CHICAGO CUBS GET CARLETON

St. Louis Card Hurler Obtained In Trade For Two Pitchers

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 22.—(UP)—A drive for championship timber by the Chicago Cubs was expected today to be the next big development of the National Association of professional baseball leagues.

The Cubs made the biggest deal of the opening day and were negotiating today in two more directions. The Cubs want action. Most of the other major league clubs can't make up their minds.

In last night's deal the Cubs obtained James O. (Tex) Carleton, right-handed pitcher, from the St. Louis Cardinals. They gave in exchange pitchers Bud Tinning and Dick Ward and some cash. Carleton won 16 games and lost 11 for the Cardinals last season and, next to the Dean boys, was the ace of the St. Louis staff. Tinning won 4 and lost 4 for the Cubs, while Ward won 13 and lost 4 for the Los Angeles club after failing to make the grade with the Cubs in the spring.

The Cubs have offered pitcher Guy Bush and outfielder Babe Herman to Pittsburgh for pitcher Larry French and outfielder Freddy Lindstrom, an even swap, no cash involved. The Pirate crew, from Manager Pie Traynor up and down, has been weighing the deal for 12 hours but still was undecided about it today. They promised to give their decision to Manager Charlie Grimm of the Cubs by tonight.

The Cincinnati Reds purchased two minor league stars from the Cardinal chain, third baseman Lew Riggs from Columbus and outfielder Ivan Goodman from Rochester, for a sum said to be $40,000.

The first major league trade last night sent outfielder Bruce Campbell from the St. Louis Browns to Cleveland for pitcher Bob Weiland, infielder Johnny Burnett and cash.

The Chicago White Sox outfit two other clubs, Detroit and Brooklyn, to get outfielder Vernon (George) Washington from the Indianapolis American Association club. The Sox gave $20,000, pitcher Phil Gallivan and third baseman Billy Sullivan, who played with Milwaukee last year, for Washington, who hit .368 and lost the American Association batting title by one point. After obtaining Sullivan Indianapolis traded him to St. Paul for third baseman Otto Bluege.

Two Fires Damage Indiana Farm Lands

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Fire which swept through Bartholomew county farm and timber lands burned over 4,000 acres, it was estimated today after the blaze had been extinguished. Rain assisted national guardsmen and volunteers to quench the blaze.

Seymour, Ind., Nov. 22.—(UP)—More than 2,000 acres in western Jackson county were scorched by fire which was brought under control by a force of 180 CCC workers. Several persons were injured slightly fighting the blaze.

Illinois Solons Favor Sales Tax

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 22.—(UP)—A permanent state two per cent sales tax was ready to be written into the Illinois statutes today with both houses of a fourth special session of the general assembly recorded in its favor and a state senate marking time to complete legislative action.

FEW HIGHWAYS HAVE DETOURS

Construction projects started this year have been furnished although several will be held over until the 1935 program for completion, Adams said.

In addition to many new pavement projects, the highway commission plans to make extensive roadside improvements, eliminate hazards and start improvement of approximately 600 additional miles of county roads during 1935.

The marking of center lines on more than 8,000 miles of state highways, using special equipment which equipment which was developed for that purpose, has been started by the maintenance division of the state highway commission.

This work will be in progress for several weeks and motorists are urged to drive slowly while passing points where this work is being done.

Use of lines in the center of the highway serve as a guide for the motorist and has been the means of preventing many accidents. The marking machines are operated by specially trained workmen and cover approximately 40 miles a day. The greater part of the marking this year is being done with a mixture of powdered asphalt which adds to the visibility of the line at night through the reflection of motor vehicle lights.

Marking of the highways to warn motorists of railroad and interurban track intersections is done by hand, these warnings supplementing the regular caution signs erected by the highway commission and the railroads at highway and track intersections.

NEW INDUSTRY TO BEGIN WORK WITHIN A WEEK

Increased the price of soy beans to one dollar a bushel.

"We want the growers, within normal trucking distance of Decatur, or that territory covered by the sugar beet fieldmen to bring their beans to the local plant. Although we have a large supply on hand, we wish to give our friends in this section the opportunity of a ready market for their beans and will pay what the product is worth."

"We believe in cooperating with the farmer and beet grower and with the opening of the Central Soya plant are making a continuous market and stabilized price for the farmers of this area," Mr. McMillen declared.

Growers who have beans to sell were asked to get in touch with the Central Soya company's fieldmen, located at the following places: E. L. Harlacher, Decatur; David Campbell, Ellettsburg; Harry Essex, Monroe; Ben Chilcote, Ohio City; William Sheppelman, Monroeville; Harry Daniels, Convo; Harry Overmeyer, Woodburn; Joe Ebscotte, Port Jennings; J. E. Harlacher, Union City.

Form Of 25 Men Pressing of the beans will probably begin next Wednesday.

The plant will operate 24 hours a day and a force of 25 men will be employed.

Place In Market
With the opening of the soy bean mill, Decatur will be recognized as one of the principal bean markets in this part of the country. The same is true with sugar beets. The local sugar beet plant, owned by Mr. McMillen and associates, is the only beet plant in Indiana and the local beet market is one of the outstanding ones in the central west.

Building of the soya plant started about September 24 and the completion of the mill and mammoth storage facilities in such a short period of time is considered one of the feats of modern construction work.

FORESEE FIGHT IN FARM BUREAU

A Wallace in which the cabinet member appealed to Indiana farmers to "unite behind the President in support of the agricultural adjustment act."

Wallace said that farmers must "stand on guard against forces which are attempting to wreck the AAA."

Touching on the tariff question, Wallace said that "the next congress must make tariff provisions for an increase in imports in order that foreign countries may meet interest payments of the debts and be in a position to buy American agricultural products."

Changes in the farm bureau's property tax policy were advocated by Lieut. Gov. M. Clifford Townsend.

"The constitution provides for raising taxes only on property," he said. "But it was written in property was the only thing which taxes could be raised."

MOTHER DENIED GIRL'S CUSTODY

that she would appeal the decision "to the highest court if necessary." Her friends let it be known that she believed she had been deprived of a mother's natural right by a court order. Her friends asked what she thought of the decision, replied:

"If I told you, you would print it."

Carew's decision made Gloria, heiress to a $400,000 estate of the state of New York, a legal status similar to that of a foundling left on a door step. The named Mrs. Whitney as the custodian until she reaches majority unless Mrs. Van derbilt shows cause why the arrangement should be changed. He specified that Mrs. Vanderbilt was to be in custody of her child until Christmas day, and the month of July each year.
