Lenore Kight Wingard shows her record-breaking technique. Notice the foaming "bow-wave" she pushes up in front—a sure sign of a powerful swimmer.

This picture gives you a good idea of how a champion does the crawl. Lenore's leg drive, pivoted at the hips, is in perfect rhythm with her vigorous arm stroke. The result is smooth, streamlined speed—record-breaking speed!

From starting gun to finish line, Lenore's under tension. As pictured at right, even her breathing must be timed to a split second.

Even after an 880-yard race, Lenore comes up smiling. In choosing her cigarette, she pays particular attention to mildness. "I've found I can smoke Camels as often as I like, thanks to their mildness," she says.

WORLD'S PREMIERE MERMAID

Lenore Kight Wingard—a champion of champions—with 7 world's and 16 national free-style swimming records to her credit (Right) OVER HER AFTER-DINNER CAMELS, LENORE WINGARD SAYS: "For digestion's sake—smoke Camels, is a rule with me. They help me to enjoy my food, even when I feel tired or tense. Smoking Camels seems to put me in just the right mood at mealtimes and helps me to have a feeling of well-being afterward. Camels set me right!" Because Camels are so mild—and made from such costly tobaccos—you can smoke them steadily, without jangled nerves. At mealtimes, Camels encourage a free flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—and lend a helping hand to good digestion.

"THE MRS. likes to see me enjoy a hearty meal," says Frank Mullady, auto-mechanic. "Smoking Camels at mealtimes helps me feel my digestion's tuned up."

NO LET-UP from 9 to 6. Miss Ida Gray, buyer, says: "A quick bite is often all I have time for. I've adopted that slogan 'for digestion's sake—smoke Camels.'"

"CAMERA!" Nerves are drawn finer when a movie is being filmed. Russell Metty says about that: "Camel's mildness appeals to me. They never jangle my nerves."

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1937, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD—Europe isn't sending its usual supply of human hair and movie wigmakers are faced with a shortage. The pinch is already being felt on the Merwin Leroy production, "The Great Garrick," in which 300 wigs are in use.

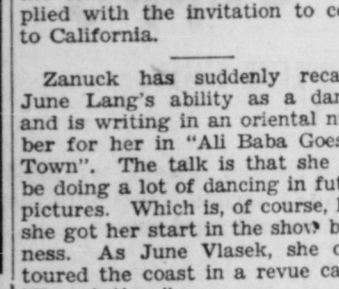

Hair from the heads of peasant women costs $80 a pound in Hollywood. There is no American source of supply, because our women don't sell their hair. Result, Perc Westmore, wig expert of Warners, is driving urgent cables to European dealers, trying to get needed shipments.

Owen Davis, Jr., may be eager to get back to that mystery girl in Snowhagen, but he put off his departure a day to take Gertrude Nissen to the Lunt-Fontanne opening in "Amphitryon 38".

A casualty of the recent heat wave was Henry Wilcoxon, who found out that you also can get burned playing with ice. Trying to cool off a room in his valley home, Wilcoxon handled cubes of dry ice for a couple of hours. For his ignorance of its dangerous properties—we thought everybody knew that—he paid with burns from the tips of his fingers halfway to his elbow. Both his arms are swathed in bandages.

A New York racketeer was rubbed out recently but, before he died, expressed the hope that Phil Reagan would care for his four-year-old son. Though soft-hearted, Phil has four youngsters of his own and hates to take on any more responsibility. He's making arrangements, though, that will keep the boy at least temporarily out of an orphan asylum.

The John Beals are inviting a young Irish cousin of his to live with them in Hollywood. The boy, Patrick Costigan, recently wrote Beal a letter, and the actor liked the tone of it so well that he replied with the invitation to come to California.

Zanuck has suddenly recalled June Lang's ability as a dancer and is writing in an oriental number for her in "All Baba Goes to Town". The talk is that she will be doing a lot of dancing in future pictures. Which is, of course, how she got her start in the show business. As June Viasek, she once toured the coast in a revue called "Temptations".

