BEHIND THE SCENES IN HOLLYWOOD
By HARRISON CARROLL

Hollywood — Charles Ruggles fall from a tree, which nearly cost the actor his life, will go into the picture "Mind Your Own Business" as a comedy scene. Ruggles and Jack La Rue, upon whom he fell, will tell you it was far from funny at the time. As the camera records clearly shows, Charlie was plunging head foremost towards a pile of rocks and almost certain death when La Rue threw himself forward and broke the fall.

Charles Ruggles
head foremost towards a pile of rocks and almost certain death when La Rue threw himself forward and broke the fall. The scene they meant to shoot was of Jack ordering Charlie out of the tree, and of Charlie sliding down the trunk. Now they'll show the breaking branch, the fall and will add a scene of Jack picking himself up and saying: "So, you were trying to get away from me."

Ribbers back east teased Dick Powell so much about the mustache he has worn in his last two pictures that Dick has shaved it off and will appear in the future with a smooth upper lip. Warners, who had to be consulted on the matter, back up his decision.

The talk about Greta Garbo unbending must be true, for she was actually climbing trees on location. The company was up on the Lasky ranch and Garbo, wearing a pair of corduroy slacks at the time, climbed up a gnarled oak and then, like a kitten, was afraid to come down. Which gave Bob Taylor an opportunity to clamber up beside her and make an assist.

You Asked Me and I'm Telling You! Shirley McIlhenny, Hollywood: Yes, the Mrs. Cagney who runs a woolcraft shop in Beverly Hills is Mrs. James Cagney. Like the Daniels, Eloise O'Brien, Skeets Gallagher and other working Hollywood wives, she has made quite a success of it, too.

influence her performance. Because of the ruling, M. G. Mers were treated to the odd sight of the little Rainer hanging around the music-scoring department trying to sneak a look at the picture there.

A man in Indiana is writing a book on a new sign language for mutes, and has sent the proofs to Harpo Marx for criticism and suggestions. He knows, of course, that Harpo isn't a mute, but thinks his long experience in pantomime may be put to use.

Here and there in Hollywood... Larry Crosby submits that brother Bing now holds the record for the longest fan letter. It was so bulky it had to be sent in two envelopes. The first contained 30 pages and the second, 16. All closely written in long-hand. The writer is a Milwaukee girl who signs herself "Clara Belle" and who has sent the crowning star an average of one letter a week for the past two years. Gordon and Revell find... with two English sheep dogs on their hands. They bought them as a present for Shirley Temple, but the dogs howled so much and got along so badly with Shirley's pony that Mrs. Temple reluctantly returned them to the donors. Tom Beck will be more careful about mounting horses in the future. His hand and arm are painfully injured as a result of his being kicked and trampled by a frightened steed.

Margot Grahame
An odd meeting, that of Joan Crawford and Margot Grahame. The English actress tore her gown the other night at a late spot and was trying to sew it up when Joan, who happened to be in the lady's lounge at the same time, volunteered to do the job. Irene Coleman and Lynn Talbot are touring the night clubs together these evenings, especially Frank Sebastian's. And Myrna Loy moves into her new house on Dec. 16.

Today's Puzzle: What English actor is planning a little surprise for his studio? They are letting him go to London for a few weeks, but, once there, he is going to break the news that he won't be back until after Christmas. And try and make him.

DEEP INTO THE BIG WOODS on a hunting trip. No luxuries here, as "Herb" Welch—famous Maine Guide—makes noon camp and serves up beans, johnny-cake, and coffee hot from the camp-fire coals, winding up with Camels all around. Hearty outdoor appetites welcome the sense of digestive well-being that smoking Camels encourages. "Herb" says: "Anything that goes into the woods with me has to earn its way. Camels more than earn theirs. Camels are a swell thing to have on the trail...a pleasure and a necessity. I've lived on one meal a day—just dried meat and water at that—and I've dined on the best that the state of Maine offers—but no matter what I'm eating, it always tastes better and digests better when I smoke Camels. And I like Camel's cheery 'life'."

WHEREVER...WHATEVER... WHENEVER YOU EAT— For Digestion's Sake— Smoke Camels!
YOU eat over a thousand meals a year! Many kinds of foods. At all times and places. Sometimes you are free of care—at others, worried and nervous. Yet, thanks to Camels, you can help digestion meet these conditions easily. Smoking Camels speeds up the flow of fluids that start digestion off well and keep it running smoothly. Tension eases. Alkalinity increases. You enjoy your food more—and have a feeling of greater ease and contentment after eating. Mealtime or any time—make it Camels! To millions of men and women, Camels are the last word in cigarette enjoyment. Camels are so mild, they do not get on your nerves—or tire your taste—facts that steady smokers especially appreciate.

ROUTES 100 TRAINS A DAY. H. M. Wright says: "I have to have healthy nerves and good digestion. So I smoke Camels. They do not get on my nerves. And they insure a sense of well-being at mealtime. Camels set me right."

ANOTHER CHAMPION SMOKES CAMELS. Dorothy Holderman set a glider record for both men and women. "Imagine how gliding affects digestion!" she says. "But a few Camels at mealtime bring my digestion right back."
