

Test Your Knowledge

Can you answer seven of these ten questions? Turn to page Four for the answers.

1. Who wrote the comedy, "The Diva"?
2. In which state is the city of Stroudsburg?
3. What do the initials J. S. D. stand for?
4. What is divination?
5. Which city of the U. S. is the largest railroad center?
6. Name the last Democratic President before Franklin D. Roosevelt.
7. Of what group of islands is Manila the capital?
8. Who was Thomas Killigrew?
9. Name the science which deals with the celestial bodies.
10. What is a studbook?

1. What is an astrolabe?
2. What is the full real name of V. C. Fields, the actor?
3. Name the port at the Mediterranean end of the Suez canal.
4. How many members are in the President's cabinet?
5. Who was Edward Charles Pickering?
6. What is rigor mortis?
7. Name the branch of natural history that treats of reptiles.

8. Which English king was surnamed Coeur de Lion?

9. Who was Charles Kingsley?

10. In which of Washington Irving's collections of tales is the story of Rip Van Winkle?

COURT HOUSE

Complaint Filed
A complaint on note was filed by the Department of Financial Institutions in the matter of the liquidation of the Old Adams County bank against Peter Everett and John Everett an dthe summons was issued returnable February 28.

Petition Filed
A petition was filed by the special representative in the matter of liquidation of the Old Adams County bank for authority to execute a partial release of a mortgage. The petition was submitted and sustained and the authority granted.

Foreclosure of Mortgage Filed
Foreclosure of mortgage was filed by the Department of Financial Institutions in liquidation of Old Adams County bank against Mary C. Niblick, and others. The summons for the defendants were issued, returnable February 28.

PUBLIC SALE

I will sell at public auction at my farm, 5 miles north of Bluffton on State Road No. 1, then the first farm east, on

WEDNESDAY, February 19, 1936

Commencing at 10 A. M.

11—HEAD OF MULES—11
Pair steel grey mules, 8 yrs. old, sound, wt. 3,000 lbs.; Pair dark brown mules, 4 yrs. old, wt. 2,700 lbs.; Pair black mules, 6 and 8 yrs. old, wt. 3,000 lbs.; sound; Pair Dunn mules, 8 yrs. old, wt. 3,000 lbs.; sound; Pair Bay mules, 8 and 10 yrs. old, wt. 2,700 lbs.; sound; Odd Bay mules, wt. 1,500 lbs., 10 yrs. old. These mules are exceptionally good workers.

40—HEAD DAIRY CATTLE—40
28 outstanding dairy cows, 2 Guernsey cows, 2 Ayrshire cows, the balance are Jerseys. All of these cows are exceptional in quality. Good well balanced udders, good teat placements. Several have calves by side. Some on full flow of milk, the balance will freshen soon; 12 head of extra good heifers to freshen in March and April. These are Guernseys and Jerseys. The kind you like to own. Plenty of size, real producers. Come and look them over any time before sale day. One Jersey and Shorthorn bull.

HOGS AND SHEEP
27 brood sows, Hampshire, Chester White and Durocs, will farrow first of March; 1 Duroc boar and 1 big type Poland China Boar coming 2 yr. old; 100 extra good feeder hogs, 85 to 140 lbs.; 200 good Shropshire ewes, 2, 3, 4 and 5 yr. old, will lamb in April.

IMPLEMENTS—McCormick Deering manure spreader, good; Super for 12 hole grain drill; Rotary hoe; John Deere 2 row corn plow, new; 2 riding breaking plows John Deere and Syracuse; Gale and Scotch Clipper walking plows; 2 good wagons; triple wagon box; 16 ft. scotch and grain bed; end-gate seeder; 14-16 double disc; 140 egg X-Ray incubator; oil brooder; moving pulley.

HARNESS—6 double sets of good harness. Many articles too numerous to mention.

Terms—Cash. Anyone desiring credit make arrangements with Old First National Bank, Bluffton, S. C. clerk.

