The Democratic candidates in Adams county are deserving of your confidence. Show them they have it by voting for them next Tuesday.

Don't believe last minute stories about candidates. If they were true they would have been told sooner when those charged could have answered.

Vote early next Tuesday and remember you are voting as to whether or not you favor the plans of President Roosevelt to make this a better country to live in.

The subscription contest now being planned by the Daily Democrat will prove an interesting one and we believe a profitable one for every candidate. There is still time to get your name in and to win one of the handsome cash prizes in time to do your Christmas shopping.

The first snow storm of the year and a lively one to start with. Old timers tell us this will be a stiff winter but we have heard that every year and sometimes they hit it and sometimes they don't. We can only wait and see and hope the weather man will be half way decent about it.

Chicago has demonstrated that they know how to put on a World Fair and seem to be about the only city that does. They will pay out in full, the first time this has ever occurred in the world. The big fair closed with a Halloween party that was something worth seeing, we are told, and the entire two-year show was great.

The G. O. P. press is trying to make a big "howdy" out of the Lake county investigation. The reason is apparent. They don't want to take issues but do desire to get the voters minds off the real questions. Who cares what is going on in Lake county? They have their own brand of politics up there and probably always will have.

It won't be long now until you will vote. Remember that the Issue this year is whether or not you will support President Roosevelt in his great effort to restore prosperity and that is effected by every official to be named. The President is planning over a period of years and should have friendly officials all down the line to carry out the program.

The Democratic campaign in Adams county will close tomorrow night with a rally at Geneva and every one is invited to join in the event. The speakers will include the Hon. Frank Thompson, representative from this district, Lew Dunten of Fort Wayne and Thain Farley of Auburn, a son of the congressman. There will be a parade and a lot of fun. Better get there and enjoy it.

Work at the sugar factory is going right along and the several hundred employees at that busy place are a big and happy family. The farmers who are harvesting the beets and the truckman who are pulling them in are all pleased with the improved economic conditions which gives them a profit and this community considers itself mighty lucky to have such an institution managed by the capable men in charge. Let's keep going. We are on the way.

The campaign is about over but you still have your duty to perform. You should vote. The strange thing is that in this country where we have the right of suffrage, never more than 60% of those entitled to use that right, do so. Often the percentage is as low as 40. In the recent vote on whether or not the government should continue the hog and corn project, with ballots sent only to the farmers entitled to take part, less than 40% voted. Surely greater interest in the affairs of the government should be taken or we should quit grumbling.

Melvin Purvis of Chicago will conduct an examination and investigation into the Crown Point affair in connection with Dillinger's escape, in which it is claimed some $20,000 was expended to free the bandit. Of course you know who Purvis is. He is the head of the Chicago bureau of the federal secret service department and the boy who does things. He managed the final disposition of Dillinger, "Pretty boy Floyd" and other gangsters and when he gets through digging up the facts in Lake county, he will properly dispose of all who took part in the delivery. It will be something to have the dirty dish cleaned up.

Samuel Insull is game. If he hadn't been he could not have perched for years on the high pedestal of ruler of his utility empire with a rating of several hundred million dollars. He demonstrated it again when he took the entire responsibility of the downfall of his mighty financial structure, exonerating from the witness stand all the others indicted with him. He does not believe he did any thing wrong but those who had confidence in him feel he did and it will be up to the jury of his peers to decide. Whatever the result, the old man is through and we can only profit by the lessons taught.

La Plata, Mo.—(U.P.)—William H. Lowell, born while Andrew Jackson was serving his second term as President, has celebrated his 101st birthday. The chief sorrow in his life is that Detroit lost the World Series.

Editor Daily Democrat:

There is no one who enjoys good roads more than the one who owns and drives an automobile and one who has to some times use them when others are asleep as I often do.

In view of the fact that the new road to Willshire will be opened Nov. 9th and our state road superintendent, the Hon. James Adams, will be here, I would like to suggest a petition for a space along our road that is traveled by our school buses that stop for loading and discharging school children and that these spaces be hard surfaced where hard surface roads are, and of the same material as the road is built of over which these buses travel. This space to be marked for "School Buses." This will also serve on highways for other buses of public utility. These spaces or side drives are necessary, whereas, first, they avoid many accidents; second, school children and bus patrons know where to wait and get on; third, relieves traffic; fourth, provide additional labor, fifth, why not Indiana first?

If this cannot be done now through the Hon. James Adams, then let our next legislature provide for this on our statutes and let it be known as an Adams county act.

Dr. H. Frohnapfel.

ADAMS COUNTY SCHOOLS PAID

Distribution Of Over $8,000 From Beer And Liquor Taxes

Indianapolis, Nov. 2.—Schools of Adams county will receive $8,661.84 this week in state distributions of beer and liquor taxes, it was announced today by Paul Fry, director of the state excise tax division.

The distributions now being made, Fry said, are far in excess of any previous payments to schools from the excise taxes, which are distributed twice a year. In November of 1933, Adams county schools received $6,115.74 and in May, 1934, received $6,207.30. The present distribution is based on $1.93 per pupil. Schools of the entire state will receive $1,260,602.66 this week, bringing the total of excise tax school distributions for the three distribution periods to $3,023,190.42. Excise taxes sent back by the state to civil units of government in addition to schools since the beginning of operation of the law have amounted to $1,777,457.74. Of this amount Adams county, and its cities and towns received $7,159.40.

Fry pointed out that total distributions to schools and other local governmental units of the state have amounted to $4,800,648.16, or the entire amount of excise tax collections with the exception of operating expenses of the department, which have amounted to 2.35 per cent of collections. Additional payments to counties, cities and towns totalling $99,297.75 will be made next week. Excise distributions are equivalent to what would be raised by a property tax rate of 11 cents.

Under the excise tax law, half of the beer license fees and all of the liquor stamp taxes are sent back to the first of each month to the places where the licenses were issued or the stamps sold. The remainder of excise tax collections goes into the fund which is distributed semi-annually to schools.

Carolinas Expect Tough 1935

Raleigh, N. C.—(U.P.)—Will history repeat itself in 1935? If so, trading in moth ball futures will prove a risky business, while the overland market will be strong. In 1934, history says, it "frosted" in North Carolina every month but one. That was July. The only crops raised in Tarheelia that year were Irish potatoes and corn—and corn was short.
