

FORMER POLICE CHIEF WOUNDED

Father And Son Held For Shooting Former Madison, Indiana, Chief

Madison, Ind., Nov. 27.—(U.P.)—A father and son, Willis and Ernest, were held today in connection with the shooting of Harry McCoy, 45, former Madison police chief who was wounded by three bullets. The father, who is 68, was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. A minor charge was lodged against his 45-year-old son. The shooting occurred in front of the home of Miss Ruth Beach, 40, as she and McCoy drove up in the latter's car. Miss Beach said she was just alighting from the machine when another car sped past and one of the occupants started firing through the side curtain. McCoy was struck in the wrist, neck and stomach. A blood transfusion was given by physicians last night to prolong his life. As chief of police in 1929, McCoy was alleged to have killed Ernest

HOLLYWOOD. . . . Let the gossip make of it what they will but Constance Bennett and the Marquis Henri de la Falaise celebrated their second wedding anniversary like a pair of lovers. The Marquis filled La Bennett's room with white flowers—roses, chrysanthemums, sweet peas and gardenias. He presented her with a valuable porcelain miniature that he brought from Europe.

Constance Bennett

"Hank" was a radio for his car. The pair are giving a big party Saturday night for the Baron Jaunez, their house guest, who is returning shortly to Paris. Many of Hollywood's elite will be attending. Meanwhile La Bennett is reading a half dozen stories submitted to her by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. She wants to get her picture done, so she can go to New York after the first of the year for the premiere of "Moulin Rouge." By that time, the Marquis' ball idol, "Lelong," also will be ready for release.

Hollywood's grapevine is buzzing with conjecture. Is the sudden cooling of interest between Sally Blane and Rus Columbo due to the arrival here of Dorothy Dell, "Miss Universe" of 1930, who was engaged to the crooner back east? Miss Dell comes here to make pictures for Paramount. In case you've forgotten, she was a Zigfield Follies hit singing the crazy tune of a few seasons ago: "Was I Drunk, Was He Handsome and Did My Ma Give Me H—."

The reason back of Pat de Cicco's fast trip to Sacramento was to offer Max Baer the lead in RKO's forthcoming "You Won't Sing, Eh?" He carried with him a copy of the script, for the cocky heavyweight's manager, Ancil Hoffman, won't let Max make another movie unless he okays the story.

Report has it that the tall fighter was offered the staggering sum of $3500 a week for a 40 week contract with M-G-M. And that he can get as much as $5000 a week for the one picture at RKO.

Close friends of the couple insist that Douglas Fairbanks will be coming back to Hollywood before long but that he and Mary Pickford will maintain separate establishments. Also that Mary will retain Pickfair for her home.

If you can believe Charlie Ruggles, a little nurse in a Hollywood hospital gave the squeal elegant to one of the gay blades of the film colony.

A bit woozy from ether, the actor addressed the nurse as "darling." She gave him a level look, replied: "Nurse to you."

QUICK GLIMPSES:

The scavenger party, introduced by Elsa Maxwell to New York socialites, appears to have hit Hollywood again. At least, the night watchman at Sardis reports that an expensive limousine drew up at 4 a. m. A young man in evening dress jumped out, grabbed up the $300 mat in front of the restaurant, shouted "I've got it," jumped back into the car and drove rapidly away. Police so far have failed to discover the culprit.

Just one step this side of illness for many weeks, Claudette Colbert finally has had to take to her bed, thus holding up the Columbia production of "Night Bus." . . . Ned Sparks is another of the film colony to join the sick list. He's entered a sanitarium near San Bernardino for a brief rest cure. . . . You'd never recognize Patsy Ruth Miller, she's gone so continental. Pat, Irwin Gelsky and Joseph Mankiewicz made it a three-some at the Clover Club the other evening. . . . Al Green, who goes easily to be best man at Mervyn Leroy's wedding, gave Merv his first job in pictures. . . . Marian Marsh has finished her Universal picture and is heading for England to act for British International. . . . And the recently divorced Gordon Westcott took a different girl to breakfast, luncheon and dinner at Sardis the other day.