HOMER MILLS, Owner

Lunch by Pugnacy Ladies Aid.

PUBLIC SALE

The undersigned executor, will offer for sale, the personal property of the late Lydia Neuschwander, one-half mile west of Berne, on the J. M. Neuschwander farm, on state road No. 118, on

WEDNESDAY, February 19, 1936

Sale to begin at 10 o'clock A. M., the following described property:

2 HORSES AND 2 MULES—1 sorrel horse, 7 years old, weight 900 lbs.; 1 roan mare, weight 1700 lbs.; A span of mules, 10 years old, weight 1150 lbs. each.

16 HEAD OF CATTLE—Three fresh cows, one Jersey, 5 years old, one Holstein, 6 years old; one Guernsey, 4 yrs. old, one Guernsey, 6 years old, due to freshen in March; one Holstein, 8 years old, due to freshen in March; one Holstein, 7 years old, due to freshen in March; one Holstein, 8 years old, due to freshen in April; one Holstein heifer, 3 years old, due to freshen in April; one Guernsey heifer, 2 years old, due to freshen in May; one Holstein, 5 years old, due to freshen in June; one Jersey, 7 years old, due to freshen in June; one Holstein, 4 years old, due to freshen in May; one Holstein, 3 years old, due to freshen in July; one Jersey, 5 years old, due to freshen in March, one registered Holstein bull, 2 years old.

19 HOGS—Three brood sows, one with 6 pigs by side, one with 8 pigs by side, one with 10 pigs by side; 15 shoats weighing about 100 lbs.; one Duroc male hog, 18 months old.

10 DOZEN POULTRY—Four dozen Senex speckled pullets; Six dozen mixed breed hens.

IMPLEMENTS—Three farm wagons, one low wheel—all three in good condition; one hax rack, and one grain bed; one Deering grain binder; one Deering mower, 6 ft. cut; one fearless hay loader; one hay rake; one hay tedder; one manure spreader; one rotary hoe; one cult-packer; one double disc; one Deering corn planter; one three-section spring tooth harrow; one spike tooth harrow; one tractor plow; two walking breaking plows; two 2-shovel plows; one 7-shovel cultivator; one Superior fertilizer grain drill; one good bob sled; one sleigh; one storm buggy; one Papee silage cutter; one McCormick corn husker; one Ross fodder cutter; hay ropes and pulleys; one fence stretcher; one pump-jack; 1 cream separator; 5 milk cans; 1-2½ horse power, gasoline engine; one light Ford truck; one good buzz saw buck with two blades; two brooder houses 12x12 ft.; one corn shelter; one platform scale, capacity 3,000 lbs.; milk machine.

HARNESS—Two full sets of good breeding harness; light survey harness; a lot of horse collars, etc.

HAY AND GRAIN—About 10 tons of timothy hay in mow; About 70 shocks of corn fodder in field; About 1750 bushels corn in crib. HOUSEHOLD GOODS—FURNITURE— Two extension tables; one cupboard; one china closet; two good range stoves; one side board; 2 wardrobes; one good oil stove; one table; one davenport; one Allen heating stove; dining room chairs; linoleum; 1 good vice; forks, shovels and many other articles not mentioned.

TERMS—CASH. Anyone desiring credit may make arrangements with the sale clerk.

JOHN C. AUGSBURGER, Executor

Auctioneers—Michael and Neuschwander, E. W. Baumgartner, Clerk.

turnable February 29.

Real Estate Transfers
Caroline Sprunger et al to Leonard F. Sprunger, 120 acres in Wabash township, for $1.

Theodore Sprunger to Leonard F. Sprunger, 120 acres in Wabash twp. for $1.

J. H. Probst, guardian, to Leonard F. Sprunger, 120 acres in Wabash township for $300.

Marriage Licenses
Miss Helen Holle, route 3, Decatur, to Lewis Shinkel, die maker, route 4, Port Wayne.

