FEATURE GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Outstanding Grid Games Are On Schedule For Saturday

New York, Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Torrill sectional battles in the seven major conferences, nine intercollegiate bowl games and three games pairing undefeated and untied teams feature the coming week-end of gridiron hostility.

The east, which produced many of the casualties in last Saturday's unexpected slaughter, again commands national attention. Seven major intercollegiate games will be played on Atlantic seaboard gridirons.

Two games pair perfect record eleven—Alabama at George Washington, and Western Reserve at Boston University—while two other eleven with perfect records meet opponents which have been tied but unbeaten. Undeclared Wisconsin invades Pittsburgh, tied by Fordham, and unbeaten Detroit plays at Boston College, tied only by Temple.

The other eastern intercollegiate are Duke at Colgate, Texas Christian at Fordham, and Washington U. of St. Louis at Army. Other intercollegiate battles: Navy, unbeaten but tied by Harvard, at Notre Dame and Manhattan at Kentucky.

The south boasts the No. 1 game of the day—unbeaten Vanderbilt against unbeaten Louisiana State, a battle which might have an important bearing on the Rose Bowl question as well as the championship of the southeastern conference. Most of the others in the rapidly thinning ranks of the unbeaten and untied have stiff opposition.

California, favored to win the Pacific coast title and represent the west in the Rose Bowl, faces an up-and-coming Southern California team. Dartmouth meets Harvard, unbeaten but tied by Navy. Baylor plays Texas A. and M., another unbeaten but tied eleven. Holy Cross faces Western Maryland; Syracuse plays Maryland; Yale meets Cornell; Northwestern plays Ohio State; Santa Clara meets Loyola of Los Angeles on Sunday and Colorado U. plays Colorado State.

Lafayette and Rutgers, two of the minor unbeaten and untied teams, play respectively N. Y. U. and Princeton.

Along The Sidelines

By United Press
Northwestern
Evanston, Ill., Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Coach Lynn Waldorf searched the Northwestern squad today for reserves to use in the Ohio State game at Columbus Saturday. John Kovatch, end, will be out of the Buckeye game because of slow recovery from a leg injury.

Iowa City—Iowa freshmen today held a 12-7 practice game victory over varsity reserves. Iowa's injury list is heavy but fullback Olson, halfback Dean and end Lannon are expected to play against Michigan.

Purdue
Lafayette, Ind.—Although Purdue is idle this week Coach Mal Elward ordered a hard scrimmage for today's practice. The Boiler-makers are in very good spirits despite the disheartening loss to Northwestern.

Indiana
Bloomington, Ind.—Jim Sirtosky, Indiana guard, will be out of Saturday's game with Cincinnati because of a leg injury. Coach Bo McMillen announced.

Chicago
Chicago—Fullback Fred Lenhardt of Chicago will be out of action the rest of the season because of a badly torn ligament in his right knee suffered in the Princeton game. Captain Fitzgerald, end, has a badly bruised side but will be ready for the Ohio State game next week.

Michigan
Ann Arbor, Mich.—Pass defense and tackling drills were scheduled for Michigan today. The Wolverine line men still nursed bruises from the battering they took from Minnesota Saturday.

Notre Dame

Illinois
Champaign, Ill.—Jay Wardley, Illinois back recovering from an injured knee, was back on the squad today and may be ready to play against Michigan next week. Wardley worked out at the left halfback post yesterday.

Ohio State
Columbus, O.—Coach Francis Schmidt of Ohio State, who scouted the Northwestern-Purdue game himself, termed the Wildcats "a lucky team." He drove the Buckeyes through a hard drill yesterday in the rain in preparation for the clash of the two unbeaten conference leaders Saturday.

Wisconsin
Madison, Wis.—Coach Harry

Stuhldreher will not scrimmage the Wisconsin regulars this week for Saturday's invasion of Pittsburgh. The Badgers are in good shape with only Al Dorsch, Johnny Doyle and Billy Schmitz nursing minor injuries.

Today's Sport Parade (By Henry McLemore)

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Southern football notes jotted down on the back of a road map: setting in the field house coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech told this one: "It was back in our football depression years when we had no scholarships, and the team was pretty awful. We were playing Carnegie Tech and they were beating the day-lights out of us. We hadn't made a first down so I sent in a substitute quarterback named Tom Peeler as a sort of desperation measure. In the huddle Peeler called for formation 25. We didn't have any such formation but the other players were afraid to question Peeler for fear there was such a play and that they had forgotten it. So they lined up and just blocked. Peeler got the ball and went for 35 yards, our only decent gain of the day." ... Alexander ever since has been trying to figure out just what play No. 25 was. "If it was good for 35 yards with that team, it oughta be worth a 100 yards now," he said. ... unbeaten Vanderbilt's defense is built around four 150-pound backs—Huggins, Hollins, Marshall, and Plunkett. ... Hollins and Plunkett both kick and pass left-handed, so to speak. ... prosperity note: L. S. U. transported 5,000 students and a 208 piece band to Huxton for the game with rice-free of charge. ... nothing is too good for the L. S. U. students. ... even the mascot Tiger has a $7,000 cage. ... 23,000 L. S. U. students live in the stadium which was built to serve also as a giant dormitory.

The University of Georgia thinks it is certain to place at least one man on the All-America teams. They rate Bill Hartmann, who played such a magnificent game against Holy Cross, and Quinton Lumpkin, center, as tops. ... Ole Miss and Duke had equipped its players with low cut shoes this season. ... nothing but baseball shoes with cleats. ... The boys wear short socks with the Oxford, giving them the appearance of Little Girls all dressed up for a party. ... customers at South Carolina's home games are amused during the halftime intermission by a group of selected students doing the "big apple."