Chatter. . . The slickest pair of dancers we've seen around the night clubs recently were June Travis and Allen Lane. They had everybody in the Century club watching them the other night. Lane's black eye didn't escape observation either. . . Over at the Hawaiian Paradise, another interesting twosome was Gloria Swanson and Gene Markey. . . Louis Prima picked about the hottest night of the year to open his new spot, but his trumpeting was still hotter. . . The Marjorie Keeler-Tommy Wunder romance is all off, their friends say. . . Douglass Montgomery is practically monopolizing Whitney Bourne since she arrived in Hollywood. They were pals in London, too. . . Never a dull moment in the life of a movie star. The sheriff's office here contacted Margo and said that her family in Mexico were trying to get her telephone number. Margo was in a panic, fearing bad news, until the call came through and it turned out to be the usher in a Mexico City theater. He'd pulled the relative hoax to get the number and had spent half a week's salary on the call.

KING OF SWING

BENNY GOODMAN'S "School of Swing"—a painless education in synopsized knowledge—is now being heard every Tuesday evening over Columbia Broadcasting System's coast to coast network. Besides Benny Goodman, King of Swing, this program brings you the famous Goodman instrumental quartet, the world's only Swing Chorus directed by Myer Alexander and famous stage and screen stars. Broadcasts are from Hollywood.

WYOMING SOLON ATTACKS BILL

Sen. O'Mahoney Clashes Repeatedly With Sen. Joseph Robinson

Washington, July 12.—(UP)—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyoming, charged in the senate today that the administration substitute judiciary bill "might some day" wreck every vestige of human liberty under the stars and stripes.

Opening the sixth day of debate on the court enlargement bill, O'Mahoney contended the administration is trying to hammer its measure through the senate without permitting full verbal clashes with majority leader Joseph T. Robinson and charged indirectly that the substitute bill was purposely drawn to power over appointments of the supreme court in order that the White House "might hold a club" over the judicial branch of government.

"The majority leader (Robinson) talked for two hours denouncing the opponents of this bill but he failed to explain the bill," O'Mahoney shouted. "This bill has not been explained."

well aware, I am definitely seeking the balancing of that budget." The bill the president vetoed was divided into two sections. The first extended for one additional year the three and one half percent interest rate on certain federal land-bank loans and would provide a four per cent interest rate on such loans for the period from July 1, 1935, to June 30, 1939. The second section provided a reduction from five to four per cent in the interest rate on land bank commissioner's loans for a two year period.

"Unwritten Law" Is Killer's Plea

Anderson, Ind., July 12.—(UP)—Earl Berry, 36, was held in jail today while prosecutor Cecil Whitehead studied his confession of the "unwritten law" killing of his friend, Arlo West, 36, to decide if he will seek an indictment for murder.

Berry walked into the police station yesterday evening and said he has shot West to death as he lay on a bed in Berry's residence because of attentions he was giving to his wife.

Over 2,000 WPA Workers Dropped

Indianapolis, Ind., July 12.—(UP)—John K. Jennings, Indiana director of the public works administration, today announced that a total of 2,114 workers were dropped from the state's relief rolls last week. He said approximately 7,000 persons have been returned to private industry since Washington officials announced the drastic reduction in WPA rolls six weeks ago.

More than 3,000 workers will be dropped from WPA lists this week to comply with orders requiring Indiana officials to reduce the state quota to 47,000 by July 15, Jennings said.

George Naubauer, state insurance commissioner of Indianapolis, was a business visitor in the city today.

FAMOUS MUSIC COMPOSER DEAD

George Gershwin Dies In Hollywood After Short Illness

Hollywood, July 12.—(UP)—Friends of George Gershwin suggested today that a twinkling piano and muted horns play the Phantasy in Blue over the body of the dead musician—a requiem to its creator, a genius who with little training and technical knowledge, composed music so great that it made jazz respectable throughout the world.

Whether his family would permit it was not known. Funeral arrangements had not been made, but it is customary for the requiem of musicians to be music. A full symphony orchestra played Schubert's unfinished symphony at the funeral of the late Ossip Gabrilowitch, conductor of the Detroit symphony, who died last September.