Miss Vera Ickes, housekeeper, Port Wayne, to James Dibert, factory employee, Decatur.

Miss Helen Hoffman, General Electric, Decatur, to Virgil McClure, Decatur Casting Co., Decatur.

Miss Irene Peck, housekeeper, Preble township, to Glen Girod, farmer, Kirkland township.

Household Scrapbook
By Roberta Lee

The Door Key
That important door key will not be evasive any more when the housewife returns from the grocery if she will sew a large-sized dress hook inside her handbag, near the top, on which to hang the key.

Cutting Cheese and Butter
The knife will not stick when cutting cheese or butter if a piece of wax paper is folded over the cutting edge of the knife.

Damp Shoes
Shoes will not crack if a little sweet oil is rubbed on them while they are damp.

READVERTISE
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

ternate bids of $205 and $283.

Accept Proposal
The commissioners accepted the proposal of Federal Laboratories of Pittsburgh, Pa., for a Thompson machine gun, federal type riot gun, grenades, revolver, handcuffs, cases for guns and rounds of ammunition. The bid was $542.65. The equipment has been delivered to Sheriff Dallas Brown and is

ROY S. JOHNSON
AUCTIONEER

Office, Room 9
Peoples Loan & Trust Bldg.
Phones 104 and 1022
Decatur, Indiana

Feb. 18—Henry Yake, ¾ mile north Kirkland high school or 5 miles west and 1½ mile south of Decatur. Closing out sale.

Feb. 18—Wm. Steva, west of St. Marys, Ohio on No. 54, closing out sale.

Feb. 19—Homer Mills, 3 miles north, ½ mile west of Bluffton.

Feb. 20—John Fleuckiger, 2 mi. south, 2 mile west of Berne. Closing out sale.

Feb. 21—Decatur Riverside Stock Sale.

Feb. 22—Jacob Saan estate, 3 mile east, ½ mile south of Middleberry. Closing out farm sale.

Feb. 24—Kniffelcamp Bros., 1 mile east of Monroeville. Closing out sale.

Feb. 25—Luther Funk, 1 mile east of Pleasant Mills on north side of river.

Feb. 26—R. W. Hovatter, 4 mi. north of Decatur. Closing out sale.

Feb. 27—Bert Marquardt, 4 mi. north of Monroeville, Chester White Hogs.

Feb. 27—Bert Marquardt, north of Monroeville on Lincoln highway. Hog sale.

Feb. 28—Decatur Riverside Stock Sale.

Feb. 29—Wm. Steva, Wapakoneta, Ohio, Fair Grounds, Short Horn Cattle.

Mar. 2—Wm. Etchenaur, 5½ mile south of Rockford, O., closing out sale.

Mar. 3—D. J. Barkley, 2½ mile south of Monroeville.

Mar. 4—David Bollinger, 1½ mi. south of Monroe on No. 27.

Mar. 5—Shardt and Yahn, 1 mi. west of Ohio City.

Mar. 6—Decatur Riverside Sale.

Mar. 7—Dewey Plimley, 1¼ mi. south, 1¼ mile east of Dixon.

Mar. 10—B. F. Barfell, 3 mile west of Monroeville on cement road.

"Claim Your Sale Date Early"
My service includes looking after every detail of your sale and more dollars for you the day of your auction.

stored at the county jail. The price of the machine gun was $225; the riot gun, $60 and the grenades, $10 each. The other items of equipment brought the total up to $542.65.

Bids on March 3
The commissioners will receive bids on the tractors on March 3. At the same time the board will receive proposals for furnishing nine tons of 2-12-6 fertilizer, delivered to the county infirmary.

Auto Plant Buys Horses
Toronto, Ont. —(UP)—A factory making automobile parts here is buying horses. They are used on farms owned by the firm, where the men grow vegetables during "slack" periods at the factory.

