

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS, BUSINESS CARDS, AND NOTICES

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1928 Chevrolet Sedan
Decatur Auto Paint and Top Co.
Phone 494 196-31x

FOR SALE—1 used 15-30 Fordson;
2 used Fordsons; 1 Hart-Parr;
1 30-60 Ohio Tractor; 2 tractor pumps; 6 culti-packer and hoes; 12 electric motors 1/4 to 10 h. p.; 1 electric cool water pump. See the new Fordson before you buy.— Craigville Garage.
Aug. 13-15, 20-22, 27-25

FOR SALE—Pickles, 50¢ to $1.20 per bushel. Otto D. Bieberich, Decatur route 4. 198-31x

FOR SALE—New furniture: Two porch swings, $2.98 each; 2 chest of drawers, $4.50 each; 2 sets bed springs, $2.98 per set; 3 mattresses, $7 each; 4 card tables, 85 cents each; 1 student couch, $8.50; one x12 tapestry rug, $12; one kitchen cabinet, $20; one kitchen stove, $22; one Wilson heater, $28.95; used furniture: one oak buffet, $1.75; 1 brass bed with springs, $4.50; one 3-3 wood bed with springs, $7.50; used heaters with new firepots, $6 to $12. Spargue Furniture Company, Store phone 199, Home phone 5331. 198-31x

FOR SALE—1 2 wheel corn cutter, like new. Inquire Roy Miller, 1/2 mile west of Salem. 197-31x

FOR SALE—Michigan Peaches
(sprayed fruit) $1.80 bushel. Sat.
Monday and Tuesday, S. E. Har-gare 1 mile north 3 1/2 miles east of Monroe. 197-21x

WANTED

WANTED—Everybody and his brother and sister to see the wonder of the warm air heating industry, the new HOMER warm air furnace on display at the Decatur Lumber Company office.
Our price will surprise you.
30-Aug. 6-13-20

WANTED—Elderly woman to do light housework for board and room and small wages. Write Box MX
Decatur office. 198-31x

WANTED—MALE—We want to select a reliable young man, now employed, with foresight, fair education and mechanical inclinations, who is willing to train during spare time or evenings, to qualify as installation and service expert on all types electric refrigerators. Write fully, giving age, phone, present occupation. Utilities Inst., 404 care
Daily Democrat. 11x

WANTED—Board and room. Two adults. Farm preferred. Clean, plain food; must be Americans.
No room. Have dog. Write promptly giving location and rates per week and phone number if any. W.
J. Jenner, 323 West 6th Ave., Gary,
Indiana. 198-21x

WANTED—To do house work or cleaning. 1043 N. Second St. or call Millers North End Grocery. 198-31x

For RADIO or ELECTRICAL repairs call MARCELLUS MILLER, phone 625. I specialize in auto radio installation and repairs.
Miller Radio Service, 226 N. 7th
st. 1721f

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—15 acre suburban home, good house, barn, garage and Purdue chicken coop. All electric lighted. 1 1/2 mile north of Decatur on state road 27. Immediate possession. C. D. Teeple. 196-31x

FOR RENT—Sundabaker Homestead of Decatur motor plumbing.
Pumpco. Electric lights, large garden, poultry house, ideal country home near Decatur on State route 224 and should be attractive to tourists if you desire to offer tourists room. A. D. Suttles Agt. 198-31x

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Boston terrier, wearing red collar. Answers to name of Mitzy
Call 1037. 198-31x

LOST—Boy's lumber jacket in Cort
Theatre. Finder call 236. 198-31x

Protect Top Rot
by using our
TOP DRESSING
ENGLAND'S AUTO PARTS
1st Door So. of Court House
Phone 282

MISCELLANEOUS—Custom canning—Our canning factory is now open each day of the week, no custom work received on Saturday.
Home Canning Co., Monroeville,
Ind., Phone 3422. 61-M-W-193

See me for Federal Loans and Abstracts of Title.
French Quinn,
Schirmeyer Abstract Co.

MARKET REPORTS

DAILY REPORT OF LOCAL AND FOREIGN MARKETS

LOCAL MARKET
Decatur Berne Craigville Hoagland
Corrected August 20
No commission and no yardage.
Veals received Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday.

