INSTALL PASTOR AT LOCAL CHURCH

Wayne, presented the charge to the congregation. Dr. McGill served as supply pastor at the local church during the vacancy of the summer months. He said he had served the church without a pastor and he sincerely hoped that the present pastor would not have to serve without a church.

The program was opened with an organ prelude, "Ave Maria," by Schubert, played by Mrs. Fred Smith. The invocation prayer was offered by Dr. Callen, and the Junior Choir sang the song, "Word With a Song" by Meredith.

The Scripture reading was by Dr. Bourais, stated clerk of the Presbytery. Paul Sauer of this city sang a vocal selection. The program was closed with the benediction by Rev. Walton.

A reception for Rev. and Mrs. Walton was held at the close of the installation service. The church parlors were decorated for the occasion with bouquets of fall flowers. The Ladies Aid Society of the church presented Rev. and Mrs. Walton with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Preceding the installation service the Presbytery of Fort Wayne held an adjourned meeting in the church.

ing there was fine. . . . Frederick Perry and H. W. ("Bunny") Austin, English tennis aces, will live in Charlie Farrell's Malibu house for a couple of weeks. Charlie and Virginia Valli are now at a Beverly Hills apartment.

Tom Brown, the young actor who had a picture named for him ("Tom Brown of Culver"), will play the juvenile lead in Universal's chain gang story, "Laughter in Hell."

Burton Churchill and Clarence Muse are two other players engaged for the talkie version of the Jim Tully novel.

The whole company left yesterday for a location at Sonoma, California. Edward Cahn and Russell Hopton will co-direct. Hopton being in charge of the dialogue.

One of those Hollywood parties, reports Bill Oliver, was going on in an apartment house next to a hospital.

About midnight, Bing Crosby's guitarist and Georgie Stoll began to entertain with popular tunes.

Someone said to a man who lives in the apartment: "It must be awful hard for you fellows living in a hospital zone."

"Oh, no," was the quick reply. "this is a sound-proof building. We never hear a thing."

That Mae Clarke used to sell hot-dogs on the boardwalk at Atlantic City? And that she once was married to a Virginian Lew Brice?

Too Much Business

Is Club's Undoing

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—(U.P.)—too much trade proved the undoing of the depression club, which, advertising "A big free lunch and a scuttle of beer for a nickel," did a land office business until police raided it last night.

The establishment, with a brass rail, bar and fixtures, had been operating six weeks. While other officers confiscated what they said was beer and whisky, one patrolman removed the free lunch sign.

Six persons were arrested, including Alice La Ross, 27 the alleged proprietor. She said the beer was only near beer.