Art Works Collected
KIEV, U.S.S.R. (UP)—More than 50,000 children's works of art have been received by the exhibitions of children's art works in the Ukraine. Of this number 5,000 Ukrainian. They have been reserved for the All-Ukrainian Exhibition of Children's Works of Art.

Trade in a Good Town — Decatur

"LOVE DENIED"
by LOUISE LONG and ETHEL DOHERTY

CHAPTER XXXVIII
"Look here, Sharlene," he said more quietly. "Be reasonable. You must know that to a man of my temperament, a little flirtation is necessary. I want you to remain my wife—the heart of my home—my protection against the kind of woman I don't want for a wife."

"I see," Sharlene said gently. "Julie, in the background, began to breathe heavily with rising wrath. Her eyes darted fire at Kent's back. He did not notice her."

"I resent your coming here, Sharlene. It's cheap. We should have had this out at home, decently, no melodrama. Cora would never have done this."

Julie, unable to contain herself any longer, flounced into the room to face him, like a small red fury. "Do I understand you, Mr. Kent Damerell, that you expect me to be kept in the dark, hidden, while she remains your wife? You've got another thing coming!" Her voice rose to a shriek and she stamped her foot.

"Look here, Julie," he began sternly. "Shut up! I hate you! I won't make your old picture! I won't be humiliated this way! You smug mug!" She broke into a storm of wild sobbing, glaring at him through her tears, stamping her foot.

A negress in cap and apron, shaking a wet umbrella, clattered into the corridor from some back entrance and looked into the room where they were standing.

"Maizie!" shouted Julie, turning her rage on her maid, "what'd you mean, going off to see that woman about but in here?"

"I jes went out a minute to tell my boy to wait for me 'cause I didn't know how late I'd be—" Her eyes rolled toward Kent.

"Get out of here!" screamed Julie. "You're fired!" She pushed her furiously out of the room and slammed the door in her face, sobbing hysterically.

Sharlene shrank back, feeling queerly remote, as she was looking at the incredible moving picture. She roused herself with an effort, beginning to feel again the gnawing, clutching pain that wanted to reach up into her brain and take away her consciousness.

"Wait, Julie," she said exhaustedly, putting out her hand as Julie whirled back from the door. "your tie's rolled toward Kent."

Julie tried to stop her uncontrolled weeping, watching Sharlene uncomprehendingly while the tears coursed down her small storm-tossed face.

"What do you mean, Sharlene?" asked Kent sharply. "Come on, let's get through with this scene. I hate scenes!"

"I'm going. I just mean, Julie, that you can have him. I—I don't want him any more." She pulled the damp coat about her and turned toward the door.

"Sharlene!" Kent started toward her. She stopped him with a level look straight from her hurt, indignant heart.

When she got to the door she stood for a moment painfully considering its ivory painted surface, fumbling for the knob. As she opened the door and let in a gust of wind and rain, she looked back at them, saying in a queer, amazed voice:

"This—Is Good Friday!"

She was gone into the night. Kent and Julie stared at the closed door. "Is she cuckoo?" asked Julie, sniffing. "It's not even Christmas yet!"

Outside, Sharlene stood in the driving rain, trying to think what to do. The water ran down her neck unheeded. She was alone on the little dark street of the deserted studio village. She stared down at her ungloved hand where she still clutched the telegram as in a vise. Rain stiffened the fingers with cold.

"I'm all alone," she thought. "There isn't anybody, any more. Nobody needs me. . . . How badly I've built—to have it happen like this, when most of my life is before me. . . . But there's mother's poor broken body. I must do something about that. . . ."

Morton, anxious about her, left the car at the gate and came down the little street to wait in the rain. He found her coming toward him, heading against the storm.

Auto Plant Buys Horses

Toronto, Ont. —(UP)—A factory making automobile parts here is buying horses. They are used on farms owned by the firm, where the men grow vegetables during "slack" periods at the factory.