250 to 300 lbs.	$6.50
200 to 250 lbs.	$6.50
150 to 200 lbs.	$6.40
100 to 150 lbs.	$6.30
110 to 120 lbs.	$5.50
120 to 140 lbs.	$4.50
150 to 120 lbs.	$4.20
Roughs	$4.50
Stags	$3.25
Vealers	$6.75
Ewe and wether lambs	$6.00
Buck lambs	$6.00

EAST BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

East Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20—(U.P.)—Livestock:

Hogs, receipts, 3,100; holdovers, none; active; strong to largely 10c over Friday's average; weights above 190 lbs. up most; desirable 180-260 lbs., averaging above 200 lbs., $7.10-$7.15; few 220-250 lbs., $7.25; 160-190 lbs., $6.50-$7; 140-160 lbs., $6-$6.75; pigs, $4.50-$5.25.

Cattle, receipts, commercial, 1-200; government, 4,100; all classes and grades fairly active, generally steady; killing quality plain; strictly good 900-1,000-lb. steers, $8.00-$8.50; mixed yearlings, $6.25-$7.50; heifers, $6; common grass steers and heifers, $3.75-$4.75; low cutters and cutter cows, $1.35-$2.35; medium bulls, $3-$3.25.

Calves, receipts, commercial 600;
government, none; vealers unchanged, $7.50 down.
Sheep, receipts, 2,500; lambs steady to strong; good to choice including springing of bucks, $7.75; mixed offerings, $7-$7.25; common and medium, $5.50-$7; inferior throwouts, $4-$5.

CHICAGO GRAIN CLOSE

	Sept.	Dec.	May
Wheat, old	$1.04 1/4	$1.04 1/4	$1.06 1/2
Wheat, new	1.04 1/4	1.04 1/4
Corn	.74 1/2	.76	.79 1/2
Oats, old	.50	.50 1/2	.51 1/2
Oats, new	.50	.50 1/2

FORT WAYNE LIVESTOCK

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 20—(U.P.)—Livestock:

Hogs 10 to 15c higher; 250-300
lbs. $6.85; 200-250 lbs. $6.70; 180-
200 lbs. $6.60; 160-180 lbs. $6.50; 300-
350 lbs. $6.60; 150-160 lbs. $5.85;
140-150 lbs. $5.60; 120-140 lbs. $3.35;
120-130 lbs. $4.55; 100-120 lbs. $4.50
roughs $5.25; stags $3.75.
Calves $7.00; lambs $6.50;

LOCAL GRAIN MARKET

Corrected August 20

No. 1 New Wheat, 60 lbs. or better	91c
No. 2 New Wheat (58 lbs.)	89c
Oats, 20 lbs. test	45c
White or mixed corn	95c
First class yellow corn	$1.00
Wool	20 to 25c

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF TAX LEVIES

In the Matter of Determining the Tax Rates for certain purposes, by the Civil Town of Monroe, Adams County, Indiana. Before the Board of Trustees.

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of the Civil Town of Monroe, Adams County, Indiana, that the property legal officers of said municipality, at their regular meeting place on the 3rd day of September, 1934, will consider the following budget:

Salaries	$25.00
Police Dept. & Expenses	75.00
Fire Dept. Exp. and Sup.	150.00
Buildings, repairs and upkeep	142.26
Election Expenses	65.00
Legal Services	50.00
Office Sup. and Exp.	165.00
Miscellaneous	100.00
Reserve Fund	100.00

Estimates of Funds to be Raised as above 1072.26
Less Estimated Revenue,
other than by taxation 512.33 Amount necessary to be raised by taxation 560.93

Proposed Levies
Net Taxable property 155,565.00
General Fund 560.93
Proposed Levy on each $100.00 .36
Comparative Statement of Taxes Collected and to be Collected
Collected by levy of year 1932 $74.89
Collected by levy of year 1933 604.63
Collected by levy of year 1934 561.92

To be Collected by levy of year 1935 560.93 Taxpayers appearing shall have the right and will be heard thereon. After the tax levies have been determined, ten or more taxpayers feeling themselves aggrieved by such levies may appeal to the State Board of Tax Commissioners of Indiana for further and final action thereon by filing a petition not later than the fourth Monday in September, 1934 and said State Board will fix a date of hearing in this County.

Dated this 14th day of August 1934.
Martin L. Hoffman
John E. Johnson
Otto Lobenstein
Board of Trustees
ATTEST: Earl L. Saunders, Clerk.
August 20-27

MAGIC CLEAN
"SUPER-CLEANING THAT RESTORES BEAUTY TO CLOTHING"
Sheets Bros. Cleaners
N. 2nd st. Phone 359

N. A. BIXLER
OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted
HOURS:
8:30 to 11:30 12:30 to 5:00
Saturdays, 8:00 p. m.
Telephone 135.

Test Your Knowledge

Can you answer seven of these ten questions? Turn to page Four for the answers.

