Trousers Are Narrower and Tunics Are In

Maybe it's the Ball dancing girl influence, maybe it's just a natural joie de vivre. At any rate, pajamas are swinging into the youngest, jauntiest lines we've seen for ages. For one thing, trousers are narrower. As you see, they're just as picturesque as the full, skirt-like variety, and lots more comfortable. For another thing, blouses are lengthening into tunics, slim, fitted tunics that do wonders to your figure.

Here's a model, for instance, that's got everything—extended shoulders, clever seaming in front and a sash in back. And it's the easiest thing in the world to put together. Make it in a gay novelty cotton and it is just as much at home on the beach as in the boudoir. Size 16 requires 3 3/4 yards 39-inch printed material.

Pattern No. 5232 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 bust.
