

DECATUR DAILY DEMOCRAT

DECATUR DAILY DEMOCRAT

Published Every Evening Except Sunday by THE DECATUR DEMOCRAT CO.

Entered at the Decatur, Ind., Post Office as Second Class Matter.

J. H. Heller, Pres. and Gen. Mgr.
A. R. Holthouse, Sec'y & Bus. Mgr.
Dick D. Heller, Vice-President

Subscription Rates:
Single copies.....$.02
One week, by carrier.....10
One year, by carrier.....$5.00
One month, by mail.....35
Three months, by mail.....1.00
Six months, by mail.....1.75
One year, by mail.....3.00
One year, at office.....3.00
Prices quoted are within first and second zones. Elsewhere $3.50 one year.

Advertising Rates made known on Application.

National Adver. Representative
SCHEERER, Inc.
115 Lexington Avenue, New York
35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago.

Charter Member of The Indiana League of Home Dailies.

Next on the bill is the Primo Carnera and Maxie Baer fight.

England can't expect to have credit if it doesn't pay its old bills.

Rexford Tugwell will be confirmed as undersecretary of agriculture, the fight being made against him being a purely personal one with a few senators.

Among other things the Democrat platform calls for repeal of the primary law and the setting up of new machinery to bring about party nominations, getting away from the expensive election system.

The state excise department collected more than $125,000 in beer taxes during May, which is a sure sign that a few kegs of the amber fluid were guzzled during the hot weather.

Fields of corn and other crops are looking good and farmers are hoping for a good yield this fall. Everyone is hard at work and if the weather man favors us with a few showers prospects will not be bad.

The American Legion is planning for another enjoyable district conference of Legionnaires in this city on Sunday, June 24. Adams Post No. 43 will entertain the guests and the hand of hospitality will be extended to all who come.

Pat Manion's delegation from St. Joe county stayed with him to a man until after the fourth ballot was recorded and then the chairman moved that the vote be changed to Minton. It started the ball rolling and the New Albany candidate was nominated.

It was a tense moment when Earl Peters took the platform and moved that the nomination of Sherman Minton be made unanimous. The friends of the former state chairman admired his attitude, convinced that he knew the game, was a loyal Democrat and had those qualities which endeared him to thousands in the state.

It won't be long now until bids

Don't Miss This Picture
FREE

"YOUR UNEXPECTED GUEST"

Recipes for dainty, appetizing dishes from odds and ends. Presented through courtesy of LEONARD REFRIGERATOR COMPANY

WED., June 20
2-3.30, 8 o'clock

PRIZES AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

ONE DAY ONLY
COME AND BRING YOUR FRIENDS

AUGUST WALTERS
Plumbing and Heating.

are received for the building of the 48 houses on the Decatur Homestead site. The government is disposing of necessary details and local officials of the corporation have been assured that contractors soon will have the opportunity to submit proposals. It will mean much activity during the summer and fall months.

Governor McNutt gave a wonderful talk at the convention yesterday. He recited facts, clearly showed how the new tax program was reducing property taxes in Indiana, mentioned the outstanding measures in the reconstruction program and gave an excellent account of his stewardship. The convention was enthusiastic over the record. He is a master on the platform, knows the business of state and the purpose of government and is devoted to the cause of the people.

Sherman Minton of New Albany, public counselor before the public service commission is the Democratic nominee for United States senator. He was nominated on the fourth ballot, when R. Earl Peters, former state chairman and leader in the race on the first ballot, moved that the nomination be made unanimous. Minton is a world war veteran, helped organize the post in his community, served in the state organization and is a lawyer and speaker of ability. He is a former Indiana football player, a law graduate of Yale, has energy and qualifications for the high post he seeks. He has made a splendid record as public counselor and has been instrumental in bringing about reduced utility rates throughout the state. He is married and has three children.

England can't expect to have credit if it doesn't pay its old bills.

Rexford Tugwell will be confirmed as undersecretary of agriculture, the fight being made against him being a purely personal one with a few senators.

Among other things the Democrat platform calls for repeal of the primary law and the setting up of new machinery to bring about party nominations, getting away from the expensive election system.

Uncle Charley says: BY CHARLEY GRANT

Yep, th' chap who doesn't know straight up stays down.

Nope, a gal ain't crooked simply cause she has curves.

Dunkin' may be bad manners but it's dern good TASTE.

One reason th' gals all dope is that it makes th' fellers dopey.

