Vermont U. Co-Eds Try Co-Op. Housekeeping

Burlington, Vt. —(U.P.)—A coed experiment in co-operative enterprise of house management is in progress at University of Vermont. A house has been set aside for the use of the girls, 23 in number, and a house director has been named to take charge of the experiment in wise buying and careful saving.

Dining rooms and two complete kitchens have been provided. Each girl will contribute the same amount of money and the entire sum will be pooled and budgeted. A schedule of work has been planned in which each girl will assume the various duties of management in rotation—cooking, waiting on table, washing dishes, and kindred tasks.

HOLLYWOOD. . . . —Bernard Newman, former designer for Bergdorf-Goodman and the chap who blasted Hollywood's smart set for its lack of chic, ignores the film colony entirely in his list of America's best-dressed women. Only two actresses are mentioned, Ina Claire and Gwili Andre, and both of these are now on the stage. Mr. Newman's other choices are Mrs. Harrison Williams, Mrs. Horton Schwartz, Mrs. William Wetmore, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt and Miss Mary Taylor, all socialites, and Lillian Carnegie, Mrs. Adam Gimbel, and Miss Leslie Morris from the business world.

Designer Newman is now in Hollywood doing the gowns for "Roberta".

Filmland owners of great dances and other large dogs have had their noses out of joint recently. Tom Carman, captain of Hollywood detectives, has issued a warning to the movie stars that terrifiers and even French poolers offer much more protection as watch-dogs than the bigger animals.

"Small dogs are natural buttinskys," said the captain. "A big dog is apt to be good-natured. If not, he is likely to keep still and growl. A small dog sets up an awful racket."

The officer won't mention names, but relates an incident of a well-known star who recently paid $350 for a watch-dog. Several months later, he came home to find the house ransacked and the dog cringing in a corner. But when the cops came out to investigate, the dog flew at their throats, courageous only in the presence of his master.

The captain's admonition is of interest to many Hollywoodites. Bing Crosby, Josef von Sternberg, Roscoe Karns and Carl Brisson all own barrel-chested police dogs. Great dances are Harold Lloyd's favorites. Rudy Vallee has a large dog, half shepherd and half chow, that should be ferocious enough to satisfy even Captain Carman. Alice Faye used a doberman pinscher as a bodyguard.

Many of these dog owners will disagree with Captain Carman.

Do you remember the story of how Mack Gordon found the name for his and Harry Revell's hit, "Stay As Sweet As You Are"? It came to him when he and Bobby Crawford robberies and other major crimes. During 1933, scores of bank robberies and other major crimes were perpetrated by the Dillinger gang and other hoodlums.

The crime wave subsided this year due to the Dillinger gang's collapse and the renewed efforts of all Indiana law enforcement agencies to place themselves on the offensive rather than the defensive.

Establishment of the state police radio system was one of the first steps taken to curb the crime wave. The proposal went forward rapidly during the summer months of 1934 when the Indiana Bankers' Association raised $50,000 in voluntary contributions.

The money was turned over to Feeney and work was started immediately on location of five broadcasting units.

At about the same time Feeney established a system of state police barracks, modeled after those in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Michigan.

Seven barracks are now in operation at Ligonier, Michigan City, West Lafayette, Anderson, Rockville, Bedford, Scottsburg and Putnamville. Two more are being built and one more remains to be located to round out the system of 10.

BURNS FROM FIRST JACK O' LANTERN KILL GIRL, 3

Cleveland, —(U.P.)— Little Beryl Marquis, three, saw her first jack o' lantern this fall. But it was the little girl's last.

She peered too close to the pumpkin's candle in a darkened closet where she and her sister, Patricia, six, had put the grinning face. A draft blew her tiny dress into flame and she ran, screaming with fright, to her mother in the kitchen.

The distraught mother snatched a kitchen rug, rolled the child frantically in it, but too late. Beryl died of burns, in a hospital.

Uncle Sam Issues 1935 Corn-Hog Contracts.

Uncle Sam's New Year's greeting to the farmers of America was in the form of the corn-hog contract for 1935, the document which will control the production of corn and hogs under provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment association during the coming season. Payments for corn on acres retired by the contract will be 35 cents a bushel, and payment for hogs not raised will be $15 a head on 10 per cent of the hog base for 1932 and 1933. The 1935 contract is expected to bring millions and millions of dollars into the pockets of American farmers.

By International Illustrated News
DES MOINES, Ia., . . . Uncle Sam's New Year greeting to the farmers of America was no altruistic expression of sentiment and good wishes. His was a cold and legalistic greeting in the form of the corn-hog contract for 1935.

Pretty New Year's cards are welcome, but most farmers could have asked for nothing more welcome than the form listing the provisions for the control of the corn and hog production in the United States during the coming season.

This contract, to replace the one in effect in 1931, is issued by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in conformance with the stipulations of the Agricultural Adjustment act, a branch of the National Recovery administration.

Millions to Farmers
As last year, the 1935 contract will bring millions and millions of dollars to farmers if they agree not to produce more than a stipulated amount of corn, and not to raise more than a certain number of hogs.

Iowa farmers, for example, are expected to benefit to the extent of $40,000,000 if they stay within their assigned quotas for corn and hogs. If they do not, and attempt to put into use land made idle by the AAA contract and raise more hogs than permitted they are subject to fines for over-production.

The new contract provides that for each acre to be retired from corn production in 1935, the government will pay the farmer a sum of 35 cents a bushel for the average acreage planted to corn on the same land in 1932 and 1933.

For hogs the payment is $15 per head on 10 per cent of the hog base for 1932 and 1933, or the adjusted annual average number of hogs produced for market in those two years.

Share Expenses
In the payments for both a pro-rata share of the administrative expenses of the Corn-Hog Control association of the county in which the farming unit is located will be collected from the amounts.

The contract stipulates that the payments will be made in two installments. The first, to be made as soon as practicable after the contract is accepted by the secretary of agriculture, will be 20 cents a bushel for the corn, and $7.50 a head for the hogs. The second and last installment, to include the remainder of the payment minus the administrative expenses, will be paid on or about Jan. 1, 1936.

For those who fail to follow the provisions of the contract, strict penalties are set up. The contract provides that "if the acres planted to corn in 1935 exceed the number permitted under this contract the secretary (of agriculture) may for each excess acre direct the disposition at the expense of the signers hereof, of an amount of corn equal to the adjusted estimated yield of corn per acre."

$20 Penalty
As a penalty for exceeding the hog provisions, the contract reads that "if the number of hogs produced for market from 1935 litters exceeds the maximum number permitted under this contract, there may be deducted from each payment $20 per head for each or any of the hogs in excess of such number."

The contract further states that in the event of termination of a contract by the government for any evidence of noncompliance, no additional payment will be made and all previous payments will be refunded to the government.

And to secure such a refund, according to the contract, the secretary of agriculture shall have a lien on corn and hogs now owned or owned in the future by the party or parties obligated to make such a refund.

The most recent figures available indicate that payments already made and due farmers under the 1934 corn-hog contract will total $367,655,630. Experts believe the 1935 contract will cost the government a like amount.
