GRIMM FAVORS CUBS CHANCES

Champs To Start Veteran Lineup; Cards Named Most Dangerous

Clearwater, Fla., Mar. 31.—(U.P.)—The Cubs were mostly veteran when they went to their spring training camp on Catalina Island and with one exception they will be all-veteran by the time the season is well under way.

Here today for a Grapefruit league game with the Brooklyn Daffies, manager Charley Grimm reported the condition of his men as "satisfactory," and said he has not changed his earlier opinion that "I like our chances to repeat."

The boss of the National league champs rates St. Louis "our most dangerous rivals because of pitching, and I'd consider New York a terrific menace if they had a rounded pitching staff to balance a great outfield and a good infield."

Grimm, like other National league pilots, rates the Pittsburgh Pirates as the most logical club for fourth place. But he feels that the Bucs "haven't got the pitching to support some fine power."

Most outstanding development of the Cubs' spring training, which began on a Pacific isle and is continuing through Florida, is the apparent comeback of Charley Grimm. He's gone onto a scientific diet and physicians assure him he will have no recurrence of his old back injury. Another important point established definitely is that there is nothing permanent about Lonnie Warneke's world series injury.

There's a familiar ring to the Cubs' batting order, which is all but certain for opening day: Augie

Galan, center; Bill Herman, second; Chuck Klein, right; Gabby Hartnett, catcher; Frank Demaree, left; Charley Grimm, first; Stan Hack, third; Billy Jurgens, short, and Lon Warneke, pitcher.

Only one of the original 1936 roster has been lopped off. He's Hugh Casey. By May 16, however, there will be only one 100 per cent rookie. He's Gene Lillard, who hit .361 with Los Angeles last year, and who is coming along nicely this spring.

The pitching first string is all veteran, which means that it consists of Warneke, Bill Lee, Larry French, Charley Root and Tex Carleton. Fabian Kowalik, Roy Henshaw, and Clay Bryant are the second line. Bryant is a rookie out of Birmingham. He hasn't done too well this spring but Grimm hasn't changed his mind about keeping him.

George Tucker Stainback of Los Angeles is the club's problem child. He will be sent to a farm if Grimm can develop a satisfactory fifth outfielder. Grimm feels the kid has been pampered too much and think a season of bus rides in the country somewhere would have a salubrious effect.

Wayne Coy Confers On Welfare Work

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—(U.P.)—Wayne Coy, acting director of the state welfare board, left for Washington today to consult federal social security board members on Indiana's new pension-relief act. Federal approval of the newly-enacted security law is necessary before it can be placed in operation Coy said.

Coy said that personnel of the new department will not be selected until after formal approval has been received. He said the state department should be in full operation within a month.

Ruffing To Hurl
St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 31.—(U.P.)—Red Ruffing, New York Yankees pitcher who was a holdout until a few days ago, was scheduled to make his first start of the spring today against the Newark Bears. Frank Crosetti, shortstop, who came to camp at $1 a year man, yesterday signed a contract reported to be for $8,000.

Leiber In Slump
El Dorado, Ark.—Hank Leiber's hitting slump has manager Bill Terry worried. The big center fielder has made only five hits in 26 times at bat, and may lose his cleanup post if he does not shake his slump.

Bees Lose
St. Petersburg, Fla.—The Boston Bees wound up their Grapefruit league schedule yesterday by blowing a 10-inning contest to the New York Yankees, 5-4, and after a final workout will start their trek north tonight.

Play To Tie
Sarasota, Fla.—With an open date today manager Joe Cronin has slated an intensive practice session for the Boston Red Sox this morning. Yesterday the Red Sox journeyed to Clearwater and ran into another extra-inning battle, this time with the Brooklyn Dodgers and resulting in a 6-6 deadlock after 13 innings. The Red Sox used 17 players in the game while 22 Dodgers, including six pitchers, saw action.

Athletics Weak
Griffin, Ga.—Connie Mack is admittedly vexed by his inconsistent Athletics. "They are good one day," he said, "and bad, very bad, the next." Mack is keeping his option on Almon Williams, Atlanta hurler, despite the way the A's treated his delivery in Atlanta.

