New U. S. Ambassador to Britain Well Known in London Society

Judge Bingham, Wealthy Kentuckian, Noted for His Independence in Politics. Popularity in England Aroused Opposition in Congress.

JUDGE ROBERT W. BINGHAM

When Judge Robert Worth Bingham, of Louisville, Ky., goes to London as United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James he will be treading on familiar ground. For the Judge has been a frequent visitor to the English capital for many years and is very popular in society circles there. It is believed to have been Bingham's popularity across the water that inspired opposition to his appointment by a small party in Congress. Judge Bingham has long been one of the outstanding figures in Kentucky politics. Though usually Democratic in his leanings, he used the influence he held as controller of the two largest newspapers in Louisville to criticize or praise the policies of both major parties according to how he believed they deserved to be treated. He gave ardent support to Mr. Roosevelt in the Presidential campaign. Bingham was born in North Carolina in 1871 and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. The public offices he has held include that of Jefferson County Attorney, Mayor of Louisville and Chancellor of Jefferson Circuit Court. He has been married three times. His first wife, Eleanor E. Miller, whom he married in 1893, was killed in an automobile accident. His second wife, Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, widow of the man who did much to develop the State of Florida, died in 1917, leaving Judge Bingham $5,000,000. In 1924, Mr. Bingham married Mrs. Byron Hilliard, daughter of an old Kentucky family.

is planning soon to go as a missionary to China. We are sure she will bring a message which will be helpful to all.

beer concerns which received licenses. Gov. Paul V. McNutt has denied, however, that politics would play any part in the sale or manufacture of beer in Indiana.
Robert Batton, Marion, one of those who have assisted in McNutt's government reorganization program, is an officer of the Kiley Breweries, Inc., Marion, which was granted an importers license.
William E. Clauer, Marion county treasurer-elect, and Democratic city chairman of Indianapolis, is president of one of the two importing concerns which obtained licenses here.

William Kunkel, wealthy oil dealer who aided the McNutt campaign, is president of the importing firm in the Fort Wayne district.
One of the Indianapolis wholesale companies, however, is headed by Harry Dunn, former Republican county auditor.

The two breweries authorized to start immediate operation are the Indiana Breweries, Inc., Indianapolis; W. G. Schmidt Brewing Company, Logansport.
Licenses are expected to be issued soon to the Berghoff Brewery, Fort Wayne, and breweries in Mishawaka and Lafayette.

The following permits have been approved:
Importers
State Brewery Company, Indianapolis (Fifth and Sixth districts).
Hoover Brewery Company, Indianapolis (Fifth and Sixth districts).

Northern Distributing Corporation, South Bend, R. W. Fries, Kenneth Rupe and John Farquhar, incorporators (Second district).
Standard National Brands, Inc., Fort Wayne, William Kunkel, presdent (Third district).

Kiley Breweries, Inc., Marion.
Robert P. Kiley, Gretchen L. Kiley, R. R. Batton, incorporators, (Fourth district).

the Huntington community.
The tornado touched Richmond, Mo., late yesterday and struck the East Texas area near sundown, sweeping into Louisiana after nightfall.

It cut a swath some 150 yards wide where it struck. Farmhouses were leveled, with more densely populated communities escaping in the main.

Heavy rainfall accompanied the tornado. It was feared high waters had taken unreported lives and forced lowland residents from their homes.

Red Cross officials hurried to the Mincola-Tyler East Texas area.
They reported upward of 100 were destitute, with a pressing need for food and clothing.
