with the Canaanites, who were a sturdy race, while Moses' followers still suffered from years of slavery, were worn with travel, and were not properly trained or equipped for warfare.
3. Jehovah commanded Moses to send forward spies, a prince from each tribe to scout the country and bring back reports.
4. Included among the spies were Caleb and Joshua, who was to succeed Moses as a leader of the people.
5. The spies went into Canaan, where they remained for forty days. During that time, they scouted both the north and the south, and when they returned, they brought with them fruits and vegetables, to prove the fertility of the country.
6. The Israelites remained encamped at Kadesh until the spies returned. Then they gathered together while the venturers reported to Moses and Aaron of what they had seen.
7. The spies reported that they could not combat the Canaanites with any hope of victory. They were a race of giants, they said, with fortified cities and great armies. They advised against attempting to occupy the country.
8. Caleb, backed by Joshua, took exception to this report. He urged that the Israelites invade the country and take it for their own.
9. The Israelites accepted the report of the cowardly spies.
Some urged that Moses be deposed and a new leader appointed.

Indianapolis Men Find Church Funds

Indianapolis, Sept. —(UP)—Because two Indianapolis men were willing to chance being made the butt of a childish prank the Third Christian church was saved several hundred dollars.

E. L. Bowers and Floyd L. Stephenson saw a black satchel lying in the middle of a street while driving. They suspected it was the bait for a childish prank but their curiosity won and they stopped.

They found, to their surprise that the satchel contained over 100 small envelopes containing money. On the envelopes was printed the name of the church.

Investigation with the aid of police revealed that the satchel had dropped from the auto of Smith Bray, secretary of the church, as he was delivering flowers to sick members of the congregation. The money was the Sunday morning contributions to the church building fund.

Miss Marcella Marker of Ligonier arrived in this city today to spend the week-end here, the guest of Miss Mildred Worthman.

MAJESTIC

Economical, Healthful Home Comfort

FOR the first chilly days of early autumn or the coldest days of mid-winter, a Majestic Down-Draft Furnace is the secret of economical, healthful home comfort.

The large, roomy combustion chamber and extra long smoke travel gets all the heat possible from the fuel burned.

The semi-automatic humidifier, installed in every Majestic Furnace, keeps the proper amount of moisture in the air. Large volumes of humidified, warm air mean more uniform temperatures and an atmosphere that is fresh and invigorating.

Majestic Down-Draft furnace is adaptable to coal, oil or gas fuel. Write or phone for complete details.
