

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS, BUSINESS CARDS, AND NOTICES

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Two radios, Philco and Crosley electric. M. L. For, Pleasant Mills. 26-3tx

FOR SALE — Young turkey tom, good one, John Bailey, Decatur route 8. 27-3tx

FOR SALE — Just received large shipment Kalamazoo Ranges to be sold at factory prices; 1 year to pay. Sprague Furniture Co., phone 199. 28-2

FOR SALE — Sanitary self cleaning rabbit hutches, can be used for little chick batteries. Call Dyonis Schmitt, Phone 79. 27-3t

FOR SALE — Air compressor with tank. Fred Foster, Monroe, Phone 75. 26-3t

WANTED

WANTED TO BUY — Little Red Clover seed and Scarified Sweet clover seed. Inquire at 1044 Russell St. 26-3tx

LOST AND FOUND

LOST — Bracelet with pearl setting on top — either in Cort Theater or on Second Street. Phone 420-Berne. 27-3tx

A REAL HAIR CUT 15c. You need our prices. We need your patronage. Come in and see us. W. A. Fopner, 415 N. 7th st., Decatur. 26-3tx

COURT HOUSE

New Case
Katie Batrell vs. Clinton Bell and Muriel Bell, ejectment, Myers and Lutz, attorneys.
Marriage License
Herman Thornburg, Randolph county, farmer to Hazel Warren, Decatur, Route 1

Cow Nets 99 Cents

Ridgefield, Wash. — (U.P.) — Joy Pyko, Ridgefield rancher, shipped a nine-year-old Jersey cow to Portland stockyards and received a check for 99 cents after deducting expenses connected with the transaction. The 810-pound cow brought $4.05. Cartage cost $2 and yardage $1.06, leaving Pyko 99 cents.

Urges New Wine District

Jefferson, O. — (U.P.) — A movement to establish a growers' cooperative winery in Ashtabula county may result in rapid revival of the grape industry which once thrived in northeastern Ohio and northwestern Pennsylvania. Growers are seeking federal financing.

Three Rob Constable

Andover, Mass. — (U.P.) — Constable John H. Fenton, motoring along a dark road, spied two men carrying a third. Stopping his car to inquire if he could be of assistance, the constable was startled to see the "victim" spring suddenly to life and, with his two companions and the aid of a gun, relieve the officer of $60.

Penny Dance, Saturday night, 9 o'clock, above the Green Kettle. 28-2

LOANS

IF YOU NEED MONEY, we can accommodate you quickly and confidentially. Convenient repayment terms.

FRANKLIN SECURITY CO.
Over Schafer Bldg. Co.
Phone 237 Decatur, Ind.

Roy S. Johnson

Auctioneer

Now booking winter and spring sale dates. My dates are filling fast, claim your date early.

Feb. 6 — Aaron Oyer, near Elmhurst school, west of Waynedale. Closing out sale.

Feb. 7 — Roy Gibson, 4 1/2 miles south and 3 miles west of Decatur. Closing out sale.

Feb. 8 — Mrs. Oren P. Lare, 2 miles south of Monroeville. Closing out sale.

Feb. 10 — Decatur Horse sale and Community sale. Sale barn, Decatur, Ind.

Feb. 14 — L. E. McBride, 1 mile south, 1/2 mile west of Magley. Closing out sale.

Feb. 20 — Louis Keltner, 2 1/2 miles east of Cavett, Ohio. Closing out sale.

March 1 — Monroeville Chester White Breeders sale of bred sows, on the Bert Marquardt farm, 4 miles north of Monroeville, on the Lincoln Highway.

Office in Peoples Loan & Trust Bldg.
Telephone 125

MARKET REPORTS

DAILY REPORT OF LOCAL AND FOREIGN MARKETS

BERNE MARKET

Corrected Feb. 1
No commission and no yardage
Veals received Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

160 to 210 lbs.	$3.70
210 to 250 lbs.	$3.55
250 to 300 lbs.	$3.45
300 to 350 lbs.	$3.30
140 to 150 lbs.	$3.20
140 to 160 lbs.	$2.25
Roughs	$1.50
Stags	$7.25
Vealers	$7.25
Lambs	$8.50

Decatur Produce Company

Egg Market

No. 1 dozen	18c
No. 2 dozen	14c
No. 3 dozen	10c

Fort Wayne Livestock

Hogs 5c higher; 160-200 lbs.	$3.80; 200-250 lbs. $3.70; 250-300 lbs. $3.60; 300-350 lbs. $3.45; 150-160 lbs. $3.40; 140-150 lbs. $3.15; 130-140 lbs. $2.95; 100-130 lbs. $2.45; roughs $2.75; stags $1.75.
Calves 7c; western lambs 9c; native lambs $8.50.

