THIMBLE THEATER

BOY SCOUT DAY
AT INDIANA U.

State University Will Entertain Boy Scouts All Day Saturday

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 29.—As the result of drawings here today to determine the place of each Boy Scout council of the state in the Scout parade at Indiana university, Scout troops of the Anthony Wayne Council will march in sixteenth place. The Wayne County Council drew first place, L. L. Hotchkiss, Fort Wayne, is Scout Executive for the Anthony Wayne Council.

The Scout parade will march through the Bloomington business district and the Indiana university campus to the I. U. memorial stadium for the Indiana-Ohio University football game. The game is the feature event on the sixth annual Boy Scout Day program to be held at the university Saturday. The location of each council in the parade was determined by placing numbers for the 21 councils in a box and someone drawing the numbers.
Capt. F. E. Barber and Capt. Lawrence E. Jaynes, both members of the university's R.O.T.C. staff are in charge of the Scout Day parade.

The several thousands Scouts of Indiana who will be guests of Indiana university Saturday will assemble for the parade at 12:45 p. m. with the parade scheduled to start at 1 o'clock. The entrance into the stadium will be at 2 p. m., with the football game called for 2:30.

The Scout Day program this year will be limited to one day, in order to cut down expenses for each person involved. However, troops finding it impossible to make the trip all in one day will be provided sleeping quarters Friday night in the I. U. field house. An informal program has been arranged for Friday night for the entertainment of those arriving early. From 7 to 9 there will be a White River Council Court of Honor, to which all Scouts and Scout officials are invited. Throughout the evening the swimming pool in the men's gym will be open to Scouts, as will the Kirkwood Observatory for astronomical observations.

Saturday morning's program will open at eight o'clock with sightseeing tours of the campus. These will continue until 11:30. At ten o'clock there will be the selection of the winners of the Boy Scouts awards in President Bryan's office. The swimming pool will be open from 8 to 11 for the use of Scouts. First call for lunch will be sounded at 11 o'clock and at 12:45 the assembly for parade is scheduled.

The following Scouts are candidates for the two Boy Scout awards of $75 each offered by the Indiana university chapter of the Alpha Phi Omega Scouting fraternity; Robert McCombs, South Bend; Alfred Kuerst, Indianapolis; James A. Kon-dall, Jeffersonville; Raymond Jones Logansport; Robert Penneman, Evansville; John Krebs, Bloomington.

The order of march for the 21 Scout councils of Indiana will be as follows as the results of the drawing: Wayne county, Hoosier Hills, Central Indiana, Gary, Twin City, Whiting, Tippecanoe, Southern Indiana, Elkhart, White River, Delaware county, George Rogers Clark, Mishawaka, Chief Anderson, Warshaw Valley, Anthony Wayne, Meshingomesia, Pottawatomie, Logansport, Hammond, and St. Joseph.

GOV. ROOSEVELT
IN STRIKE AREA
FOR FINAL TALK

"That is why I rejoice in, and approve the statement that Senator Norris is a better Republican than the President," Roosevelt observed.
"To those who would say that Senator Norris has been no respecter of parties," Roosevelt declared, "it would suggest something more important."

"The forces of evil are far less respecters of parties."

"Selfish business which seeks through the tariff a monopoly on a given product in order to obtain vast private profit at the expense of the people in no respecter of parties."

"Those bankers and brokers who, in order to obtain a commission, will willingly deceive an investing public into buying worthless domestic or foreign bonds, are no respecters of parties."

"A conscienceless power trust seeking to charge home owner, the small manufacturer, the little business man, and the traffic will bear, is no respecter of parties."

"These men," the governor added, "and these organizations seek to fatten themselves by the use of the kind party regularly, whether it be Republican or Democratic, which can best be purchased to serve them."

"Their's the type of bad citizenship which cries the loudest against public servants, like Senator Norris, who are consistent, unselfish, courageous and can't be bought," he said.

"They are," Roosevelt asserted, "like descendants of the men and the organizations who called Jefferson a 'radical', who called Jackson a 'demagogue', who called Lincoln a 'crackpot idealist', who called Theodore Roosevelt a 'wild man', who called Woodrow Wilson an 'impractical idealist'."

"Senator Norris," the governor said, pointing to him, "I go along with you because it is honest belief that you follow in their footsteps—radical like Jefferson, demagogue like Jackson; idealist like Lincoln; wild like Theodore Roosevelt; theorist like Wilson—dare to be all these, as you have in bygone years."

"So can we most greatly help our beloved nation in time of need," Roosevelt said in conclusion. "Our cause is common. I welcome your support. I honor myself in honoring you."

Roosevelt was welcomed by Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, a brother of the late William Jennings Bryan. Senator Norris introduced the nominee as "an outstanding friend of those who toil on the farms, in the factories and in the counting houses, and who constitute the bulwark and the backbone of our civilization."

Discussing the national conventions, Norris asserted "the representatives of monopolies and special interests fought Governor Roosevelt with a relentlessness which disregarded fairness, honesty and truth."