Money gives some folks a hard heart, soft head an' stiff neck.

No sah, th' thick skinned folks are seldom touchy.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Daily Democrat File

June 13—State insurance inspector announces the rates here will be reduced in short time.

W. A. Lower concludes four years as postmaster and J. W. Bosse assumes office.

Miss Matilda Stuckey of Berne and John P. Barkman of Evanston Illinois will wed tomorrow.

Dr. H. E. Keller and daughter Laurine, Rev. Seimetz and Mrs. Minnie Holthouse and son Charles go to Collegeville to attend commencement exercises.

John Gillig is the government engineer in charge of postoffice under construction at Cynthianan Lexington, Louisville and Lawrenceburg, Ky.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Decatur Christian church will hold an open air service in a grove near Monmouth tomorrow afternoon.

Indiana crops are best in years for this time of year.

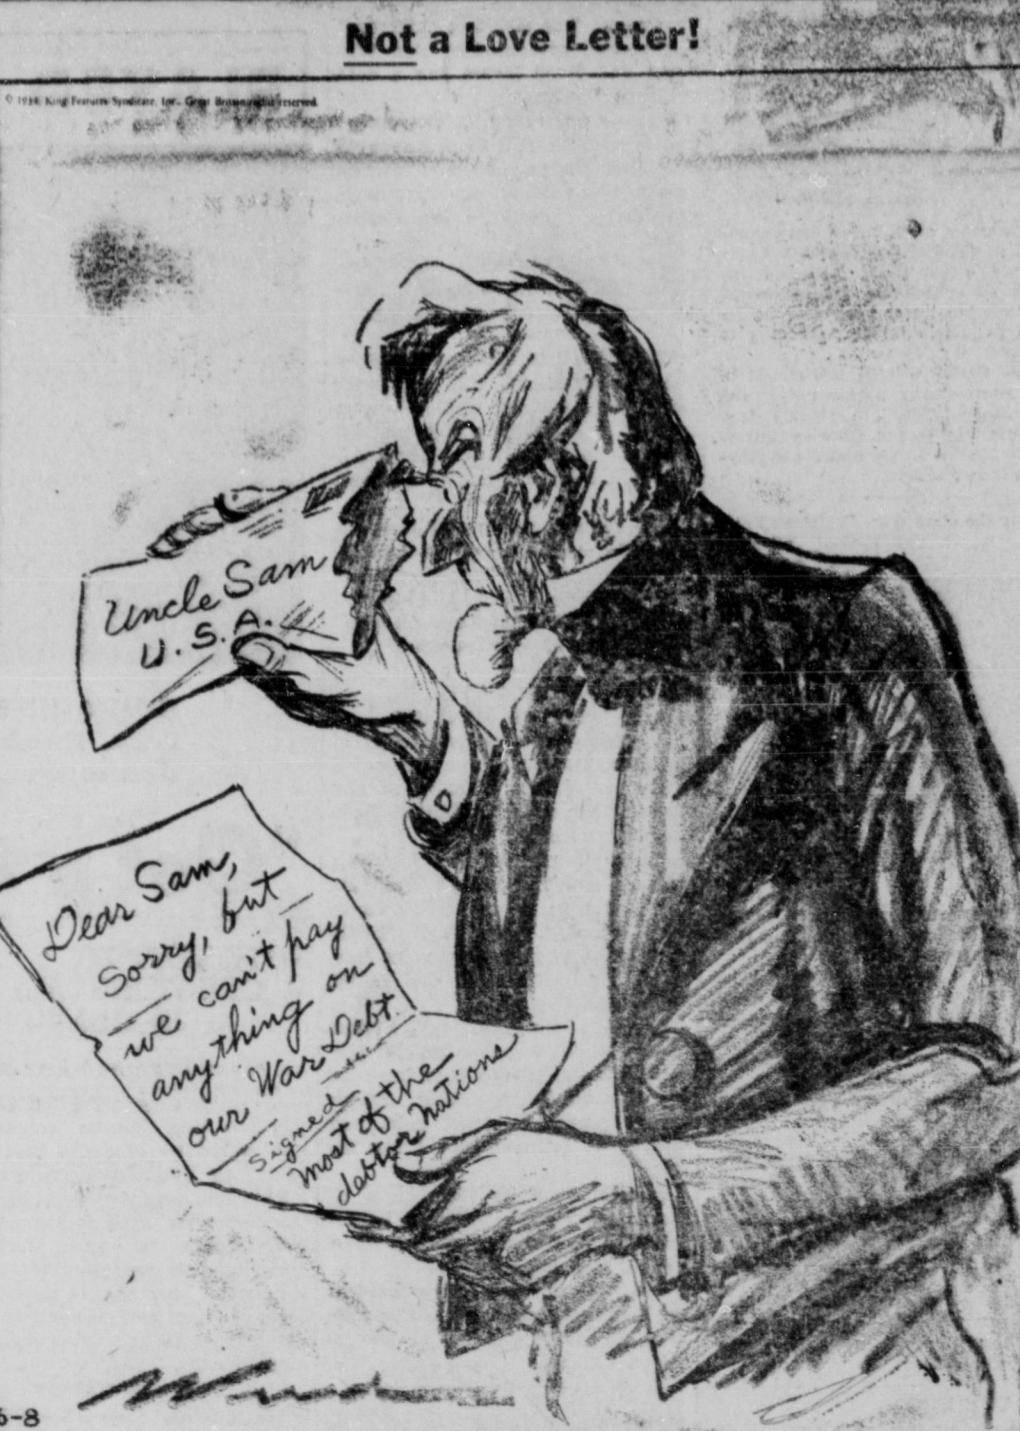

Ward Fence company contracts for three pages of advertising in the Country Gentleman at cost of $2,700.

Dr. J. M. Miller returns from Cincinnati where he attended the annual commencement of Ohio Medical college.

FRIDAY FIRST HEARING DATE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)
June 18: Washington and St. Marys townships, June 19; Blue Creek and Monroe townships, June 20; French and Hartford townships, June 19; Blue Creek and Monroe townships, June 20; French and Hartford townships, June 21; Webster and Jefferson townships, June 22; Geneva, Monroe and Berne corporations (civil), June 23; Decatur corporation (civil), June 26, 27, and corporations (industrial) June 28.

Get the Habit — Trade at Home

CAREER OF SHERMAN MINTON TYPICAL OF MANY OTHER

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

slugging outfielder in baseball. He became a member of the varsity debating team and climaxed his collegiate career as president of the Indiana Union.

Minton was graduated from the Indiana university law school in 1915, standing at the head of his class in grades. He was awarded a scholarship to the Yale university school of law and the William Jennings Bryan prize awarded annually to the graduate showing the greatest proficiency in public speaking.

He was graduated from the Yale law school in 1916, again with scholastic honors which brought him the Wayland prize.

After the war Minton opened a law office in New Albany and organized a local post of the American Legion. He went to Florida during the boom years of 1925 and 1926 but returned to resume his former practice in New Albany.

