

Weds Ex-Wife of His Coach

Frankie Parker and his bride, Mrs. Beasley

Frankie Parker, 22-year-old Milwaukee tennis star and Davis Cup member, weds the former wife of his coach and friend, Mrs. Katherine Audrey Browne Beasley of New York, in Reno, Nev., climaxing a strange tale. Parker was picked up by Mrs. Beasley's ex-mate, Mercer Beasley, internationally famous tennis coach, in Milwaukee several years ago. Beasley took Parker into his home and made him a tennis star. Mrs. Beasley is the mother of two children, one 21 and the other 14.

neck through which land, air and water communications to southeastern Europe must flow. Thus he is in a position to fulfill one of his ambitions—the break up of the little entente — by economic and diplomatic pressure.

Hitler's speech of Friday reflected this new attitude of restraint. It was devoid of threats. The interpretation placed on that speech here is that he does not desire to provoke Soviet Russia and has decided to step warily in view of France's reaffirmation of her intention to defend Czechoslovakia against aggression.

But it would be dangerous to be too optimistic over a contingent on which so many nations are clustered, separated, in many cases, by nothing but artificial boundaries. Poland still wants autonomy for the 200,000 Poles in Lithuania; access to Lithuania's Baltic ports; and a diplomatic wedge between Lithuania and Soviet Russia.

The situation in Czechoslovakia is less critical. The apparent willingness of the Czechs to give German-born citizens a more authoritative voice in the government has eased tension.

A hopeful note for the peace of Europe even has come out of war-torn Spain. The statement of rebel Generalissimo Francisco Franco that he will do nothing to change the status quo in the western Mediterranean in event of victory, and will not cede an inch of territory to any foreign power was regarded as reassuring for the future.

Don't put on your brakes, when you have a blow-out, until you are certain you have your car or truck under control. Then apply them gradually.

A blow-out, particularly on a front wheel and when you are driving at a high rate of speed, is one case in which jamming on the brakes might involve you in an accident that could be avoided by doing other things first. Grip the wheel firmly. Steer; don't think of anything but steering at first. Brake pressure comes second. Good rubber all around is the best insurance against blowouts.

Mrs. Leo Wilhelm and daughter, Mrs. Arlo Humbarger, of Fort Wayne were visitors in this city Saturday.

Nazi Coup Climaxes Dramatic Austrian History

Austria's long and dramatic history, dating back 2,000 years to the time when it became a Roman province, today takes another sudden turn with its incorporation by Hitler as part of the Third German Reich. The Nazi coup spells doom to the hopes of Archduke Otto, pretender to the non-existent throne and grandson of Franz Josef, last of the great Hapsburg monarchs who ruled from Schoenbrunn castle for 68 years. The Hapsburgs came into power about the year 1000 and headed the mighty Holy Roman empire without interruption for 500 years. Since then their fortunes, and those of Austria, have risen and fallen, but today are at lowest ebb in centuries.
