Shah of Persia had visited France, England and other countries. He decreed freedom of dress in ideas but as yet has not been able to bring about complete religious freedom. In closing she told of her own work with the girls school in Tabriz.

"The people are very eager to learn and become free, a thing which they can accomplish only with our help." After hearing her tell of the many personal experiences in the work the society agreed that her closing question "Is the effort worth while?" should be answered in the affirmative.

A number of guests other than members attended the meeting. At the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by the Mesdames: C. D. Kunkel, Wilson Lee, Phil Macklin and Mrs. Jesse Rice.

The Pythian Needle club will meet at the K. of P. home Monday evening after Temple.

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD.—Although Sonja Henie is not talking, the war is waning her more than ever away from Europe. Her brother, Leif, is coming to America this month. The star has given up all ideas of a skating tour abroad and, one of these days, her intimates say, she will quietly take out American citizenship papers.

Already, she has agents looking for a place to buy. It will be the first house that Sonja has owned in Hollywood. Right now, she is renting the former home of Jean Harlow.

As long as the war lasts, the star won't even try to go to Norway on vacations. When she finishes "Everything Happens at Night," the star is planning a trip to Honolulu.

Elaine Barrie's royalties on the play, "My Dear Children," end the first of the year. It's been a nice windfall for her at that—$500 a week, according to reports.

Los Angeles' recent storm was no laughing matter but a few humorous aspects have turned up. Kenny Baker had several hundred dollars worth of canned goods stored in his cellar. The flood moved in and washed all the labels off the cans. Now, Kenny doesn't know whether he is opening peaches or French peas.

It happened in a Hollywood late spot. Elsa Lanchester was explaining why she turned down a Hollywood film offer.

"I didn't think the part was heavy enough," she said, "especially after I was starred in 'The Beachcomber'."

Husband Charles Laughton looked up.

"Featured in 'The Beachcomber,' my dear," he said. "I was starred in it."

Understand that Orson Welles is now trying to borrow Ilona Massey to play in his R-K-O picture. She'll be available after added scenes for "Balalaika." . . . Available, that is, if M-G-M approves the deal.

The big rain completely marooned Lionel Barrymore in his home near Reseda. The roads were flooded and even the tele-and daughter Helaine of Ohio City, Mrs. Elizabeth Drum and Mrs. Hugh Souder of Bluffton, and Miss Blanche Dine of Fort Wayne called on Mrs. W. B. Weldy Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Flesser, Mrs. George Bright, Mrs. R. M. Houck, Mrs. Ellis Skiles, Mrs. Beulah Shackley, and Harve Beery spent Wednesday in Tucson as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Kragh and Mrs. Martha Beery.

Miss Betty Skiles attended the Bluffton street fair Saturday evening.

Miss Terveer Ginter visited her aunt, Mrs. Melvin Mallonee Sunday evening.

Mrs. Grant Ball and Mrs. W. A. Straub spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. B. Weldy.

Mrs. W. A. Lower and Miss Elizabeth Peterson are the week end guests of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Peterson of Indianapolis.

Mrs. I. W. Macy left this noon for Indianapolis where she will be the guest of Miss Marjorie Helm over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Myers of route 2 and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Randeubush and daughter Betty of Monroe visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Braun recently.

Other guests at the Braun home were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gilmartin and son Tommy, son-in-law, daughter and grandson of Mr. and Mrs.

phone service was out. M-G-M finally got a studio car through to bring the star to work in "The Secret of Dr. Kildare."

Re-issue of "All Quiet on the Western Front" reveals how the fashions have changed in war. There's only one sequence in which an airplane figures.

Today, death rains from the skies.

Tony Martin is back in town and Twentieth Century-Fox excused Alice Faye from the "Little Old New York" set to meet him at the airport. Looks as if these two won't be separated this winter.

Tony is doing his broadcasts from the coast.

It's an eight and one-half pound baby boy for Martha Raye's brother, Buddy, and the star spent the whole night at the Cedars of Lebanon hospital, waiting for the glad news. She was so sleepy-eyed on "The Farmer's Daughter" set that Paramount had to send her home.

Mildred Harris is stage-touring the country in one-night stands, according to word reaching Hollywood. . . . In case the Philadelphia papers haven't heard about it, a man posing as Alan Dinehart's brother ran up a $3,000 hotel bill there. Dinehart has no brother.

. . . The cops found Dick Baldwin's stolen coupe . . . in the desert and stripped of everything but the body and the heavier parts of the motor. . . . Allan Curtis is trying vainly to get word to Priscilla Lawson in Europe. The last cable he had from her was three weeks ago. . . . Pat De Cicco and Margaret Lindsay's sister, Jane Gilbert, were a twosome at the House of Murphy . . . and that was Irene Ware with Myron Selznick at the Cafe L'Amaze.

. . . Hardie Albright is in town, a house guest of Colin Clement and Florence Ryerson. He is looking for plays. . . . The party Bob Hope tossed for Judy Garland after her first appearance on his program made a gala night for the stay-laters at the Victor Hugo's. All the youngsters got up and entertained. . . . Eleanor Powell is off to Honolulu after she finishes "Broadway Melody of 1940" . . . and then probably to South America. . . . A 35-foot boat upon which Jackie Cooper had paid a deposit was wrecked in the recent storm. He's not even sure that he will get his cash back.

Walters, who has been confined to the Adams county memorial hospital the past two weeks, was reported as being slightly improved today.

Two trailer loads of turtles attracted downtown visitors today. The turtles were caught in the Dakotas and were being returned to Ohio where they are to be sold. One load was enroute to Troy, Ohio and the other to Versailles.