Minton has been active in state Legion circles ever since the war, holding the post of state judge advocate one year.

His political career included two unsuccessful attempts to be elected to congress. The first time he stumped southern Indiana was on behalf of James M. Cox for president of the United States. Later he campaigned for Al Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

His work in the 1932 campaign in behalf of President Roosevelt and Gov. Paul V. McNutt was described as his best.

Shortly after taking office, McNutt appointed Minton public counselor of the public service commission with instructions to reduce the rates of Indiana utilities.

Minton played close to the administration, earning the administration of Pleas Greenlee, executive secretary, who sponsored his candidacy for United States senator.

The new nominee is 42, dark, handsome and erect. He is an incurable story teller and often sets down his thoughts in verse. He is one of the most able speakers among younger members of the party.

He was graduated from the Yale law school in 1916, again with scholastic honors which brought him the Wayland prize.

After the war Minton opened a law office in New Albany and organized a local post of the American Legion. He went to Florida during the boom years of 1925 and 1926 but returned to resume his former practice in New Albany.

Minton has been active in state Legion circles ever since the war, holding the post of state judge advocate one year.

His political career included two unsuccessful attempts to be elected to congress. The first time he stumped southern Indiana was on behalf of James M. Cox for president of the United States. Later he campaigned for Al Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

His work in the 1932 campaign in behalf of President Roosevelt and Gov. Paul V. McNutt was described as his best.

Shortly after taking office, McNutt appointed Minton public counselor of the public service commission with instructions to reduce the rates of Indiana utilities.

Minton played close to the administration, earning the administration of Pleas Greenlee, executive secretary, who sponsored his candidacy for United States senator.

The new nominee is 42, dark, handsome and erect. He is an incurable story teller and often sets down his thoughts in verse. He is one of the most able speakers among younger members of the party.

