

Bricker Acceptance Speech On Saturday

To Address Indiana Republican Editors

French Lick, Ind., Sept. 8.—(UP)—Ohio Gov. John W. Bricker opens his campaign here tomorrow night with a speech accepting the Republican vice presidential nomination and launching an intensive drive for victory for the national ticket he shares with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

All four major radio networks will broadcast the half-hour address at 9:30 p. m. (CWT) from the French Lick Springs hotel, where Bricker's appearance will be the feature attraction for the annual fall outing of the Indiana Republican editorial association.

Hoosier GOP leaders and candidates, predicting that Indiana would go Republican again this year as it did in 1940 when native son Wendell L. Willkie was the presidential nominee, were enthusiastic over monopolizing Bricker for his kickoff speech.

They also expressed satisfaction over the fact that Dewey speaks at Louisville, Ky., tonight, across the Ohio river from Indiana and less than 50 miles from the site of the editorial association's outing where Dewey's running mate appears 24 hours later.

Claude Billings, secretary of the Indiana GOP state committee, arriving here for the two-day meeting, said that many of the editors and guests of the IRBA meeting would go to Louisville to hear Dewey.

However, Billings said, Republicans were not encouraged to go to Louisville because the date conflicted with a Knox county GOP Rally in Vincennes, where most of the state candidates planned to appear.

The editorial association meeting took shape as the first major political event in Indiana since the Republican and Democratic state conventions in June. It also signified the opening of the Hoosier GOP autumn campaign to secure support for all Republican tickets on Nov. 7.

Big Field Day At Purdue Soon

Lafayette, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Dean H. J. Reed of the agricultural school at Purdue university announced today that the annual Indiana state corn-soybean field day would be held at the university's soil and crops farm Sept. 21.

DAVID ANOINTED KING

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 16:1-13
GOLDEN TEXT—Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart.—1 Samuel 16:7.

Outward appearance, by which man judges, is almost always deceptive. God knows the heart and is able to evaluate a man correctly. In calling David, the ruddy shepherd boy, to be king, God cut across the ideas of men, but He was, as always, right.

I. A Man from God's Storehouse (v. 1)—"I have provided."

God's great storehouses are full of blessings, material and spiritual, but He also has a great and constantly replenished reserve of men and women from which He calls and sends them forth. The thing we must guard against is the setting of hindrances in His holy way, either in our own lives or in the lives of others.

A man power shortage is very serious, for it simply cuts off the stream of production without which action becomes impossible. There should never be any shortage of man power in the Lord's work, and there would never be any if all His creation were willingly subject to Him.

God was ready to set aside Saul, and He had David ready. Samuel the prophet was still grieving over Saul's failure. In a sense that feeling for Saul was most commendable, but it could not go on.

When men, even of our own families or circle of friends, persist in rebellion against the Lord, we must not let our grief hold us back, but move on with the man of God's choice.

II. A Man Who Had to Be Sought (vv. 2-5)—"Send and fetch him."

Usually those who are quick to offer themselves for an important place are not the ones for the place. And those who are sitting around doing nothing but waiting for some honor to come to them, are not the ones to choose.

"Let the office seek the man" is the highest ground, even in politics; surely it must be the proper procedure in spiritual activity.

David might well have wanted to be at the place of sacrifice and the feast that day, but since all his family were there, and someone had to care for the sheep, he did it. A man like that, hard at his work, is well worth seeking when something important needs to be done.

The interesting story of Samuel's effort to find one among Jesse's seven sons (vv. 6-10) is well worth reading. Samuel still had the idea that a king must be prepossessing and able to thrill men by his appearance. He should have learned better from his experience with Saul.

God put him right (v. 7), and we do well to renew our thinking on that point. The world is in a place where many leaders must be chosen in the months and years just ahead. Will we be eager and willing to have God lead us in our choice? Or will we be swayed by personal interests or political expediency?

III. A Man of Spirituality (vv. 11-13)—"The Spirit of the Lord came upon David."

The Holy Spirit, ever active in all periods of Bible history, became the abiding presence in the believer's heart after Pentecost, but during the Old Testament period He came on chosen individuals for a particular work. As David was anointed king the Spirit came upon him for that service. In spite of his failings (when he forgot the Lord) David was throughout his reign a spiritually-minded man who wanted God's will and His glory to be uppermost.

God never calls a man without enabling him for his task, and the chief and indispensable enabling is that of the Holy Spirit's power. Like David, we may enter upon a God-appointed responsibility without fear or question, simply trusting the Holy Spirit to take, transform, empower, and use us for God's glory.

IV. A Man Willing to Serve (vv. 14-18).

Upon Saul there came tremendous moods of despondency. These were "from the Lord" (v. 14) in the sense that God permitted His disobedient and rejected servant to suffer the result of his self-will and failure. How awful it is for anyone to be out of the will of God and conscious of His disapproval.

To help Saul in those dark hours David, the sweet singer of Israel, was willing to serve with his voice and his harp. How many thousands of times David has served all the generations since with his psalms. He was a man of gifts, gladly given for the Lord and for others.

Bear in mind that while David was not yet publicly crowned, he was already anointed to be king. Yet he was ready to serve the one whose place he was to take even in his house of dejection and hateful ill-will.

Schafers

SINCE 1874

$86,000 worth of smoke

You don't do it with hay, brother!

It costs 86,000 good hard American dollars to lay a smoke screen on a 20-mile beachhead for a single hour.

Worth it?

What would you think if you knew your life depended on reaching that beach without being spotted by the enemy?

You'd be mighty glad that—in this war—everything is being done to give the American soldier the best possible chance to live and win . . . money no object.

You wouldn't have it otherwise, would you?

Then remember—you've got to do your part by buying and holding War Bonds. Your dollars are needed to help lay the smoke screen . . . provide the "softening up" bombardment . . . flatten the deadly pill-boxes.

That's what your War Bond money does right now.

And in the future it will do still more

...both for you and for your Country. War Bonds are your safest, and smartest, investment. In ten years, they'll bring you back four dollars for every three you put in. And that money will mean purchasing power . . . for you. It'll mean jobs and a healthier economy in America.

So buy more Bonds than you've been buying. Buy more than you think you can afford.

They help toward a quicker Victory . . . and a happier peacetime for you.
