Also part of the south west quarter of section ten (10) township twenty seven (27) north range fifteen (15) east containing 5.38 acres of land.

All in Adams county Indiana, At the late residence of John W. Brodbeck deceased six miles south east of Decatur, Indiana. Said sale to commence at 2 o'clock A. M. of Thursday May 10, 1934.

Terms of sale are as follows, to-wit:

One third cash, one third in six months, one third in nine months. Deferred payments to draw 6 per cent interest until day of sale secured by mortgage on said real estate sold the purchaser may pay all cash if desired by him.

Clarence W. Brodbeck, administrator.

Judson W. Teeple, attorney.

Appointment of Administrator

Notice is hereby given, That Monday, May 7, 1934 will be the last day to pay my Spring installment of taxes. The county treasurer's office will be open from 8 A. M. to 4 P. M. during the tax paying season. All taxes not paid by that time will become delinquent and a 3% penalty will be added plus interest at the rate of 8% from date of delinquency.

Taxes who have bought or sold property and wish a division of taxes are asked to come in at once.

Call on the Auditor for errors and any regulations. The Treasurer can make no corrections.

The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty of delinquent taxes resulting from the omission of taxpayers to state definitely on what property they desire to pay, in whose name it may be found, in what township or corporation it is situated.

Persons owing delinquent taxes should pay them at once, the law is such that there is no option left for the Treasurer but enforce the collection of delinquent taxes. County orders will not be paid to anyone owing delinquent taxes. All persons are warned against them.

Particular attention: If you pay taxes in more than one township mention the fact to the Treasurer also see that your receipts call for all your real estate and personal property.

In making inquiries of the Treasurer regarding taxes to insure reply do not fail to include return postage.

JOHN WIECHTER
Treasurer Adams County Indiana.

PRESIDENT TO MEET LEADERS

McClure bill which would guarantee payment by the government to persons having deposits in closed banks. It was understood he felt that passage would open the door to federal payments to insolvents in other lines.

He also was ready for close study of the silver question, a burning one insofar as western representatives and senators are concerned. Financial circles are confident that the omnibus bill reported out by the senate agriculture committee Tuesday will not pass.

A measure on which major attention is certain to be centered in the White House discussions is stock market regulation. Mr. Roosevelt is desirous for market legislation at this session.

With this in mind he was expected to review amendments to the original measure which liberalize its salient features.

The new tax bill will be scanned in its entirety by the President.

It was expected that Mr. Roosevelt would stand pat on the legislative program he has presented and which is practically complete. It was not believed he will submit new major recommendations at this session.

THE LONE WOLF SON

by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

SYNOPSIS

Aboard the S.S. "Navarre," bound for New York, Michael Lanyard, reformed "Lone Wolf" and underworld celebrity, is reunited with his son whom he thought dead. The boy, "Maurice Parry," has followed in the "Lone Wolf's" footsteps, but Lanyard hopes his son's interest in Fennu Crozier, lovely daughter of the wealthy Mrs. Fay Crozier, will prove a good influence. Maurice steals Mrs. Crozier's Habsburg emeralds. Lanyard retrieves them for Fay. Detective Pion warns Lanyard to watch out for the vengeance of "Jack Knife" Anderson and "English Archie." Two gunmen whom Lanyard exposed for cheating Maurice at cards. Shortly afterwards, the gangsters steal Mrs. Crozier's emeralds and plant them in Lanyard's cabin. Maurice saves his father by substituting imitations and secretly placing the emeralds in the purser's care for Fay. Notwithstanding Lanyard's innocence, Detective Pion is suspicious of him. Later, when one of "Jack Knife's" accomplices tries to intimidate Lanyard into stealing the emeralds and splitting fifty-fifty with the gang, Maurice appears on the scene, masked. He knocks the gangster unconscious, planting a string of pearls stolen from the kid of yours win was something sinful. The session broke up about half an hour ago; Lanyard blew off to bed and so did His Royal Nibs—and pretty sore he was, too, being the big loser. Tess took your boy for a walk on deck—said the night was simply too divine for anybody to turn in so early.

"While later I accidentally passed behind them while they were holding the rail down in a dark stretch of the boat-deck. If the young one's left ear wasn't blistered, it's a miracle—her red head was so near it. I heard her say: 'You're too smart, big boy, to let him put that line of bologna over you. You know as well as I do, all this stuff about reformation is just elocution.' Then the wind got in my pipe and sparks caught her eyes, and she looked around and saw me. So I ambled on and minded my own business. All the same, she'd seen me. So I came on down to wise you before she could broadcast the tip-off. By tomorrow mornin' they'll be spottin' me every minute—or else I'm crazy. I won't feel safe in my pipe and sparks caught her eyes, and she looked around and saw me.