1. Name the principal city in the U. S. where the manufacture of gloves is carried out?
2. Where are the Siedlitz mineral springs?
3. What is the meaning of the term persona grata in diplomatic usage?
4. Who was Jean Paul Marat?
5. Who wrote the famous old comedy, "The Rivals"?
6. Who was Charlotte Crabtree?
7. What is a Gnu?
8. Who wrote the novel, "The Woman in White."

9. In which state is the city of Perth Amboy?
10. To which country do the Foroe Islands belong?

1. What is the name for farm land that is allowed to rest for a season?
2. What are shooting stars?
3. When the moon is in perigee, at what point is it?
4. Which has the larger area, continental U. S. A. or Canada?
5. In what radical movement in United States were William Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, and Lucretia Mott among the leaders?
6. Which medieval republic was governed by the Council of Ten?
7. Who founded the Ladies' Home

Journal?
8. In which South American country is Lake Maracaibo?
9. Name the author of "The Merry Wives of Windsor."
10. What, in military parlance, is countersign?

For Better Health See
Dr. H. Frohnapfel
Licensed
Chiropractor and Naturopath
Phone 314 104 So. 3rd st.
Neurocalometer Service
X-Ray Laboratory
Office Hours: 10 to 12 a. m.
1 to 5 p. m., 6 to 8 p. m.

CAROLINE by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

SYNOPSIS

The Philip Rutledges and Henry Dunsworths have been enemies for years, but love sometimes laughs at feuds, so Howard Dunsworth becomes engaged to lovely Caroline Rutledge despite their parents' opposition. Then Henry ruins Philip in business. This changes everything. "If I marry, my father will cut me off, and, if I know you, it wouldn't please you any more to be poor than it would me," Howard tells Caroline. Disappointed that money should mean so much to Howard, Caroline breaks their engagement. Another crushing blow falls when Philip tells Caroline and her mother, Alva—a pampered, selfish woman—that they must vacate "Hawthorn," their lovely home, and live in a poorer section of town. Caroline had never attributed strength to her mother, but she expected her to carry through gracefully instead of giving away to her emotions as she had. Caroline is doubly disappointed when her father, whom she thought capable of meeting any emergency, accepts defeat. Returning from a ride, Caroline learns that Howard telephoned, but she refuses to call him, saying, "Howard will have to come back to me unasked." Their financial status has given Mrs. Rutledge a change of heart where Howard is concerned. "Beggars cannot be choosers," she reminds Caroline. Howard takes a trip to California. Caroline goes with her father to look over their future home and her heart sinks at the sight of it. A slatternly woman beats down upon them from the porch.

CHAPTER IX

Mr. Rutledge had never seen the woman before. He was startled to learn that she recognized him. For a moment her sudden and unexpected verbal assault dazed him, left him without words to answer her. "So you've come in person Mister Rutledge to see what yer high and mighty influence can do to poor folks who ain't got no come back agin ye, have ye? Well, it's a fine sight yer'll be seein'—a poor family turned out into the street on yer say-so! But just you . . .

"Wait!" Mr. Rutledge commanded sharply. "Are you Mrs. Gamis?" "Would ye be expectin' someone else to know who ye be?" the woman retorted.

"The just a moment, please," Philip Rutledge resumed in a tone that silenced her. "Your husband was given money for a month's rent elsewhere. He agreed to be out of this house by noon today. There has been no unjust influence used to dispossess you. I should like to speak to Mr. Gamis," he added coldly.

"The woman's expression underwent a swift change; a new anger replaced the old. "Oh an' ye should," she mocked. "An' so'd be I. The good for nothin' leavin' . . .

"Is he about?" the woman repeated with a grim laugh. "Yes, I guess he's about by this time—just about under the table down at Smokey Joe's. The onery . . .

"Never mind. Again Mr. Rutledge cut her off. "Have you rented another place?"

"We can park a while in the McClung's alley woodshed," she said dejectedly.

Mr. Rutledge took out his billfold. From it he extracted a banknote and gave it to her. "It is important to me to have possession of the house immediately," he said.

"Have you engaged a moving van?" The woman looked at the bill and at the piles of furniture on the porch and in the front yard, among which a number of ragged children were playing.

"Thank you, mister," she said, and Caroline, watching her, caught the glint of a tear in her eyes, "I can get one in a bit."

"We would like to go inside," she said abruptly.

"Come right ahead," the woman invited, all her ill-feeling dissipated. Caroline steeled herself to cross the threshold. She felt as though they were driving out of the house people to whom it was home while it would be an affliction to her and her parents to live there.