East Buffalo Livestock

Hog receipts 500, holdovers 125, active, steady with Wednesday's average, bulk desirable 150-210 lb $4.50; 220-250 lbs. $4.10-4.25; weights below 150 lbs. $2.75-4.10; most 110-140 lb. selections $3.50-4.

Cattle receipts 50, cows steady to strong, cutter grades $1.75-2.55. Calf receipts 50, Wednesday's late advance eased. Good to choice vealers mostly $7.50; common and medium $4.50-6.

Sheep receipts 50, lambs steady, quality and sorts considered, mixed offerings $9, good to choice woolskins quoted $9.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN CLOSE

Wheat	May	July	Sept.
.....	91 1/2	90 1/2	91 1/2
Corn	52 1/2	54 1/2	55 1/2
Oats	37 1/2	37 1/2	36 1/2

LOCAL GRAIN MARKET

Corrected Feb. 1

N. 1 New Wheat, 60 lbs or better	$2c
No. 2 New Wheat 58 lbs.	$1c
Old Oats	32c
New Oats	30c
First Class Yellow Corn	58c
Mixed corn 5c less	50c-60c
Soy Beans	50c-60c

Newsboys Gets Damages

Cincinnati, (U.P.) — Edward Tessel, newsboy, was awarded a verdict of $42,500 jointly against the city and the Cincinnati Street Railway Company for injuries which crippled him permanently when a street car and a police patrol collided at a downtown corner July 20, 1932.

One Candle For Century

St. Louis, (U.P.) — Three candles — one a big one — adorned the birthday cake of Mrs. Malinda French, who celebrated her 102nd birthday recently. The one big candle, she explained, was to mark the century and the smaller ones for the two other years. Mrs. French came here in 1836.

Notorious Coyote Killed

San Antonio, Tex. — (U.P.) — Black Wolf, notorious outlaw coyote who for three years raided farmers' chicken houses, met his Waterloo here recently when he was cornered by a pack of 12 hounds. After fighting fiercely for 10 minutes, he was killed.

SHERIFF'S SALE

In the Adams County Court, State of Indiana, Cause Number 14784, Abraham B. Biberstein vs. Sarah X. Moser, John X. Moser. By virtue of an order of sale to me directed and delivered from the Clerk of the Adams County Court, in the above entitled cause, I have levied upon and will expose to sale by Public Auction at the Court House door, east entrance, first floor, in said county, between the hours of 10:00 A. M. and 4:00 o'clock P. M. on Saturday, the 17th day of February A. D. 1934, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years the following described real estate to-wit:

The West-half of the East half of the Southwest quarter of Section one (1) in Township twenty-five (25) North of Range thirteen (13) East, containing forty (40) acres more or less, in Adams County, state of Indiana.

And on failure to realize therefrom the full amount of the judgment and interest thereon and costs, I will at the same time and in the manner aforesaid offer for sale the fee simple of the above described real estate.

Taken as the property of Sarah X. Moser, John X. Moser, at the suit of Abraham B. Biberstein. Said sale will be made without any relief whatever from valuation or appraisal laws.

N. A. BIXLER

OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted
HOURS:
8:30 to 11:30 12:30 to 5:00
Saturdays, 8:00 p. m.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Accurate and fair production claims by growers when they fill out contract forms in the corn and hog adjustment program will speed up the work of clearing contracts and make possible earlier payment of adjustment checks, according to Dr. A. G. Black, chief of the corn-hog section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Individual production statements must first be checked and certified by community and county committees of the production control association before they can be cleared for acceptance by the Secretary of Agriculture. If the claims seem inaccurate or excessive, the local committees must make adjustments and corrections. This work would necessarily delay the completion of the individual contracts.

The total production claims of farmers in a county who take part in the program, together with the estimated production on the farms which are not brought into the adjustment plan, must be in line with the official figures of the Department of Agriculture for total production of corn and hogs in the county. If these total claims of past production are not in harmony with the official county figures, further steps to adjust the contract statements must be undertaken. Delays of this kind in order to make needed corrections would necessarily postpone the date when payment checks could be sent to the corn and hog growers of the county. To prevent delay as far as possible and facilitate the making of payments, officials of the Adjustment Administration have urged farmers to be careful and accurate in filling out their contract forms. Evidence to support production statements, such as sales records and receipts, will be valuable in helping to establish claims.

