RESEARCH CLUB REGULAR MEETING

Eighteen members of the Research Club and two guests met at the home of Mrs. Leo Saylor on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. After the club collect, Mrs. H. R. Carson, the leader for the afternoon gave a most instructive talk on "Religious Publications" in quoting from "The Publishers Weekly" Mrs. Carson said, "In general it may be said that most religious educational books of today are alert to the more assured teaching of psychology, and that they take note of the fact that the religious life is something that develops within rather than something that can be pasted on externally. The laws of spiritual growth are studied objectively, and are made to furnish inference for the guidance of parents and teachers. Contemporary books are sensitive too, to the trends in social thinking, the task of religion being envisaged by many writers as that of equipping people to refashion the social order in conformity with the mind of Christ."

At the close of the meeting, the hostess served tea assisted by Mrs. Clifford Saylor.

Each puff less acid A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

The simple mechanical details of cigarette manufacture are of surprising importance. Upon them depend the physical properties of the cigarette, such as weight, size, firmness, moisture-holding properties, uniformity of fill, uniformity of product—all of which have a far-reaching effect on the character of its combustion and the constituents of its smoke.

In the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes all of these properties have been standardized with care for the perfection of A LIGHT SMOKE.
