ROOSEVELT REPORTS

A newsman asked Mr. Roosevelt if the report is a reply to demands for lifting the little steel wage scale formula. The president shot back that it is not an answer to anything, that it is a simple statement of fact.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized portions of the report which say "we must not jeopardize these gains by any change in policy. All the underlying conditions which could cause a sharp rise in prices are still present. It would be difficult to hold prices down if we went on a nation-wide buying spree."

Thus, apparently, Mr. Roosevelt is willing to stand on his home front policies despite much sharp criticism which has been leveled at them.

The United States foreign policy, especially relations with Britain, will be aired in Britain. Undersecretary of state Stettinius has arrived in London to confer with British officials, presumably about political angles raised by the forthcoming invasion.

Some observers think the Stettinius visit is a harbinger of a new meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and

LATEST ALLIED VICTORIES paving the way to the Philippines include the destruction of all 288 planes on Hollandia, New Guinea, shown on inset above, and the sinking of at least 17 enemy ships in a daring naval attack on Palau, Yap and Woleai islands in the Caroline group. Co-ordinated with the Allied activity in Burma and India, land, sea and air blows will eventually place the Allies within striking distance of not only the Philippines but Japan itself. In India and Burma Allied forces fight to force open the Ledo road, thus insuring a supply route leading to Chungking to the north and through Changsha to the air bases. Figuring in the China coast campaign are, as the map shows, (1) Formosa, which has been having such severe invasion jitters that Japan recently appointed a special military governor and (2) the Philippines, to which General MacArthur has vowed to return; Hainan (3), bombed frequently in recent weeks and (4) center of battle for "China's life line." 36 Indictments Are

Returned By Jury

No Statements On Black Market Probe

Fort Wayne, Ind., Apr. 7.—(UP)—The federal grand jury meeting in Fort Wayne returned 36 indictments last night, but issued no statement regarding their sweeping black market probe.

Some 45 of the 300 witnesses scheduled to appear before the jury were questioned yesterday.

Eighteen indictments were returned for the Hammond district. Among those named are Chancy Smith of Gary, accused of the theft of government property and Jesse Dawson of Morocco, who allegedly violated the Dyer act. Two other Gary men, James Jackson and John Bray, are indicted for postal violations. Richard Hendrickson of Gary is indicted for a Mann act violation.

The nine indicted from the South Bend division include Dr. Lawrence Brown of South Bend, named for two Dyer act violations, and Paul Smith of the same city, who is charged with illegally wearing an army uniform.

The remaining nine persons indicted are from the Fort Wayne division. Lillian Seibt of Fort Wayne is indicted on an embezzlement charge.

Auto Registrations
At New High In State

Indianapolis, April 7.—(UP)—Secretary of state Rue Alexander says that auto registrations last year reached a new high in Indiana. The increase over 1942 was more than 37,000. He adds that nearly one-third of this figure came from added registrations in Marion county.

Motorists bought 850,502 passenger plates during 1942. A total of Alexander attributes the increase to industrial expansion, added employment, enforcement of Hoosier laws requiring incoming motorists to purchase Indiana licenses and the flooded market of the once eastern-owned autos.
