Cashier Of Robbed Bank Identifies Brady Gangsters

Thorp, Wis., Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Lawrence, cashier of the People's Exchange Bank here, said today that he could identify three armed men who robbed the bank of $7,000 on Aug. 23 as Al Brady and two of his gangsters.

Lawrence examined pictures of the Brady gangsters, who have been attempting to emulate the late John Dillinger. The cashier said he was able to identify Brady, James Dallover, and Clarence Shaffer as the three who raided his bank nearly two months ago. The bandit led Lawrence to their automobile, intending to take him along as protection against armed pursuit. He broke away from them and ran back into the bank, preferring "to take a chance being shot at home instead of somewhere along the road." The gunmen withheld their fire.

Others also have reported evidence that the Brady gang makes frequent excursions into Wisconsin. An automobile license number stolen from a Milwaukeean and seen on the automobile used by the robbers of the Thorp bank later was reported seen in Illinois by an observer who claimed he recognized occupants of the automobile bearing it as members of the Brady gang.

SEVERE RAINS HALT WARFARE

Water And High Winds Intensify Suffering Of Chinese

Shanghai, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Torrential rains flooded trenches and roads and made morasses of fields in the Shanghai area today. Many parts of the international settlement were flooded. Water and high winds combined to intensify the suffering of thousands of Chinese refugees, sleeping for weeks in coorways and alleys.

So severe were the rains that they stopped the war on the Shanghai front.

Japanese airplanes were grounded, and thus there ended for the moment a gigantic air raid program on which the Japanese had embarked coincidentally with President Roosevelt's peace speech and the state department's approval of League of Nations action in the Chinese Japanese war.

More than 100 airplanes, a Japanese spokesman disclosed, bombed mercilessly all day yesterday over a wide area of north, central and southern China—towns and railroads, including the Peking-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow lines in the north and the vital southern road between Canton and Hankow, the national supply line for munitions. Canton's suburbs were bombed again today, and it was established that communication on the Canton-Hankow line had been interrupted temporarily. One stalled train contained 250 officers and men of the British cruiser Capetown, on their way to Canton from Hankow.

Chinese leaders here and at Nanking were jubilant today at the news that the state department had expressed its approval of League of Nations procedure in the Chinese-Japanese crisis.

Officials, financiers and business men discussed the statement excitedly and a high Chinese official commented:

"It is a ray of hope for China through the darkness. All China knows now of America's positive moral support at this critical moment and is heartened. It gives us an idea of what we may expect. We do not expect America to fight

SURVEY SHOWS POOR HOUSING

Necessity For Slum Clearance Shown In Indiana Cities

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—Widespread "rundown" conditions, lack of sanitary facilities and the necessity for slum clearance were revealed in a three-year real property survey of 33 Indiana cities and towns, John K. Jennings, state WPA administrator, said today.

Information gathered in the survey, conducted in a house-to-house canvas by WPA workers, will be used by the state housing board and other local housing commissions in improving housing facilities throughout the state.

The primary objective of the housing boards is to provide houses that rent for $15 a month or less, Jennings said.

Information in the survey includes the age and sanitary facilities of homes, to what extent families are crowded in living quarters and the percentage of persons in substandard living conditions. The survey was made in the following cities:

duty at dawn and probably will be kept on 12-hour duty, police said.

"Union employees at the Weber and capitol dairies were determined to strike," Leslie Dobbs, secretary of the drivers' union said. He asserted that while the strikes are not authorized they will receive the support of the union.

Because of failure of efforts to obtain a blanket collective bargaining agreement, the union will attempt to obtain labor agreements with each company individually, Dobbs said. He advised that thus far all companies have refused to negotiate.

Approximately 500 men are enrolled in the Union which has been pledged the support of 3,000 members of the teamsters and chauffeurs local, according to Dobbs.

HITS PRESENT FARM PRACTICE

Government Expert Decries Indiana Farm Practices

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 7.—(U.P.)—If Indiana farmers continue their present destructive farm practices, eventual abandonment of a major portion of the state's agricultural land is inevitable, H. H. Bennet, of Washington, D. C., chief of the soil conservation service, warned today.

Speaking before a meeting of county agents and farm leaders, Bennet pointed out that approximately two million acres of farm land in the state has been essentially destroyed by soil erosion and the present rate of abandonment is more than four times as fast as in the decade from 1910 to 1920.

"Results of a recent survey reveal that less than half of the land area of 52 Indiana counties is suitable for production of cultivated crops under present farming practices," Bennet said.

"This means that if farmers continue to plan open-tilled crops on steep hillsides, run their crop rows straight up and down the slope, leave fields unprotected by vegetation for long periods of time, and continue to use countless other destructive practices, this enormous aggregate area is going to suffer serious erosion damage."

Bennet urged adoption of soil conservation measures as a safeguard against land destruction, dust storms, and excessive floods.

To perform any given heating operation, only slightly more than half the volume of natural gas is required, as compared with the present gas. This is because the refined natural gas which is being brought to Decatur from the Texas Panhandle fields has a greater heat content than the manufactured gas now used. Each cubic foot of the present gas contains 570 British thermal units (a thermal unit is a measurement of heat just as a pound is a measure of weight). The new gas contains 1,000 British thermal units per cubic foot.

If you have any questions regarding the new rates and their application to YOU, please call Mr. Stapleton at the Gas Company Office.
