Evening Not Wholly Lost

A young man out our way called at a home where he was not wanted the other evening. Soon afterward he issued from the door, with the father not far behind; and in summing up the experience he said it was unusual, but he certainly did get a great kick out of it—Detroit News.

TORNADO HITS INDIANAPOLIS

Matthews remained to show where his garage had been. The twister tore the shelter entirely away, without damaging the machine or disturbing its position.

So firm has the grip of heat taken hold that Lewis A. (Lon) Yancey, famous aviator, brought his auto-gyro down in South Bend to escape the torrid grip on the upper atmosphere. He reported inability to fly above the searing breezes.

With water supplies everywhere dwindling rapidly, South Bend was the first major city to report actual alarm over its municipal supply. Restrictions on sprinkling were put into effect.

A record and near-record highs were reported from weather observers everywhere in Indiana. At Indianapolis the reading of 105.1 lacked only nine-tenths of a degree of setting a new high.

The Indianapolis death victims Tuesday were John Griffin, 57, Louis Whiteman, 45; William H. Gray, 57; Lee McVey, 60; John M. Scott, 47; Joe Adams, 62; Forrest Lumpkin, 55, and Daniel O'Rourke, 71.

Outstate deaths included Reed H. Nead, 68, farmer near Goshen;

Mamie Vorrison, 36, near Bedford; Mrs. Katherine Dolch, 87, near Decatur; Charles Pennington, 52, Spencer county farmer; Aaron M. Shreve, Muncie farmer; Isaac Wolfe, 69, of near Camden, and James Hobbs, 78, Lawrenceville, Ill., overcome at Vincennes.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE SOUGHT

In the stockyards for 800 striking men and their employer to settle their dispute.

Thousands more of the suffering animals were doomed to death unless the strike is settled within hours. All over the crowded yards they bawled and bellowed until thirst, starvation and the torture of a 100-degree sun brought death.

More than 1,000 other stockyard employees, members of the Livestock and Commission Men's Union, voted to strike at 3 p. m. today.

Fifty thousand head of government owned cattle probably would be unaffected, as employees of the federal surplus relief corporation are not striking.

Police were stationed throughout the huge maze of pens and chutes today to prevent a recurrence of attacks on "white collar" workers who attempted to feed and water the animals last night.

A truckload of hay was overturned and its driver beaten by pickets who said he was a strike breaker employed since the walk-out yesterday.

Fire department squads stayed at the yards all night, spraying hose streams over the dying cattle, but were unable to give them water to drink.

The striking handlers charged in their strike call that their employer has violated wage terms of a contract under which they returned to work after a strike last winter.

Mississippians Thirsty
Jackson, Miss.—(U.P.)—Mississippians apparently are drinking about three times as much beer as the legislation estimated in legalizing and taxing the beverage. The legislative estimate was that the tax of five cents a gallon would yield $100,000 a year. Tax collections during the first four months since beer was legalized totaled $120,851.

MASSACHUSETTS CHURCH HAS CANARY CHOIR
SOMERVILLE, Mass. (U.P.)—The Union Square Baptist Church of this city had one of the most unique services in its history—a bird choir.

The Rev. Harold Willard Arthur, pastor of the church, preached a sermon entitled, "A Bird's-Eye View of God's Plan for Man," so to express his theme more fully he had 25 canaries and pine trees grouped around the pulpit.

When the congregation sang during the entire service.

Bible Sales Increase
New Orleans.—(U.P.)—An increase in the sale of Bibles in Louisiana has been reported. Since January 1, 33,308 volumes have been distributed. This includes 1,297 Bibles, 2,743 testaments, 28,736 parts of the Bible. It is an increase of 924 Bibles, 1,358 testaments and 448 parts of the Bible over the same period last year.