Art Works Collected

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (UP)—More than 50,000 children's works of art have been received by the exhibitions of children's art works in the Ukraine. Of this number 5,000 Ukrainian. They have been reserved for the All-Ukrainian Exhibition of Children's Works of Art.

Trade in a Good Town — Decatur

"LOVE DENIED"

by LOUISE LONG and ETHEL DOHERTY

CHAPTER XXXVIII

"Look here, Sharlene," he said more quietly. "Be reasonable. You must know that to a man of my temperament, a little flirtation is necessary. I want you to remain my wife—the heart of my home—my protection against the kind of woman I don't want for a wife."

"I see," Sharlene said gently. "Julie, in the background, began to breathe heavily with rising wrath. Her eyes darted fire at Kent's back. He did not notice her."

"I resent your coming here, Sharlene. It's cheap. We should have had this out at home, decently, no melodrama. Cora would never have done this."

Julie, unable to contain herself any longer, flounced into the room to face him, like a small red fury. "Do I understand you, Mr. Kent Damerell, that you expect me to be kept in the dark, hidden, while she remains your wife? You've got another thing coming!" Her voice rose to a shriek and she stamped her foot.

"Look here, Julie," he began sternly. "Shut up! I hate you! I won't make your old picture! I won't be humiliated this way! You smug mug!" She broke into a storm of wild sobbing, glaring at him through her tears, stamping her foot.

A negress in cap and apron, shaking a wet umbrella, clattered into the corridor from some back entrance and looked into the room where they were standing.

"Maizie!" shouted Julie, turning her rage on her maid, "what'd you mean, going off to see that woman about but in here?"

"I jes went out a minute to tell my boy to wait for me 'cause I didn't know how late I'd be—" Her eyes rolled toward Kent.

"Get out of here!" screamed Julie. "You're fired!" She pushed her furiously out of the room and slammed the door in her face, sobbing hysterically.

Sharlene shrank back, feeling queerly remote, as she was looking at the incredible moving picture. She roused herself with an effort, beginning to feel again the gnawing, clutching pain that wanted to reach up into her brain and take away her consciousness.

"Wait, Julie," she said exhaustedly, putting out her hand as Julie whirled back from the door. "your tie's rolled toward Kent."

Julie tried to stop her uncontrolled weeping, watching Sharlene uncomprehendingly while the tears coursed down her small storm-tossed face.

"What do you mean, Sharlene?" asked Kent sharply. "Come on, let's get through with this scene. I hate scenes!"

"I'm going. I just mean, Julie, that you can have him. I—I don't want him any more." She pulled the damp coat about her and turned toward the door.

"Sharlene!" Kent started toward her. She stopped him with a level look straight from her hurt, indignant heart.

When she got to the door she stood for a moment painfully considering its ivory painted surface, fumbling for the knob. As she opened the door and let in a gust of wind and rain, she looked back at them, saying in a queer, amazed voice:

"This—Is Good Friday!"

She was gone into the night. Kent and Julie stared at the closed door. "Is she cuckoo?" asked Julie, sniffing. "It's not even Christmas yet!"

Outside, Sharlene stood in the driving rain, trying to think what to do. The water ran down her neck unheeded. She was alone on the little dark street of the deserted studio village. She stared down at her ungloved hand where she still clutched the telegram as in a vise. Rain stiffened the fingers with cold.

"I'm all alone," she thought. "There isn't anybody, any more. Nobody needs me. . . . How badly I've built—to have it happen like this, when most of my life is before me. . . . But there's mother's poor broken body. I must do something about that. . . ."

Morton, anxious about her, left the car at the gate and came down the little street to wait in the rain. He found her coming toward him, heading against the storm.

Auto Plant Buys Horses

Toronto, Ont. —(UP)—A factory making automobile parts here is buying horses. They are used on farms owned by the firm, where the men grow vegetables during "slack" periods at the factory.

