It won't be long until you can be looking over the baseball scores and picking your favorites in the runs, hits and error column.

Advertise what you have for sale.
It's a lot more important to you than it is to us for without it there is no way to increase sales and it's the total volume that counts.

The beer distributors will be named within a few days and that will be out of the road. Now as soon as the jobs are dispersed we can begin to settle down to real business.

Some "live wire" can do a good turn and make some money by stringing live wires into the stores and connecting them with an alarm that will notify the populace when a burglary is being attempted.

The Union Pacific railway is one road that seems to be able to earn money while the others are losing.
They distributed over five million in dividends Saturday. Perhaps the secret is they are not over capitalized.

Business is opening up according to the best advice from everywhere and within six months we ought to be going along in the old fashioned way. You can help by employing as many as possible, by advertising and by boosting.

Work at the sugar factory is going forward. The field men are advising with the farmers who contracted and arranging for them to receive whatever assistance is necessary for them to grow a profitable crop. Work on the yards will start in a few weeks and everything is to be made ready for the fall campaign.

In a number of cities the proposition of whether or not an additional city tax can be collected from beer dealers is up but Atorney General Philip Lutz holds that this cannot be done. The old ordinances and laws were repealed in the 1917 act, it is held and the present law fixes what portion of the taxes go to the city, county and state.

The new intangible tax may be a little inconvenient, especially until we get used to it, but remember that it is designated to further reduce taxes on real estate, a very necessary movement, since taxes had reached a place where property was being confiscated. We predict that after a year or two, every one will be satisfied with the new order.

There are several important matters under advisement just now that we believe will materialize and will greatly help the industrial situation in this locality. When announcements are made soon we hope every one does what he can to get business started here. That's what each community will have to do eventually and we are fortunate if we get the "breaks" this early in the come-back era.

Saturday was the last day for candidates to file under the old law if they desired to be candidates in the May primaries for cities. The legislature passed a law postponing the elections until next year as an economy measure but an Indianapolis man is contesting the law.
If he should win out, only those who have filed would be candidates and where none have filed it is presumed the present officials would hold until their successors are elected. It is the opinion of leading attorneys, however, that the law is constitutional and so there is probably nothing to worry about.

Salaries and pensions and other emoluments paid by the United States government as well as interest on Federal bonds are exempt from payment of the new gross income tax as is derived from business conducted in commerce between this state and other states of the United States, or between this state and foreign countries, to the extent to which the state of Indiana is prohibited from taxing under the constitution of the United States. Where the Federal constitution prohibits no tax will be exacted on income derived from sales to the United States government. Amounts received under life insurance policies by reason of death of the insured, or under life insurance endowment or annuity contracts, or upon the surrender of a policy, are not subject to the tax.
Insurance companies which already pay more than a 1 per cent tax on premiums also are exempted from the new tax. Others exempted are nonprofit labor, agricultural, horticultural organizations; fraternal societies operating benefit insurance plans for their members; organizations operated for religious, charitable, scientific, fraternal or educational purposes; chamber of commerce and other like business or organizations.—Indianapolis Star.

Removing Scars
Scars caused by severe burns can often be removed entirely by massaging with pure olive oil. Use the finger tips and massage lightly, with a rotary motion. It often takes many repeated treatments to do the work. B. persistent.

Toasting Marshmallows
To prevent the sticking of marshmallows, and the spoiling of their shapes, keep a piece of butter handy so that those who are toasting can thrust their forks or sticks into it before putting on the marshmallows.

CHURCH REVIVALS

United Brethren
The evangelistic meeting being held in the First United Brethren church are growing in interest each day. Large congregations attended the services Sunday, both morning and evening.
Eighteen people were baptized at the Sunday services and 21 joined the church on the profession of faith. The services will continue each evening this week at 7:30.
Dr. John T. Roberts of Sedalia, brother of the local pastor, will do the preaching each evening this week. Dr. Roberts has just closed a very successful revival at Anderson.

Church of God
The revival services at the Church of God are proving to be both interesting and helpful. The services will continue at least until Wednesday night. We are striving to make these last services more interesting and more helpful than any previous service. Our services Sunday were good. The evening service was the crowning service of the day, with a well filled house and a lively song service, a good message and some seeking and finding pardon for their sins.

Come to these few remaining services. You will find a very hearty welcome.

Glen E. Marshall, Pastor
U. B. Mission
308 N. Second St.

A gracious day was spent with the Lord yesterday. The crowds have increased until we had a full house both Saturday and Sunday evenings. The spirit God is dealing with many souls and we are glad to report that a number have found Christ as their personal Savior.

J. C. Peters delivered several stirring messages, from Matt. 5:3, "Blessed are the poor in spirit" and "The Prophet Amos' words synonymous with America's situation."

Services will continue throughout the week. We expect Rev. Geo.
Wright from Quincy, O., to be with us this week. Special numbers in song each night.

You are cordially invited.

INTRODUCES PROGRAM FOR FARM RELIEF

property" to increase purchasing power and to broaden the credit structure for the benefit of both the producing and consuming elements in our population.

Other rehabilitation steps to follow, Mr. Roosevelt said, would be similar measures of relief for the small home owner and legislation to break through trade barriers in order to reestablish foreign markets for farm and industrial products.

A summary of the farm mortgage legislation showed that it proposed the land bank bond issue would be four per cent with the bonds issued for two purposes:

1. Making new loans.
2. Exchange of outstanding mortgages.

The land banks would be authorized to purchase first mortgages on farm land within their districts or exchange bonds for them. The mortgagee would be entitled to have his indebtedness refinanced for the amount paid by the bank for his mortgage.

The maximum rate of interest on loans on mortgages outstanding would not exceed four and one-half per cent. In his message Mr. Roosevelt said that present interest rates in many cases were "unconscionably high."

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be directed to make available $100,000,000 for loans to joint stock land banks at four per cent. In providing collateral for these loans the bill makes possible a complete revelation of the lands under mortgage, the borrowing capacity to be limited to 60 per cent of the land's appraised value.

The borrowing land bank must agree to reduce to five per cent the rate of interest carried in its mortgages pledged as collateral and to refrain from foreclosure during a two year period.

licensing of beer emporiums. Lehman had the public support of Alfred E. Smith.

Primarily, the fight in New York hinged on whether licensing should be in control of a single state board —as Lehman demanded—or under local boards in each community—as the Republicans insisted. Lehman supporters said the Republican plan was designed to permit political control. Republicans charged the Lehman plan turned the valuable beer patronage privilege over to the Democrats, denying Republicans control even in Republican communities.