Probably the best back in the entire south is an unknown young man at Little Davidson college in North Carolina. ... his name is "Teeneey" Lafferty and there isn't anything he can't do with those 165 pounds of his. ... and when the time comes to pick the outstanding players of the year it wouldn't be a bad idea to mention "Tiger" Mayberry, captain and half back of Florida's team. ... given a stronger eleven to work with and Mayberry would be in the headlines Saturday after Saturday.

Respiratory Diseases
In State On Decline
Indianapolis, Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—The peak of respiratory infections among Indiana residents probably was reached more than a week ago and a deadline has been noted since that time, Dr. Verne K. Harvey, state health director, said today.

For the week ending Oct. 9 there were 37 new influenza cases reported in the state, he pointed out, while only 19 cases were listed last week.

"Statistics in this office show that the first wave of colds and influenza usually starts with the beginning of schools. Children who have been spending most of their time outdoors during the summer months come into closer contact with each other."

SEEK CONTROL OF OLYMPICS

Colleges Seek Control Of Olympic Teams; Fight Looms

Chicago Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—The national collegiate athletic association came into the open today with its long struggle for control of Olympic teams with an amendment providing for collegiate direction of track, wrestling, swimming and crew racing in the Olympic games.

Seeking to end dominance of the national amateur athletic union on those four Olympic committees, the N. C. A. A. submitted to the American Olympic association and amendment providing that three of five members on the crew committee and five of nine on the other three committees be college representatives.

The A. A. U. now has nine of 13 members on all four committees. "We're not trying to run the Olympic show," said Maj. John L. Griffith, president of the N. C. A. A. "But we are seeking to improve the Olympic situation. Almost 99 percent of the American point winners in track at Berlin were college men. The winning teams were college students."

"The colleges merely are concerned with having the right sort of men being in charge of such teams."

The amendment will come up before the meeting of the Olympic association scheduled in Washington, November 17. A two-thirds majority of approximately 500 eligible votes is necessary for passage.

Rep. John E. Miller Succeeds Robinson

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Rep. John E. Miller, who admires President Roosevelt but didn't always support his program in the house of representatives, was named by the voters today to fill the unexpired term of the late Joseph P. Robinson in the senate.

Miller defeated Gov. Carl E. Bailey, who accused Miller of disloyalty to the national administration and told they others that he had and would support President Roosevelt "100 percent."

Drinking At Football Games Is Reported On The Decline

(Copyright 1937 by U.P.)
Chicago, Oct. 19.—(U.P.)—Drinking at mid-western football games is on the wane and members of the Big Ten conference no longer consider it a major problem, a survey by the United Press showed today.

There still is some drinking at games in this sector but it is on a considerably more moderate scale than in any year since repeal. In last week's Big Ten games only three cases of drunkenness were reported. Two Dearborn, Mich., firemen, attending the Minnesota-Michigan game at Ann Arbor, stayed in jail overnight and were fined $11.75 each. Students tossed a drunk at the Princeton-Chicago game into the botany pond to sober up.

Persons under the influence of liquor are barred from all Big Ten stadiums, and ushers and special police have the authority to eject any persons exhibiting a bottle of liquor. In most stadiums appeals are sent over the loud-speaker system for spectators to refrain from drinking.

The Big Ten has waged a relentless campaign the past three years to stop drinking at games. Even bartenders, cognizant of the efforts of the Big Ten to discourage drinking in stadiums, are sympathetic toward the campaign. One bartender at an exclusive Chicago North Side club advised two patrons on their way to the Northwestern-Purdue game Saturday not to take a bottle of liquor to the game.

Another bartender suggested pouring the liquor into a root beer bottle, and the two fans took along straws with which to sip the liquor. Two Princeton supporters attending the Princeton-Chicago game agreed not to drink until their team scored a touchdown. When that happened late in the third period, they couldn't get the cap off the bottle so they put it away until they returned home.

The Wisconsin-Iowa game at Madison was described as the soberest homecoming in Madison in years. Sports editor Henry McCormick's explanation of this was: "Wisconsin is winning this year and the people really want to see the game. They haven't the urge, common in other years, to get paralyzed as an antidote to the Badgers' disappointing play."

Oscar Thomas, assistant to athletic director L. W. St. John, reported drinking at Ohio State games on the decline. "There has been little drinking at our two home games this fall," he said. Drinking is strictly forbidden at Illinois, where any spectator arrested automatically is fined $17.50 or more.

Chief Lewis W. Foley of the Ann Arbor police reported that there have been only four or five court cases at Michigan games this year, while at one time during prohibition there were sometimes 25 to 40.

Athletic director Frank McCormick said Minnesota refuses admission to "any one showing a tipsy inclination." Athletic director K. L. Wilson of Northwestern said, "we no longer consider drinking a major problem at Northwestern."

Any one seen drinking at a Chicago game is handed a printed card asking him to leave. If he becomes objectionable he is removed by the usher, assisted by city police, if necessary.

"Our plea for less drinking is a fine response," reported athletic director Z. G. Clevenger at Indiana. Professor Frank Hockett, reported drinking "very much reduced."

"There is a minimum of drinking at Iowa games and we want to eliminate it entirely," said athletic director of Iowa.

Notre Dame makes every effort to keep spectators from drinking at South Bend games, making with each ticket a printed note not to drink.

New "Meanest Thief" Found
The Pas, Man. (U.P.)—A candidate for the title of "meanest thief" has been nominated in northern town. Boxes for the election of funds to aid cancer research were distributed about the various buildings. An inspection a few days later revealed the thief in the box from the post office.
