SENATORS AND CARDS PICKED

St. Louis And Washington Picked To Win League Pennants

New York, Apr. 13.—(UPI)—The going will clang next week for the hottest free-for-alls in major league history. Most clubs in both the National and American circuits are more evenly matched than in years.

Anything can happen—and probably will, after an off-season of momentous transition featured by wholesale player shifts, restoration of weak-sister clubs, weakening of former powers, managerial changes, injection of minor league blood and adoption of the uniform "live" ball.

However, a thorough analysis of all the evidence at hand (using chronology, physiology, psychology and astrology) indicates that the 16 clubs should finish the season as follows:

St. Louis	1	Washington
Pittsburgh	2	Detroit
Chicago	3	New York
New York	4	Boston
Boston	5	Cleveland
Brooklyn	6	Philadelphia
Cincinnati	7	Chicago
Philadelphia	8	St. Louis

The usually thrilling National league brawl should be more heart-lashing than ever because of the vast uncertainty surrounding the world champion New York Giants and the apparent power of the Cards, Pirates, Cubs and Braves.

The American circuit competition, which recently was a three-cornered affair, has developed into a similar five-club fight. The pennant-winning Washington Senators may be hard-pressed by the Tigers, Yankees, Red Sox and Indians. Even the apparently wrecked Athletics may surprise if wily Connie Mack has anything up his sleeve.

In the National league, the Cardinals were picked to win because of their all-round class and even balance. Also because of confidence in player-manager Frankie Frisch, starting his first full season at the helm. The Pirates are figure second because they have a weakness at second base and only fair pitching, despite superior power at bat.

Acquisition of Chuck Klein and come-back Kiki Cuyler, Pat Malone and Babe Herman should enable the Cubs to retain third niche, relegating the Giants to fourth because of their lack of punch, too great dependence on four pitchers and uncertainty regarding Catcher Gus Mancuso.

Purdue Wins

Lafayette, Ind., April 13.—(UPI)—Purdue opened its baseball season with a 2-to-1 victory over DePauw here yesterday.

A singlet by Lang in the last half of the ninth inning with Giannini on third base gave the Boilermakers their winning run.

At the Training Camps

By United Press

Chicago, April 13.—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs' lineup for the opening game at Cincinnati Tuesday was announced today by Manager Charlie Grimm as follows:

English, 3b; W. Herman, 2b; Cuyler, cf; Klein, lf; F. Herman, rf; Grimm, 1b; Jorges, ss; Hartnett, c; Warneke, p.

Grimm plans to start Warneke, Bush and Root in the order in the three games against the Reds.

Richmond, Va., April 13.—(UP)—Sammy Byrd, Yankee reserve outfielder, will be out of the game for several days. He sprained his ankle in pre-game practice at Charlotte yesterday. This leaves the Yanks without four able outfielders as Dixie Walker was sent to New York Wednesday with a lame arm.

Washington, April 13.—(UP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the Dodgers may use Mil Leonard, Rookie right-hander, as a starting pitcher this season if Ray Benge is not in top shape. Leonard has displayed ability and excellent control in training. The Dodgers are slated for another game with the Senators today.

Louisville, Ky., April 13.—(UP)—Hughie Critz, veteran second baseman of the Giants who has been having an infected ankle treated at Memphis, is expected to rejoin the club here today. When he enters the line-up, Bill Terry expects to change the champions' batting order.

St. Louis, April 13.—(UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals opened up a 22 hit attack against four Brownie pitchers here yesterday to gain their second victory in the city series against the American Leaguers. The score was 22-3.

Newsom, Wells, Andrews and Baecht were the victims of the Cardinal bats while Dizzy Dean and Jesse Haines were holding the Browns to 13 safe blows.