Gershwin's body will be sent east today on the Santa Fe. Ira Gershwin, his brother, will fly to New York, where funeral services will be held Thursday at Emanuel Temple. A memorial service will be held here Thursday at the same hour as the New York service, conducted by Rabbi Edgar Magnin at Wilshire Temple.

Gershwin died yesterday of a brain tumor. He had been stricken last week. There was an emergency operation Saturday night. He was only 38 years old.

Messages of condolence came to the brother and to their mother and sister in New York from the musical great and music lovers in all parts of the world. Paul Whiteman, the jazz band conductor who rode to fame with Gershwin and the Rhapsody in Blue, joined with the conductors of symphony orchestras, classical composers, Tin-Pan-Alley tune smiths, operatic singers and blues crooners in mourning the man who was considered one of the great composers of the generation.

California Killer Pleads Not Guilty

Los Angeles, July 12.—(UP)—Albert Winfield Dyer, 32 year old WPA crossing guard today pleaded not guilty to three counts of murder when he was arraigned before Judge Thomas L. Ambrose for the slaying of three little Ingewood girls.

Previously Dyer had gone before the county grand jury and confessed that he lured Melba and Madeline Everett and Jeanette Ingewood, last June 26, and in the Baldwin hills strangled them and then ravished their bodies.

Admitted Sunday: Mrs. Bernard Kruse, route four, Decatur; Fred Hintzman, Hoagland.
Admitted Saturday: Cecil Gause, Jr., 927 N. Fifth St.
Dismissed today: Ralph Braun, Berne.

ARRIVALS

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Neireiter are the parents of a baby boy, born at the Adams county memorial hospital Saturday morning at 11:34 o'clock. The baby weighed nine pounds, 10 1/4 ounces at birth and has been named John Daniel.

Russian Aviators On Long Flight

Moscow, July 12.—(UP)—Three Russian air heroes sped out over the Arctic toward Franz Josef Land and the North pole today, en route to the United States on a flight in which they hope to break the world distance record of 5,657 miles.

At 2:17 p. m. Moscow time (7 a. m. EDT) they were in position 77 latitude 51 longitude, which placed them about 200 miles northwest of Nova Zembla.

Their destination is San Francisco or Los Angeles.

Attendance At State Parks On Increase

Indianapolis, Ind., July 12.—(UP)—Attendance at nine Indiana state parks increased 14 per cent in the first week of June over the same period last year, it was announced today.

Attendance in the nine parks was 18,463 so far this year compared to 874,497 for all of 1936. The figures are taken from the number of admission fees received.

Heart Attack Fatal To Sports Promoter

New York, July 12.—(UP)—Jack Curley, 61, who promoted everything from flea circuses and one-piece bathing suits to heavyweight wrestling, died of a heart attack today at his Great Neck, Long Island, home.

Curley did what most sports experts had believed was impossible. He restored wrestling to public favor after it had been denounced as the most crooked of all off-color rackets. Under Curley's touch, wrestling flourished after 1929, and thousands paid to watch his exhibitions throughout the country.

Woman's Club Gives Equipment To Park

The Woman's club of this city has donated a new tennis net and a complete croquet set for recreational activities at the South Ward playground. Work on the tennis court was completed recently and the court is in excellent condition.

Bible of 1822 Used

Wingham, Ont.—(UP)—A 115-year old Bible is used to conduct services at the Masonic hall here.

Pupils Lose Sit-Down

Corvallis, Ore. (UP)—It seems that thirteen is an unlucky number for sit-down strikers. Thirteen fifth graders who conducted a strike to force their teacher to dismiss school for the summer found that their parents sided with the teacher.

Special Pictures To Be Shown Here

The motion picture, "The Body Beautiful", which will be shown at the Cort theater here for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, July 14 and 15, recently made a 19 consecutive day run at the Riley theater in Fort Wayne.

A total of 37,606 paid admissions crowded their way into the theater to see the picture, a story of one girl's mistake. The picture, for adults only, will be shown continuous during matinee and evening hours. "Lady Eve" will also appear on the Cort stage in person during the presentation of the movie. adv.