He was graduated from the Yale law school in 1916, again with scholastic honors which brought him the Wayland prize.

After the war Minton opened a law office in New Albany and organized a local post of the American Legion. He went to Florida during the boom years of 1925 and 1926 but returned to resume his former practice in New Albany.

Minton has been active in state Legion circles ever since the war, holding the post of state judge advocate one year.

His political career included two

Household Scrapbook
—BY—
ROBERTA LEE

Window Shades

The majority of window shades can be washed successfully by placing them flat on a table or the floor, with several newspapers beneath, and using tepid water and mild soap, applying with a small hand brush. Hang the shades in place to dry, but of course leave them drawn full length until absolutely dry.

Refrigerator Hint

A good ice saving hint is to collect all foods that are to be placed in the refrigerator and put them away at one time, avoiding the opening of the door so many times.

Bluing

Add a little salt to the bluing water and it will prevent streaks in the clothes.

Adams County Memorial Hospital

Robert Werling, route 1, Decatur, had his tonsils removed today.

Get the Habit — Trade at Home

President Roosevelt has dispatched an invitation to King Prajadhipok of Siam to live at the White House in Washington, or alternatively at the president's summer residence at Hyde Park, N. Y., when the Siamese monarch makes his contemplated visit in the United States this fall, repeating his

FLAG CODE ETIQUETTE

The foregoing words of caution and guidance for the proper respect, use and display of the Flag of the United States, are excerpts from the authentic code of Flag Etiquette adopted on June 14, 1923, by the Washington, D. C. conference of the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion, attended by representatives of 68 organizations, and later adopted also by 45 other organizations representing a total of more than 20,000,000 American people.

The preamble of the Flag Code of the American Legion emphasizes that—"there are certain fundamental rules of heraldry which, if understood generally, would indicate the proper method of displaying the flag. The matter becomes a very simple one if it is kept in mind that the National Flag represents the living country and is itself considered as a living thing. The union of the flag is the honor point; the right arm is the sword arm, and therefore the point of danger and hence the place of honor.

"The Flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority. It should be displayed on national and state holidays and on historic and special occasions. The Flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

"When used in a procession with another flag or flags, the Flag of the United States should be either on the marching right, i. e., the Flag's own right, or when there is a line of other flags the Flag of the United States may be in front of the center of that line.

"When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes, or draping of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the Flag. When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the Flag of the United States should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east-and-west street, or to the east in a north-and-south street.

"When used on a speaker's platform or on a monument, the Flag should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor to drape over the front of the platform. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.

"When used in unveiling a statue or monument, the Flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

"When flown at half staff, the Flag is first hoisted to the peak and then lowered to the half staff position, but before lowering the PAINT UP!

Look around the house and see if there aren't a lot of places where a bit of paint would improve your premises. Maybe the outside of the house would look better by brightening window casements and shutters. More ambitious homeowners of necessity must economize, may wish to paint the entire house—outside, interiors, floors and furniture. It tells what is, what it does, how to mix it, how to use it, and the various ways to use for various purposes.

If you are contemplating doing a bit of painting, use this bulletin full of useful hints and instructions. Fill out the coupon below and send for it.

CLIP COUPON BELOW

Dept. 289, Washington Bureau, DAILY DEMOCRAT, 1322 New York Avenue, Washington, D. C.

I want a copy of the bulletin HOUSEHOLD PAINTING, close herewith five cents in coin (carefully wrapped), or stamps, to cover return postage and handling costs:

N A M E _____

STREET & No. _____

CITY _____ STATE _____

I am a reader of the Decatur Daily Democrat, Decatur, Ill.

above that of another nation Flag for the day it is raised to the peak. On Memorial Day the Flag is displayed from sunrise to sunset, and at full staff from sunrise to sunset, for the Nation. The Flag is the symbol of the Nation.

"When used to cover the flag should be placed at the head of the staff or at an angle from the window sill, balcony, or front of building, the union of the flag should go clear to the head of the staff unless the flag is at half mast. When the Flag of the United States is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the right, i. e., the observer's left.

"When used in a procession with another flag or flags, the Flag of the United States should be either on the marching right, i. e., the Flag's own right, or when there is a line of other flags the Flag of the United States may be in front of the center of that line.

"When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes, or draping of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the Flag. When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the Flag of the United States should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east-and-west street, or to the east in a north-and-south street.

"When used on a speaker's platform or on a monument, the Flag should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor to drape over the front of the platform. If