Plan Services For Palm Sunday

Palm Sunday will be observed with special music and appropriate services in the Decatur Methodist Episcopal church, according to the announcement of the pastor, the Rev. H. R. Carson.

In keeping with ancient custom opportunity will be given for decisions for Christ and a class which has been under instruction will be received into preparatory membership.

On Easter Sunday the preparatory class will be received into full membership and a class of adults will likely be received. Christian baptism will be administered to infants and small children and all parents of the church are urged to bring their unbaptized children to this Easter service.

Deny Application For State Benefits

Indianapolis, Mar. 31.—(U.P.)—An application of the state for approximately $250,000 benefits from the federal government for old age and blind pensions has been denied, Edward P. Brennan, state budget director, announced today.

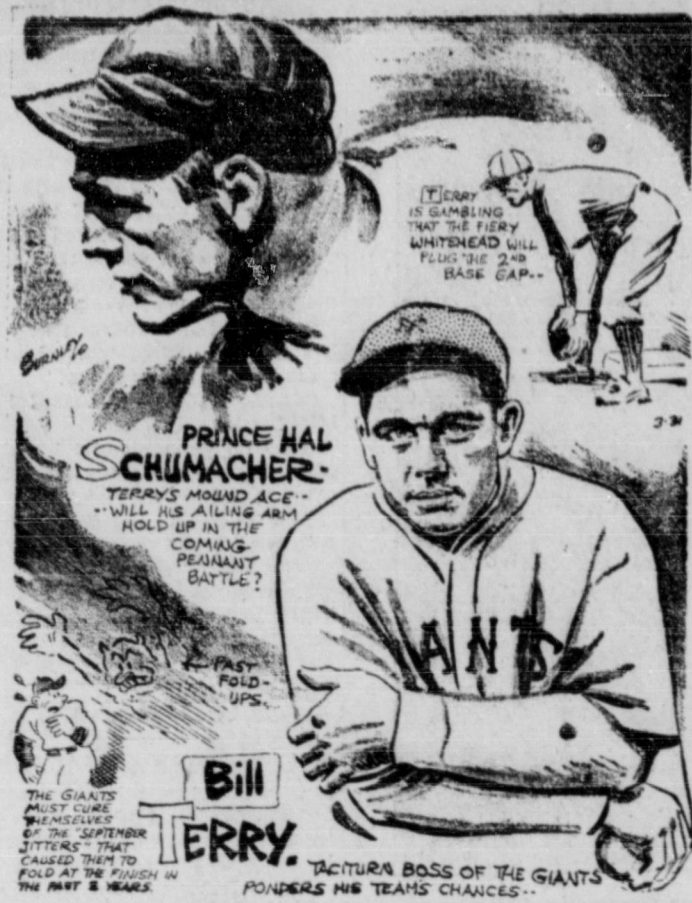

Indiana's benefits from the federal government will not begin until next month.

The state did not qualify for benefits for February and March as state officials had hoped and will not receive approximately $250,000 for which they applied, he said.

Pleas Greenlee Continues Attack

Whiting, Ind., Mar. 31.—(U.P.)—"Back room bosses" are running the state government, Pleas E. Greenlee, former patronage director, and candidate for Democratic nomination for governor charged in an address here last night.

Continuing his attack on Frank McHale, former Logansport attorney and political advisor to Gov. Paul V. McNutt, and Wayne Coy, state relief administrator, Greenlee said state employees are being threatened with loss of their jobs for supporting him.

Garden-Fresh Vegetables

Are Healthiest. 10 Foot Square Is Large Enough.
Growing vegetables in your own back yard is a healthful practice from more than one point of view. We think of garden-fresh vegetables harvested an hour before mealtime, as wholesome because they contain in full amount the vitamins and mineral salts which nature put in them. But there is another angle to consider.

The physical exertion of gardening is healthful. It is a physical culture course in its own right, and although it won't give you a massage and a rubdown after the exercises are over, the open air and sunlight will compensate for this little oversight.