Production records which must be certified in the contracts will include the average acreage in corn on the farm during 1932 and 1933 (the base period), the past crop yields of the corn acres to be retired from production under the contract and the average number of litters owned by the contracting party or parties when farrowed and average number of hogs marketed from these litters during 1932 and 1933. Hog and corn reduction totals and the adjustment payments will be based on these production figures.

"I TAKE THIS WOMAN"

By Allene Corliss

COPYRIGHT BY ALLENE CORLISS • DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

After three years' travel in Europe, where she had gone following her father's death, young and beautiful Stanley Paige became bored and returned to New York to find the "something sort of sweet and important" which she felt she was missing. Stanley finds Perry Deverest, handsome young lawyer, still as much in love with her as ever, but her own heart is untouched. She longs for someone to love—someone to really belong to. Then she meets the fascinating Drew Armitage. It is love at sight. Drew's most recent heart had been sophisticated Dennis St. John. In breaking with her, he said: "You know, Dennis, you're a lot like me—you know when a thing is ended and you accept it—gracefully." Marcia Wingate invites Stanley and Drew to a dinner party.

CHAPTER SEVEN

Marcia's dinners were always pleasant affairs. She liked to entertain and did it graciously and incessantly. Tonight she sat at the foot of her long Italian table and admired the high candles in their Renaissance candlesticks, admired the yellow roses that spilled carelessly over onto fine damask, admired her husband who sat eating his fish at the opposite end of the table.

Ned was good-looking, he was a little brilliant, he was entirely successful. Marcia was glad she had married him. They agreed on all the little things in life and ignored the bigger ones. It made their relationship pleasant and uncomplicated. Ned was doing exceedingly well in the dignified profession of the law. Tonight Marcia looked at him down the length of her table and wondered how it would seem to be the wife of a Justice of the Supreme Court. She hoped he wouldn't get fat.

Conversation was always rapid and even a bit sparkling at Marcia's parties. Not being particularly clever herself, she was wise enough to surround herself with people who were—as a consequence, she basked in a sort of reflected glory. People always spoke of "Marcia's clever parties." One naturally inferred that Marcia, herself, was clever. There were a few who knew she wasn't. Nigel Stern, for instance, and Marcia herself. Her husband had never even suspected it. Which proves, perhaps, that Marcia wasn't so stupid after all.

By the time they had passed from fish to entree, Marcia had decided satisfactorily in her own mind exactly how much Angela Rand had paid for her Vinnet gown, whether Beth Crampton really couldn't have children or just didn't want them, whether or not Nigel Stern was having an affair with Sandra Frayne. Perhaps that was why Marcia missed so many opportunities to say clever things—she never really put her mind on any conversation—it was always wandering off by itself, quite oblivious to what her lips were saying.

Tonight, having disposed of these questions satisfactorily, she turned her attention to Stanley and Drew Armitage. She had known Stanley for years—intimately, she would have said and not been quite sure about it. She rather thought that no one had ever known Stanley Paige intimately. Even as a school-girl there had been a certain aloofness about her, a shy withdrawal from intimacies. Marcia decided the girl had been too much alone—first in a big house with only servants for companions, later at schools where she had never really lost her shyness, then those years abroad with that impossible person, her aunt. There had been that one winter in New York, of course. Stanley had been very gay that winter—very happy. Marcia thought it a pity she had not married Perry Deverest then and escaped those years in Europe. And now she was back again and anyone could see for the looking that she was hopelessly in love with Drew Armitage. And the humorous part of it was that everyone had been so sure she had come back to marry Perry. And now Perry had gone off north on a fishing trip and Stanley was seen everywhere with Drew. Well, things happened that way, Marcia supposed, and sighed and looked at Ned at the other end of the table, beyond the glow of the candles and the spilled gold of the roses, and was glad she had married him and hoped again that he wouldn't get fat.

"He's certainly gone to pieces this spring. Still handling your affairs, Stanley?"

An hour later Ned Wingate, being dummy at the same time that Stanley happened to lay down her hand at the next table, strolled over to her and suggested that they go outside for a cigarette. They went out through French doors onto a narrow balcony.

He held a lighter to her cigarette, sat down beside her on the slender iron railing. There were boxes of petunias on the balcony—they moved softly in a gentle breeze.

