Hospital Hires Barbers

San Diego, Cal. —(UP)—In the belief that shaves and haircuts improve a patient's mental attitude and thus speed his recovery, Cecil Collins of the county hospital staff has started a movement to have barbers attend those patients who cannot themselves afford it.

DEMAND REPEAL GROSS INCOME

Threaten Black-Listing Candidates Favoring Income Tax

Indianapolis, May 22. — (UP)— Black-listing of candidates favoring retention of the state gross income tax was threatened today as the Indiana Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association prepared to carry its fight against the 1933 law into the November election.

Indiana retailers will campaign actively against nominees who have not definitely established themselves as opponents of the tax measure, Charles J. Steiss, secretary of the association, said.

One of the weapons will be the black-list which will contain the names of those favoring retention of the tax and which will be distributed widely throughout the state, he asserted.

The other will be an "over-the-counter" campaign in which the retailer will appeal to his customers for support in the fight against the measure.

"We are going right down the line and use every means at our disposal to force repeal of the gross income tax," Steiss declared.

The law provides that retailers pay a one per cent tax annually on their gross incomes in the excess of $1,000. The rate was set at one-fourth of one per cent for manufacturing and production industries.

Steiss pointed out that the chief complaint of the retailers against the tax was that because they sell in small lots they are unable to pass the tax on to the customer as can the wholesaler or the dealer in large, expensive merchandise.

The tax also has been condemned as "iniquitous" and "confiscatory" by the retailers because it forced payment on the gross income instead of the margin of profits.

the law during the special session

Townsendites Bring Petitions

Newest move of supporters of the Townsend old age pension plan to gain support for their program came when a delegation of supporters from California trekked across country to Washington, D. C., to present Congressman Martin Smith of Washington and John Tolan of California, center, with petitions which they claimed were signed by more than 10,000,000 persons demanding enactment of the old age pension plan.

of the legislature, but were unable to obtain support of their pleas for repeal at that time.

With merchants crowded about the halls, members of the house of representatives brought out in first reading a measure providing for repeal of the gross income tax, but it failed to advance further.

Church Planning For Quarterly Conference

The third quarterly conference of the Eighth Street United Brethren church will be held at the church Saturday and Sunday. Rev.
H. W. Kindell of Huntington will conduct the services.

The first service will be held at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, with a business session following Rev.
Kindell's sermon. Preaching followed by communion will be held at 10:30 a. m. Sunday. The meet-

Grades Too High, Girl Is Threatened

Denver, Colo., May 22.—(UP)— Anna Marie Klentchek, 13-year-old Gilpin school pupil, was recovering today from a stab wound in the thigh and shock after 109 students from her school, assertedly prompted by jealousy over her high grades, threatened to hang her.

The girl's mother said the trouble started three days ago when Anna was told that she was to be passed from the fifth to the seventh grade and that several of the other pupils were to be demoted.
Since then the other pupils had followed her about the school yard hurling taunts and threats at her, she said.

CONFESSES TO SLAYING WIFE

Undertaker's Assistant Breaks Under Lie Detector

Oregon, Ill., May 22.—(UP)—Guy Tallmadge, undertaker's assistant who admitted slaying his wife so he could marry a comely widow and retire to a chicken ranch, was held red-eyed and weeping in jail today while authorities completed plans to ask his indictment on a murder charge.

Tallmadge, 58, and bespectacled, confessed during a lie-detector test that his story of his wife's slaying by a bandit was a hoax, that he shot her himself.

Apparently near collapse, he was led from the sheriff's apartment to confront Mrs. Frances Birch, 30-year-old brunette and mother of a 12-year-old girl. He had told her of his troubles at home, of his plans for a divorce. He gave her an expensive diamond ring, and went to a jeweler's to reserve a wedding ring.

"I don't want you to think you were responsible for this at all," Tallmadge told her. Both wept.

Mrs. Birch, drug store cosmetics clerk, accompanied investigators voluntarily when they became suspicious of Tallmadge's story that bandits halted him and his wife on a country road, tried to force their attentions upon her, shot her when she resisted.

Tallmadge broke as officers quizzed him about his purchase of a gun.

The grand jury will be asked to return an indictment against him Monday. Mrs. Birch is not in custody.

Tallmadge admitted his guilt first before Fred Inbau and William O'Neill, who were administering the lie detector test with apparatus they brought here from Northwestern university. Inbau and O'Neill immediately summoned State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell to take the full confession.

EDEN RESENTS

sale of manufactured evidence to the Italians to "protect the good name of the British government and British industry."

British indignation mounted following Eden's speech to the house of commons. It was followed by demand that the foreign office demand the recall of Grandi to Rome.

Despite Britain's charge that the Italians made dum dum bullets accusations on the basis of fabricated evidence the second Italian memorandum was not withdrawn and was released for publication by the league secretariat today.

The British have not denied that Ethiopian warriors used dum dum bullets, many of which were used throughout the country for big game shooting. But the British have insisted they have sold no such weapons to the Ethiopians since East African hostilities began and that all evidence purporting to support charges to the contrary has been fabricated by Lope or similar agents provacateur.
