HUGE BRITISH

 The commodore on the cheeks and shouted "good luck."

The huge liner, it was believed, was unarmed when she left the harbor. British circles said American laws prohibited placement of guns while she was in port. There was speculation, however, that she might receive anti-aircraft and anti-submarine guns somewhere at sea from another vessel.

The British liner Lancastria was said to be waiting outside the harbor, after a dash across the Atlantic, for the Queen Mary to clear in.

ALL-ROUND COOKIES

Fancy cookies are nice for parties and afternoon teas, but when it comes to downright eating enjoyment I think most of us like fat, spicy, old-fashioned cookie-jar cookies. I mean the kind that were always kept in the cookie jar for the children's lunches and between-meal snacks. They were served with lemonade to summer-time callers and with tea or coffee at other seasons.

Among the most popular of these all-round old-time cookies are the "oatmeal drop cakes" filled with raisins and chopped nuts.

OLD-FASHIONED OATMEAL COOKIES

- | | |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 cup shortening | 1 tsp. soda |
| 1 1/2 cups sugar | 1 cup buttermilk |
| 2 eggs | 3 cups rolled oats |
| 1 tsp. vanilla | 1/2 cup seeded raisins |
| 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour | 1/2 cup chopped nuts |
| 1 1/2 tsp. salt | |

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream thoroughly. Blend in well beaten eggs and vanilla. Sift flour, salt, and soda together and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the buttermilk. Blend in rolled oats, raisins, and nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls a little apart on a greased cookie sheet. Bake 15 minutes in a moderately hot oven, 400° F. This will make 7 doz. medium-sized cookies.

Refrigerator Oatmeal Cookies are another variety that are not only delicious to eat but ever so convenient to make. The dough is molded into a long sausage-like roll and placed in the refrigerator to chill until you are ready to slice and bake the cookies. In this way you can bake all your cookies at once or as many as you want at a time.

OATMEAL REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 cup shortening | 1 tsp. vanilla |
| 1 cup white sugar | 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour |
| 1 cup brown sugar (packed in cup) | 1 tsp. soda |
| 2 eggs | 1 tsp. salt |
| | 3 cups quick-cooking oatmeal |

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream thoroughly. Blend in the well beaten eggs and vanilla. Sift flour, salt, and soda together and add with the oatmeal to the creamed mixture. Shape into long roll (about 2 1/2 inches in diameter). Chill for several hours or over night. When ready to bake, slice as thinly as possible with a thin, sharp knife and place on an ungreased baking sheet. Bake 10 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F. This will make 4 1/2 dozen cookies.

If you have any specific cooking problems, send a letter requesting information to Betty Crocker in care of this newspaper. You will receive a prompt, personal reply. Please enclose 3 cent stamp to cover postage.

Miner alleged that he suffered a hand injury which interfered with the continuation of his education in July 1935 when cars driven by Guard and Bousum collided on state road 39 near Monticello. He contended that the injury ended his athletic career. He was a passenger in the Guard car.
