It's Governor McNutt now and the responsibility is on the Democrats. Future success for that party depends greatly upon the record made the next two and four years.

A shipment of real beer from abroad has been passed by the New York customs house because it is to be used "purely for scientific purposes." Ain't science wonderful?—Philadelphia Enquirer.

Don't put off paying your subscription to the Daily Democrat for you but it must be accepted within the next six weeks or so and that will fly around. Do it this week.

Fatalities from motor accidents last year were less than for a long time, according to announcement just made by the actuary of one of the large life insurance companies and figures from that source are pretty safe because they are the folks who usually have to pay.

Frank Helman, retiring from the board of the Adams County Memorial Hospital, says he has always hoped that some one would start an endowment fund for this institution. Not so bad and if any one makes more money than they feel they need, we don't know of a better cause.

Looking for an investment?
Grab one of the Adams county farms that is being offered for about what the fence and tile cost.
If it doesn't come back, nothing will and we would not be afraid to bet a penny or two that it will come sooner than most any thing else.
It's a safe and sound place to invest.

Harry Leslie retired as governor today. He has proven honest and courageous and while he has perhaps done nothing to startle the populace, he has kept the old boat going along its course, without serious mishap and retires to private life with the respect of his people and that's something in this lame day of bustle and bustle.

There is one advantage in an income over a sales tax and that is that it can be reduced from year to year according to requirements.
If we add a sales tax it will continue to be a source of expense for a long time to come. Governor Eisenhower evidently prefers a tax to balance the budget for this year.

Indianapolis, Jan. 9.—(UP)—Paul Vories McNutt, 41, is one of the youngest men to become governor of Indiana.

Born at Franklin, July 19, 1891, he was graduated from Indiana University in 1913 and from the Harvard law school three years later. He enlisted in the army during the World War and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

At the end of the war he practiced law for a time in Martinsville and then joined the faculty of the Indiana University law school of which he ultimately became dean. In 1928 he was elected national commander of the American Legion. He is a former state Legion commander.

In appearance he is tall and handsome and has gray hair.

He is a Phi Beta Kappa, a Methodist, a Mason, an Elk and a Rotarian.

He is the fourth Bloomington man to become governor.

Ross, who was his secretary, and Ralph W. Hemenway, his former law partner, said the ex-President never mentioned a will to them.

It was suggested that it would have been characteristic of Mr.
Coolidge, an able lawyer, to draw a brief will, perhaps several years ago, and place it somewhere for safekeeping, without mentioning the matter to associates.

Mrs. Coolidge, brave and calm, attended services as usual yesterday at Edwards Congregational church where, only a few hours previously, she had sat at her husband's funeral. With her were her son, John, his wife, the former Florence Trumbull, and Miss Laura Skinner of New York, a friend of the former first lady.

Wan and wistful, Mrs. Coolidge, who still wore the black, caracul-trimmed coat which she wore at the funeral, mounted the church steps unaided. She joined in singing in the opening hymn, "Come Thou Almighty God."

Mrs. Coolidge sang every hymn.
She seemed unimpaired of eyes focused on her. She smiled broadly at remarks made by pastor Penner in a separate sermon to the children. She smiled again as she shook hands with the pastor at the end of the services.

parents in Indianapolis. Her father, the Rev. Alton E. Wrentham, was candidate for U. S. senator on the Prohibition party ticket last November.

Shortly after the murder officials said Moor confessed that he shot his wife because he was tired of always coming home to a "sink full of dirty dishes." Later he repudiated this confession.

His first account said his wife was killed by a holdup man. The killing occurred south of Marshall, near Ernst.

Doctors Give Creosote For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.
Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs no matter how long standing, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.
Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (adv.)