The interior was utterly unprepossessing. The hall was long and narrow. Dark, narrow stairs clung to one side of it. Sliding wood doors, now open, had a place opposite them. Caroline stepped through the opening into the living room. Her eyes rested upon a stained glass window set high in the side wall. She turned her gaze quickly away from it to the dining room beyond another pair of sliding doors.

"It's a nice house," Mrs. Gamis said wistfully. "I hate to be leavin' it."

"How many rooms are there upstairs?" Mr. Rutledge inquired.

"They's three bedrooms. It's a good big house. It had to be for the Gamis family."

Mr. Rutledge spoke to Caroline.

"It's a nice house," Mrs. Gamis said wistfully. "I hate to be leavin' it."

"Would you go up, my dear? I shouldn't know what would be wanted to furnish them."

Caroline understood. Already he had seen enough of the house. His defeat served to bolster up her own will power. Deliberately she kept herself from thinking of the ugliness and dirt about her and made mental notes of the furnishings required to make the rooms as comfortable and attractive as possible.

When they were leaving she said: "I hope you will find another nice house, Mrs. Gamis."

Alone with her father in the car she burst out: "Is this absolutely necessary, Father? It's a shame to put that family out. Couldn't we get an apartment or rent a small house in a better neighborhood?"

Mr. Rutledge answered wearily: "Do you think I didn't go over all that before giving into this? I tell you, Caroline, my credit is gone, or it will be shortly. I can't pay rent. What we get from the sale at Hawthorn must be used to settle old debts. They amount to a small fortune. We've only a little to live on. And the Gamises are seven months behind in their rent; I couldn't afford to let them stay on in any event."

"But won't it be harder for you to re-establish yourself in the business world if you start from . . . from South Town?" Caroline ventured.

"I suppose so," he agreed listlessly.

"But Father, you know Mother and I would let you sell our jewels!"

A short, broken laugh answered her. "The best of your mother's things, and yours too, were in the bank vault. I'm afraid, unless you wish me to repudiate our just debts, they'll never come back to you. You see, Caroline, when this thing struck me I had my lawyer and an accountant straighten things out for me. Yesterday morning they laid the cards on the table. Before I came home to you and your mother it was definitely settled—this house, the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Caroline choked down the lump in her throat. "Right-o," she said simply. They talked no more of their troubles. And when Mrs. Rutledge asked Caroline, in a strained, apprehensive tone, what the house on Edge Street was like Caroline told her that it was terrible but they were lucky to have it, and she for one meant to make the most of it.

"You know, Mother," she added dreamily, "it's an adventure, this getting the slant at life from an angle so new to us. After all, what were we here at Hawthorn House? In the cars, everything. I am cleaned out, my dear. All I had left was friends, and I know that not one of them has money to lend. I'm afraid we'll have to face it as it is, however bad it may be."

Many Reunions Scheduled For Summer Months

Sunday, August 26
Standiford and Paulkner reunion
Wren, Ohio.
Tindall annual reunion, fairgrounds at Van Wert, Ohio.
Fifteenth annual Davison reunion, Clem Gibson home, 1 mile west of Kingsland.
Seventh annual Johnson family reunion, Legion Memorial Park, Decatur.

Hakes reunion, Sunset Park, east of Decatur.
Droll family reunion, Sunset Park.
Sunday, September 2
Hart family reunion, Emmanuel Hart residence, Union township.
Schnepp and Manley reunion,
Sunset Park, near Decatur.
Hart reunion, Emmanuel Hart farm, southwest of Dix-Roop family reunion, Lehman Park, Berne.

Thinger family reunion, Sunset Park, east of Decatur.
Ulrick reunion, Sunset Park.
Sunset Park, rain or shine.
Kelly reunion, Laird grove,
south of Conroy, Ohio.

Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 3
Slusser-Gause reunion, J.E. Gause grove, near Willsboro, Ohio, rain or shine.
Sixteenth annual Stalter reunion,
Legion Memorial Park, Decatur.
Lenhart reunion, Sunset park,
Decatur.

Sunday, September 9
Shifferly reunion, Ivan D. Shifferly home near Mooreville.
Bowman family reunion, Sunset Park, Decatur.

Housing Exhibit At Indiana Fair

Indianapolis, August 20—The inside story on the new federal housing administration agency how it operates and what the laymen must do to benefit from it, will be a feature of one of the exhibits in the new recovery building at the State Fair, September 1 to 7, Fred Hoke state housing administrator and chairman of the committee in charge of the Recovery Building has announced.

Federal Farm Loans

Make application with the Adams County National Farm Loan Ass'n., Charter
No. 5152, office with the Schuriger Abstract Co., 133
South 2nd street, Decatur.
Fire and windstorm insurance accepted in any old line or good mutual insurance co.

How