America is the only country that celebrates two Thanksgiving days.

Christmas without the spirit is like a fireplace without a burning log.

Evidently the Iron Guards in Rumania don't believe in "loyal opposition."

Hitler is probably sitting back licking his chops as he watches the Greeks rout Mussolini's army.

Here we are within three weeks of Christmas, the greatest of all holidays, the most important of all holy days. It is the season of good-will, so let the spirit bubble from your own heart.

This week-end will bring one of the busiest shopping periods of the season. The stores are ready for the Christmas trade and every effort will be made to please those who come here to shop.

If the legislature amends the liquor law making it unlawful to have an open bottle of whisky except in the home, the tipping at football games will be unlawful.
Imagine carrying hot chocolate.

In the recent political campaign newspapers and speakers charged that the government wasn't prosecuting the defense program strong enough. Today they growl because the same government is putting defense ahead of all other matters and getting it done.

It doesn't take a 300 page book to convince us that the Communists are un-American. Their whole theory is contrary to the American way of life. They have no place in this country, for any party or group that attempts to destroy our form of government is an enemy of America.

The First State bank will distribute approximately $26,000 to about 360 members in the Christmas Saving Club next week. That is a big payroll and will do much in giving a real swing to Christmas shopping in this city. Those who receive the checks will launch their shopping tour with vigor.

The Daily Democrat is proud of its corps of young carrier boys.
Despite weather conditions and athletic events and even the tem-tations incident to the hunting season, they report at the office for their papers, so they can be delivered to your door step. They are fine boys and no matter how big or great a newspaper is, it has to be delivered by alert, energetic and courteous boys.

After reading all the advice of the editorial writers, it is well to remember that America's president, the Secretary of State, members of the cabinet and the Congress also know what is going on.
This country is being guided by an able hand in the White House and laying aside partisan feelings, most of us feel that the president is more determined to keep the United States at peace than some of the politically-minded writers would like.

U. S. Road 224 is now routed west on Monroe street to Thirteenth street, where it joins the new bypass on U. S. Road 27, then north one block to Nuttman avenue, then west to Markle and Huntington.
The rerouting of Road 224 eliminates the hazardous turn at Monroe and Fifth streets and is an improvement appreciated by the driving public. Modern flasher signal lights have been erected at the Pennsylvania crossing on Monroe street and the route should be safe and more convenient. We believe a majority will approve the change.

The tragedy at the City Light and Power Plant resulting in the death of Frank Lough brings sorrow to the community. In the space of a minute he was snatched from active life and hurled into eternity. Caught in a coal conveyor which was being installed in the plant, Mr. Lough was crushed to death when an electric switch was accidentally touched which started the device in motion. Life had been snuffed from his body when released. Mr. Lough was a native of Decatur and lived here his entire life. He was an industrious worker and was the father of thirteen children. His death is regretted by all and we join in extending our sympathies to his bereaved wife and children.

Indiana newspapers are being provided with information by the Association of American Railroads designed to reduce the slaughter of children on railroad property.
There are hundreds killed annually while trespassing on the right of ways. Many of them are children under 14 years of age who play on the tracks and think it sport to hop trains. No statistics are compiled on the thousands that have lost arms or legs. But over a 10-year period there have been 25,395 trespassers killed on railroad property. Of this number 1, 369 were children under 14 years old. Typical instances are cited in the railroad information of tragedy that came to children while playing on right of ways, picking coal from tracks or hopping trains.— Maurice Early in Indianapolis Star.

Ferns

A fern that is growing fast and needs more dirt around it should not be kept in a small pot. Replant the whole thing in a larger pot, or separate it into two plants.

Red Tiles

When the red tiles of the porch or fireplace become dull, try rubbing them with a cut piece of lemon and a little salt. Then wash with warm, soapy water.

The Fingernails

If the fingernails are coated with a light polish, it will tend to make the hands look longer than dark