"Seen anything of Charles Carleton lately?" he asked, referring to the man who was legally responsible for Stanley's inheritance. "Not for a week or so—he had dinner with me when I first came back. I thought he looked sort of shot." Through the half-opened doors Stanley could see Drew's dark head bent over his cards—as usual the heart-twisting line of his profile clutched at her heart, left her sweetly shaken.

"That's what I thought—saw him at the club this afternoon. He's certainly gone to pieces this spring. Still handling your affairs, Stanley?"

"Oh, yes—" She brought her eyes back to Ned, smiled at him absently.

"Full power of attorney, I suppose?"

"I suppose so—I really don't know much about it. I'm like father, Ned, I hate business. I don't understand it—he didn't either, you know. Charles Carleton always managed everything for him, they were very close friends."

"Yes," Ned nodded slowly. "I've heard my dad tell about them. Well, I was rather shocked to see the old boy looking so ragged. You don't happen to know what your money's invested in, do you, Stan?"

"Oh, the usual thing, I suppose—whatever money is invested in on Wall Street," she shrugged lightly. "It's never interested me much."

"No," replied Ned, equally careless, "I suppose not. Everything's probably all right, anyhow, but when I saw Carleton looking so sort of shot—I rather wondered. They say he's playing the market pretty hard, Stan."

Stanley tossed her cigarette into the darkness; she wondered if Drew had missed her. If he would look up from his table and smile at her when she went back in. If she only imagined it, or if he did have a different expression in his eyes, which was just for her. "I thought men who had offices on Wall Street always played the market hard," she told Ned lightly. "Anyhow, he's made a lot of money for me—I can afford to lose some."

"You probably won't. Carleton's pretty shrewd. He's been in the game a long time."

"Hey, you two out there," called Johnnie Crampton, "are you playing bridge—or aren't you?" They went in. Drew did look at her and Stanley felt suddenly warm and breathless. She slipped into her chair and failed to raise Nigel's head. They made three extra tricks. Stanley hoped Nigel didn't mind too much; Nigel assured her he didn't.

(To Be Continued)

Copyright, 1932, by Allene Corliss

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

be certified in the contracts will include the average acreage in corn on the farm during 1932 and 1933 (the base period), the past crop yields of the corn acres to be retired from production under the contract and the average number of litters owned by the contracting party or parties when farrowed and average number of hogs marketed from these litters during 1932 and 1933. Hog and corn reduction totals and the adjustment payments will be based on these production figures.

Test Your Knowledge

Can you answer seven of these test Questions? Turn to page Four for the answers.

1. In what country is there a district known as the Dobruja?
2. Where is Colgate University?
3. Name the capital of Wisconsin.
4. In what country is the state of Colima?
5. Who was the first Christian martyr?
6. What is the name of the medieval poets, who were wandering singers of war and love?
7. What sort of animal was the dodo, that is now extinct?
8. Where in the bible is the death of Eve recorded?
9. Name the fourth President of the United States.
10. Who said, "Trust in God and keep your powder dry?"

CHURCH REVIVALS

Evangelistic services tonight at 7:30, rousing song and testimony service. Rev. Barker is still absent and Rev. Edgar Johnston will bring the message.

So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. Jonah 3:5.

The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it because the repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, a greater than Jonah is here. Matthew 12:41.

Concealed His Bootlegging
Cleveland, (U.P.) — Because he had neglected to reveal that he had been arrested three times for bootlegging when he tried to win his citizenship papers, Giuseppe Florio, 37, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse, in Federal court.

Turks Study Science
Istanbul, (U.P.) — Science is the most popular subject with Turkish students. Out of a total enrollment of 3,154 at the new university in Istanbul, 1,147 are studying science, 1,133 choose law, 887 decided upon literature, and only 374 hope to become qualified physicians.

Profits to Children

Cleveland, (U.P.) — Because Thomas Costa knows from experience how it feels for a child to be pinched financially, one day's profits from his two flower stands are turned over once a month to help Cleveland boys and girls. The plan has just begun its third year of operation.

Men Replace Women

Istanbul, (U.P.) — Women typists in Turkish government offices are to be replaced by males as soon as the latter can qualify. The decision is due to the shortage of employment for educated men. More than 300 women in the capital will be affected by the order.

Jim Booz Throws Party

Lincoln, Kan. — (U.P.) — For anyone to throw a booze party in Kansas is illegal, but Jim Booz can throw one anytime he pleases. Jim Booz is the sheriff here and the liquor he "threw" was into an old well after he had confiscated the beverage. The well has no pump.

