Deny Wallace Wade Will Coach Indiana

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 29.—(UP)—Reports that Wallace Wade, coach at Duke University, would be appointed head football mentor at Indiana University met with vigorous denials today.

It has been rumored about the campus that he would succeed E. C. (Billy) Hayes.

Prof. W. J. Moenkhaus, chairman of the Indiana University Athletic board, said he had nothing of such reports.

He indicated that no changes are planned. Dean C. J. Sembover, a member of the board, said that no meetings have been called to discuss the athletic department personnel.

Held For Asking Money From King Of England

London, Nov. 29.—(UP)—Clarence Guy Bordon Haddon, 43, a consulting engineer, was arraigned at Bow street police court today, on a charge of demanding money from King George. He pleaded in defense that he was an illegitimate son of King George's dead brother, the Duke of Clarence.

Haddon was remanded until December 4. Bail was refused. The specific charge against him was "demanding money with menaces without reasonable or probable cause."

NEW HAVEN IS FIFTH VICTIM OF BERNE FIVE

Bears Defeat New Haven In Well Played Game Tuesday, 28 to 26

Chalking up their fifth victory without a setback, the Berne Bears defeated the New Haven Bull Dogs Tuesday night at Berne, 28 to 26. It was a well played game, keeping the large crowd in an uproar from start to finish.

Berne started fast and at the end of the first quarter the Bears held an 11-5 margin. New Haven rallied in the second period, however, and at the intermission had cut Berne's lead to a scant point at 14-13.

Berne pulled away slightly in the third quarter, holding a four-point margin, 24-20 at the end of the period. The Bull Dogs fought back in the final quarter, finally knocking the score at 26-26. Stauffer, Berne's center, then came through with a field goal which New Haven was unable to match in the closing seconds of play.

Dro and Stauffer were the scoring leaders for the victors with four field goals. They were closely followed by Steiner, who accounted for seven points with three field goals and a foul toss.

Johnson, New Haven's pivot man, was easily the outstanding star of the contest. Johnson kept his team in the running all the way, not only by his sensational shooting ability but also by his alertness on defense. He was high point man of the game with five field goals, most of them on one-handed shots scored under close guarding.

Despite the fast pace set by both teams, neither quintet made a substitution.

In the preliminary game, the New Haven reserves nosed out the Berne seconds, 30 to 29.

The Decatur Commodores will play their first of two games scheduled for the week tonight. The Kirkland Kangaroos will furnish the opposition on the local floor.

Kirkland has won four games and lost one this season. The only team to defeat the Kangaroos was Rockcreek of Wells county. Kirkland has defeated Geneva twice, Hartford township and Woodburn.

Friday night the Commodores will entertain Cash Keller and his St. Mary's of Huntington quintet on the local floor. Huntington has not been defeated this season and will play Roanoke tonight.

The Yellow Jackets engage in only one game this week, traveling to Winamac Friday night. While the Yellow Jackets have not looked very good in the two defeats suffered so far this season, enough experienced men are members of the squad that local fans feel the Yellow Jackets are bound to come through for Coach Curtis before the season grows much older.

The Berne Bears and New Haven Bull Dogs put on a real scrap last night at Berne, with the Bears nosing out a 28-26 victory.

The writer witnessed the scrap, which was well worth the ten-mile trip. The Bears hold promise of developing into the best quintet Berne has put on the floor since the sectional winners of several years ago.

No doubt about it, this Johnson had playing center for Paul White's Bull Dogs, was the outstanding star of last night's ball game. New Haven's pivot man kept the Bull Dogs in the game practically all by himself.

Those sensational one-handed shots, made with his left hand, were the most soul-stirring we have seen since this Emshwiler lad over at Bluffton beat Decatur in the regional final two years ago with a series of those 'hot' one-handers. Yellow Jackets fans have good reason to remember those shots.

Last night's game brought a bevy of scouts from nearby towns. Among those we saw were George Laurent of the Commodores; Bill

Barrett of Central Catholic of Fort Wayne; Cash Keller of St. Mary's of Huntington; Olen Marsh of the Jefferson Warriors. Probably plenty of others there, but we failed to see them.

Coach Marsh told us a new one last night. Marsh's Jefferson Warriors meet the Monroeville Cubs tonight at Monroeville. Marsh told us that the Monroeville coach, before scheduling tonight's game, demanded a promise from Coach Marsh that he would not employ a zone defense. Is that a new one or is it?

Other games tonight are Jefferson at Monroeville and Geneva vs. Pennville at the Hartford gym. Friday night will find the Commodores opposing St. Mary's of Huntington here; Yellow Jackets at Winamac; and Geneva vs. Pleasant Mills at Hartford. Saturday night the Monmouth varsity will play the Yellow Jacket seconds at Monmouth.

Central Grade Team At Monroeville Today

The eighth grade basketball team of the Central school left for Monroeville immediately after school today to play the Monroeville eighth grade team.
