The list of loans made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is interesting of course, but we seriously doubt the advisability of publishing it.

If the governor is to be held responsible for every thing done in the state, it looks as though he ought to have the authority to hire and fire those who are supposed to carry out his plans.

We can't sympathize very much with that man Edwards of Chicago, who went to a bank and drew $33,000 and got into a car with some strangers who robbed him. Probably he was in on some big scheme to "get" some one else.

You may not agree with the program in the legislature but at least Governor McNutt and his supporters are trying to do things and that's something. We are sure that when the new program is complete and under way the changes will meet approval.

Plans are being made to secure the acreage necessary for the sugar factory to operate but actual work of signing contracts cannot be undertaken until the matter is adjusted about February 15th. Then it will be up to every one to get busy, talk bees, secure contracts and spread optimism.

Republicans have organized the city committees and are ready for action. Seems a little early but they no doubt have a number of important matters to take up before the real scrap of selecting candidates starts. After all its about time candidates begin building their fences.

Ernst J. Stevens, Chicago financier, hotel owner and clubman is under arrest charged with conspiracy in the recent wreck of the Illinois Life Insurance Company. A few years ago he was rated as a multi-millionaire. It must be said in this depression that the mighty have fallen with the ordinary folks.

Winnie Ruth Judd has been granted a stay of eight weeks, while her case is reviewed by the supreme court of Arizona. She was convicted, it will be remembered, of murdering two girl friends and shipping their bodies in a trunk. She may be guilty and no doubt was mixed up in a terrible affair but its also more than probable that she never did the job alone.

There are indications of better times over the country and there is a soundness that makes many believe we are about to emerge from the depression. The sooner the community gets to believing that, the sooner every one will be back to work and every one doing business. Let's start with tonight's Chamber of Commerce meeting and get busy here.

Rev. Father Joseph Seimetz has assumed charge of the St. Marys Catholic church here as pastor and the welcome extended him by Decatur folks is genuine and sincere. He is a capable and splendid man and the Chesterton folks publicly expressed their regrets at his departure. He will soon become active in affairs here generally and we are sure will prove helpful in many ways.

All set for the Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight when will occur the election of a new board of directors and when Frank Strauss of the Pennsylvania railroad will give an address that every one who believes in the future of this country should hear. If you failed to get a ticket, attend any way and listen to the program.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover entertained Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt Saturday and besides a visit as old time friends it gave Mrs. Roosevelt the opportunity to look over the White House where she expects to reside the next several years and may want to make some few changes to the convenience of her household. And this is all necessary besides providing a news item.

Maurice Early, political writer for the Indianapolis Star says the reaction to the measure to revamp the official set-up of the state is favorable. And if as claimed for it, a saving of three million dollars per year would be effected, that's not surprising. For years we have all yelled "cut out the boards and commissions and get down to business," but when a real effort is made to do that many of those who were loudest in their demands are the first to cry out alarm. Of course its a sensible thing and especially under present conditions.

Christmas Story By Kathleen Foreman

Recently Miss Bertha Bunner, teacher of the fourth grade at the Riley building received a letter from George C. Cole, state superintendent of public instruction, complimenting her on the splendid Christmas story written by one of her pupils, Kathleen Foreman.

There have been a number of requests to read the nine-year-old girl's story which she had prepared. The story follows, also a letter written to Kathleen by State Superintendent George C. Cole:

Christmas Story
by Kathleen Foreman

In Bethlehem the streets were crowded. People who had lived here long ago had come back to pay taxes. It was now night and the little streets were deserted, people were getting ready for bed. No one noticed a man leading a donkey, with a woman on it. The woman's name was Mary, and the man's name was Joseph. The man knocked on the door of the inn and was told there was no room for them. They went to the back of the inn where there was a stable and they made ready for the night.

During the early hours of the morning a son was born to them. There were shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flocks by night. There was an angel of the Lord came down and said unto them, Be not afraid for there is born unto you this day in the city of David, a Saviour, whose name shall be called Jesus. The shepherds went to see this thing that had come to pass.

People noticed a band of wise-men led by a star. They were led to the stable door. They went out and came in again and bowed low before Him and presented gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

Decatur, Indiana.

Dear Kathleen:

I have written letters of congratulation to your city superintendent and to your teacher for the wonderfully well written story that was sent in to me showing what a nine year old child could do.

Now I want to extend that con-

Pies

After taking a pie from the oven place it on a high wire rack to cool, instead of a flat surface such as the table. It will help make the crust crisp, preventing it from becoming soggy. An inverted wire dish drainer will serve this purpose.

Yellowed Garments

To whiten yellow clothes, first try soaking them over night in water containing borax—about 1-4 cup to a gallon of water. If the result is not satisfactory, let them freeze in cold weather. They will be like snow.

Be Modern
Do you mistrust every new suggestion "because mother said it that way"? If you do, then it. The world is progressing. Mother's mother used candles instead of electric lights.

Rabbit Supper

A rabbit supper will be served the members of the B. P. O. lodge Wednesday night at 6 o'clock. A supper of jack rabbits will be served in the Elks Home.

Doctors Give Creosote
For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on. Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs no matter how long standing, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (adv.)