Travel Increasing

Cheyenne, Wyo. — (U.P.) — Volume of railroad passenger business over the Union Pacific, Burlington, and Colorado and Southern Railroads through Cheyenne is estimated by ticket agents here as about 40 per cent above a year ago. United Air Line planes also have been running with capacity loads.

SIR CUPID INVITES!

Valentine Day is just around the corner. Are you having a Valentine Party? Suggestions for invitations, decorations, games and refreshments are all in our Washington Bureau's bulletin, VALENTINE PARTIES. If you are planning a party, send for this bulletin and use these suggestions. Fill out the coupon below:

CLIP COUPON HERE

Dept. 271, Washington Bureau, DECATUR DAILY DEMOCRAT, 1322 New York Avenue, Washington, D. C.

I want a copy of the bulletin VALENTINE PARTIES, and enclose herewith five cents in coin (carefully wrapped), to cover postage and handling costs.

NAME _____

STREET & No. _____ STATE _____

CITY _____

I am a reader of the Decatur Daily Democrat, Decatur, Ind.

Mule Breeders Study
Columbia, Mo. — (U.P.) — This state, home of the Missouri mule, will try to supply its share of horses and mules. The second annual short course for horse and mule breeders, under supervision of Dean F. B. Mumford, of the college of agriculture, opens at the University of Missouri on Feb. 1.

Raises White Raccoons
North Freedom, Wis. — (U.P.) — A strain of freak white raccoons has been developed on the farm of Ernest F. Stabnow, near here. He began raising them several years ago, when he trapped one and later secured a white mate for it. Usually not more than one white raccoon appears in a litter of normally colored young, but the strain has persisted under Stabnow's careful breeding.

Steals a Telephone
Seattle, (U.P.) — The person who stole a pay telephone from the counter of a drug store here was a white elephant on his last legs, as well as a financial disappointment. The phone was waiting to be installed and had not been in service.

Gastronomic Feast

Glassboro, Pa. — (U.P.) — A glass, 54, ate five dozen eggs and drank a quart of whisky in fifteen minutes, to win a bet. The loser paid for the eggs and whisky. The witnesses signed an affidavit attesting the feat.

Manxman 103 Years Old

Perry, O. — (U.P.) — A straggled muscle was the only ill effect of fall suffered by Orrin Quigley, 103-year-old resident here, believed to be the oldest living Manxman. Injury was sustained when the centenarian slipped on the floor of his daughter's home, twisting a leg.

Get the Habit — Trade at Home under him.

Report of the Condition of The Provident Building & Loan Association of Decatur, Adams County, Indiana,
at the close of business on December 31, 1933.

Resources	Liabilities
Cash on hand and due from banks	Book Value of Installment Shares
Mortgage Loans	Book Value of Paid Up Shares
Stock or Pass Book Loans	Borrowed Money (Bank)
Furniture and Fixtures	Contingent Fund
Total	Undivided Profits

State of Indiana, County of Adams, ss: We, the undersigned officers and directors of the Provident Building & Loan Association, of Decatur, Indiana, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true.

HENRY B. HELLER, President, as acting secretary.
Dan M. Niblick, Director
Fred T. Schurger, Director
Subscribed to and sworn before me this 31 day of January, 1934.
(Seal) Rose M. Schurger, Notary Public.
My Commission Expires Jan. 11, 1938.

Public Auction

I will sell at public auction at my residence, 4 1/2 miles south and 2 miles west of Decatur, commencing at 10 a. m., on

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1934

4-HEAD OF HORSES—4 Black Mare, 4 years old, weight 1450, in foal, sound; Bay Mare 10 years old, weight 1550, in foal; Bay Mare Colt, coming 2 years old will make a good big mare; Bay Horse Colt, just weaned.

7-HEAD OF CATTLE—7 Red cow, 3 years old, fresh by day of sale; Black cow, 3 years old giving good flow; Jersey cow, 6 years old, will freshen Feb. 20; Guernsey cow, 5 years old, will freshen April 1; Red cow, 3 years old, will freshen April 15; Jersey cow, 9 years old, will be fresh day of sale; Jersey cow, 12 years old, giving good flow, be fresh May 11.

20-HEAD OF HOGS—20 Two Spotted Glits, farrow in March; one Chester White Boar yearling; 17 Feeding Hogs, weigh from 40 to 100 lbs.