Art Works Collected

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (UP)—More than 50,000 children's works of art have been received by the exhibitions of children's art works in the Ukraine. Of this number 5,000 Ukrainian. They have been reserved for the All-Ukrainian Exhibition of Children's Works of Art.

Trade in a Good Town — Decatur

"LOVE DENIED"

by LOUISE LONG and ETHEL DOHERTY

CHAPTER XXXVIII

"Look here, Sharlene," he said more quietly. "Be reasonable. You must know that to a man of my temperament, a little flirtation is necessary. I want you to remain my wife—the heart of my home—my protection against the kind of woman I don't want for a wife."

"I see," Sharlene said gently. "Julie, in the background, began to breathe heavily with rising wrath. Her eyes darted fire at Kent's back. He did not notice her."

"I resent your coming here, Sharlene. It's cheap. We should have had this out at home, decently, no melodrama. Cora would never have done this."

Julie, unable to contain herself any longer, flounced into the room to face him, like a small red fury. "Do I understand you, Mr. Kent Damerell, that you expect me to be kept in the dark, hidden, while she remains your wife? You've got another thing coming!" Her voice rose to a shriek and she stamped her foot.

"Look here, Julie," he began sternly. "Shut up! I hate you! I won't make your old picture! I won't be humiliated this way! You smug mug!" She broke into a storm of wild sobbing, glaring at him through her tears, stamping her foot.

A negress in cap and apron, shaking a wet umbrella, clattered into the corridor from some back entrance and looked into the room where they were standing.

"Maizie!" shouted Julie, turning her rage on her maid, "what'd you mean, going off to see that woman about but in here?"

"I jes went out a minute to tell my boy to wait for me 'cause I didn't know how late I'd be—" Her eyes rolled toward Kent.

"Get out of here!" screamed Julie. "You're fired!" She pushed her furiously out of the room and slammed the door in her face, sobbing hysterically.

Sharlene shrank back, feeling queerly remote, as she was looking at the incredible moving picture. She roused herself with an effort, beginning to feel again the gnawing, clutching pain that wanted to reach up into her brain and take away her consciousness.

"Wait, Julie," she said exhaustedly, putting out her hand as Julie whirled back from the door. "your tie's rolled toward Kent."

Julie tried to stop her uncontrolled weeping, watching Sharlene uncomprehendingly while the tears coursed down her small storm-tossed face.

"What do you mean, Sharlene?" asked Kent sharply. "Come on, let's get through with this scene. I hate scenes!"

"I'm going. I just mean, Julie, that you can have him. I—I don't want him any more." She pulled the damp coat about her and turned toward the door.

"Sharlene!" Kent started toward her. She stopped him with a level look straight from her hurt, indignant heart.

When she got to the door she stood for a moment painfully considering its ivory painted surface, fumbling for the knob. As she opened the door and let in a gust of wind and rain, she looked back at them, saying in a queer, amazed voice:

"This—Is Good Friday!"

She was gone into the night. Kent and Julie stared at the closed door. "Is she cuckoo?" asked Julie, sniffing. "It's not even Christmas yet!"

Outside, Sharlene stood in the driving rain, trying to think what to do. The water ran down her neck unheeded. She was alone on the little dark street of the deserted studio village. She stared down at her ungloved hand where she still clutched the telegram as in a vise. Rain stiffened the fingers with cold.

"I'm all alone," she thought. "There isn't anybody, any more. Nobody needs me. . . . How badly I've built—to have it happen like this, when most of my life is before me. . . . But there's mother's poor broken body. I must do something about that. . . ."

Morton, anxious about her, left the car at the gate and came down the little street to wait in the rain. He found her coming toward him, heading against the storm.

MARKET REPORTS

DAILY REPORT OF LOCAL AND FOREIGN MARKETS

Brady's Market for Decatur, Berne, Craigville, Hoagland and Willshire. Close at 12 Noon.

Corrected February 17.

No commission and no yardage. Yeals received Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.