The vegetable garden is a good family doctor, faithful, reliable and always at hand. Bending and stretching over the rows of radishes and lettuce are excellent for reducing as well as muscle building. Active gardening will shrink a too obtrusive midriff in the course of a few weeks, and the green vegetables produced are not fattening, but may be consumed without fear of putting on extra poundage.

Green vegetables in the spring are the true spring tonic. The old-fashioned spring tonic was designed to correct deficiencies of diet during the winter months. Today, instead of a tonic, green vegetables are prescribed the year around for general upbuilding. Not until science discovered these mysterious substances, the vitamins, was the need for tonics scientifically explained. It is now known that a lack of vigor in winter was often akin to scurvy and due to lack of vitamins in the diet.

The vegetable gardener will not be caught short on his vitamin needs, because there is no greater supply to be found than in fresh vegetables taken from the garden just before eaten.

If you are farsighted you will order a few of the everlasting annuals. They may be dried in the summer and fall and used for bouquets during the winter.

HOOVER WARNS OF UNDERWORLD

Chief Of Federal Agents Warns Of Powerful Criminals

Washington, Mar. 31.—(U.P.)—A terse warning by the chief of the nation's federal agents disclosed today that the American underworld may soon possess weapons so powerful that millions of dollars worth of police equipment will be "absolutely useless" against gangsters.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of America's battle against gangdom, gave congress a glimpse of what to expect in testimony at a secret session of the house appropriations committee.

He assured the committee, however, that the federal agents were experimenting with new equipment, including a powerful type of armored automobile, designed to smash the most desperate and heavily armed criminal gangs.

Describing ingenious methods of criminals in seeking to outwit law enforcement agencies, Hoover said that it had been learned that "certain equipment" in firearms is being manufactured and that this equipment "affords a greater velocity and greater penetration power than the current type."

"It is such a menace that million of dollars worth of equipment purchased by the law enforcement agencies in this country, including ours, such as bullet proof vests and shields used in approaching houses during raids, will be absolutely useless with this high-powered equipment and ammunition about to be put on the market."

Hoover did not disclose further details of the new equipment, but it was learned that the department had been conducting extensive experiments with powerful guns and with equipment for defense against the most modern weapons.

Bill Reported
Washington, Mar. 31.—(U.P.)—Expansion of activities of the federal bureau of investigation and the steamboat inspection service was provided for in the "four department" appropriation bill, reported to the house today by the appropriations committee.

The measure, next to the last regular departmental supply bill of the session, carried $17,654,400 for the state department, $41,261,300 for the justice department, $34,054,700 for the commerce department, and $21,697,000 for the labor department.

The total recommended appropriation was $114,667,400, or $7,984,177 less than budget estimates but $7,900,074 more than appropriated for the present fiscal year. The increase over the present appropriation was mainly due to public works projects and administration of the social security and Guffey coal acts.

Praising the work of "G-men," the committee recommended that the bureau of investigation have $6,025,000 to spend, an increase of $225,000 over the budget recommendation.

Referring to the Morrow Castle and Mohawk maritime disasters the committee proposed $1,927,500 for the bureau of navigation and steamboat inspection service in the commerce department. This amount was $167,500 over budget estimates. It would enable hiring of 40 to 50 additional assistant steamboat inspectors.

For public works the bill provides the justice department $2,850,000, of which $1,700,000 would be used to construct new federal jails to supplant use of county jails for detention of federal prisoners.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1935

THE 80th Annual Report of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company covering operations for 1935 will be presented to the stockholders at the annual meeting on April 14, 1936. The report shows that total operating revenues increased over 1934 by $24,143,487, or 7% (due in part to increase in freight rates), but continued subnormal, being 46% less than the annual average for 1925-1929. Operating expenses increased $17,132,347 (due principally to higher wages). The Company earned a net income of $23,849,798 as compared with $21,633,965 in 1934. Surplus for 1935 was equal to 2.8% upon the outstanding Capital Stock as compared with 2.5% in 1934. Surplus per share (par $50) was $1.38 as compared with $1.23 in 1934.