Did you know—

That Dorothea Wieck used to wear a blonde wig in pictures and was known as the Mary Pickford of Europe?

ation in spite of a two-hour conference with Henry Morgenthau, Jr., acting secretary of the treasury. The two motored over the red clay roads of southern Georgia to survey without interruption the entire financial picture. Mr. Roosevelt was at the wheel of his little touring car and Morgenthau in the seat beside him.

When it was all over, Morgenthau said: "We talked over treasury department affairs. Anything more will have to come from the President."

During the day, Mr. Roosevelt was expected to sign the 25 codes of fair competition which were brought here by Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson. In the group was the important code for the motion picture industry.

The code for the hotel industry became effective today, but owners will be given a 10-day grace period on unavoidable violations.

Mr. Roosevelt planned a comparatively quiet week here, in sharp contrast to his first seven days. Morgenthau returned to Washington and John J. Raskob, former Democratic national chairman also headed north.

"The citizens living in dry territory have no legal way of preventing the sale of liquor in their community. The liquor dealers have all the option; the people have none. For every one hundred dollars of tax, the state gives the liquor industry the right to transfer two thousand one hundred dollars from the legitimate channels of trade available. Likewise many homes are robbed of the necessities of life, that the tills of liquor dealers may be full.

"The taxes received from the traffic are small, and the taxpayers are called upon to pay increased taxes to take care of the results of the use of liquor."

Suggestions To Water Consumers

METERS

Water Meters are furnished by the Water Department but the consumer is required to keep the surroundings of the meter clean, dry and of easy access and protect the same from freezing. All damage done the meter by freezing or by hot water poured on or forced back through the meter is charged to the consumer.

PROTECT YOUR METER TODAY.

Frozen Pipes and Meters

If pipes are frozen they may be thawed in some cases by wrapping cloths around them and pouring hot water on. If there is a bad case of frozen pipes or if a house is to be closed for the winter it is best to secure the services of a competent plumber.

Do not pour hot water on the meter. Do not build a fire on the meter as it will ruin the rubber piston and celluloid register. In case of a frozen meter call this department before the same thaws out and causes a damage to your property and a waste of water.

Sill Cocks for Sprinkling

Sill cocks or house faucets on the side of the house should be shut off in the basement before freezing weather and when this is done, the faucet should be opened so as to admit air, which will cause the water to run out at the stop and waste in the basement. This procedure should be followed when it is desired to drain the house pipes. Air must be admitted at the top to force the water out below.

WATER CLOSETS AND FAUCETS

Water closets and faucets should be examined frequently in order to keep the consumption of water on a normal basis. After a closet has been flushed and the tank is filled, there should be no movement of the water in the bowl; if there is, water is wasting into the sewer. By holding a piece of paper or cardboard against the rear portion of the bowl, a flow may be detected which an ordinary examination would not disclose.

STOP ALL LEAKS PROMPTLY as "a waste of water is a waste of money."

HOW TO SHUT OFF WATER

The "shut off" known as the stop and waste, where the pipes enter the basement or building is your immediate protection in the event of a burst pipe or meter and also for the purpose of shutting off and draining the house pipes where and when there is danger of freezing; it should be easy of access and in good condition. In some basements it is covered with coal or it is in such bad condition that it cannot be turned.

The man of the house should see that the stop and waste is in good order and that the folks at home know how to operate it. To shut off turn handle so that it is at right angle with the pipe, one-quarter turn or if a wheel valve turn to right until completely closed.

ALL SERVICE MUST HAVE A PRIVATE SHUT OFF INSTALLED AND IN WORKING ORDER.

Tests of city water are furnished the State Board of Health and their analysis and report is on file in the office of the City Clerk for your inspection.
