Radio Bit Actress Slain In New York

Woman Found Slain In Own Apartment

New York, July 10.—(UP)—Detectives working on the strangulation killing of blonde Sheila Mannering, radio bit actress, said today they expected a break in the case momentarily.

One high ranking police official heading the detective squad which questioned acquaintances of the slain 49-year-old woman, said: "We know who killed Sheila Mannering."

He didn't identify the suspect. But of the 55 persons, 15 of them women, questioned all during the night, two men were reported detained. Their names were not made public but information leaked from the 54th street police station that they were among the large list of names found in the west 57th street apartment of Mrs. Mannering.

The police official said he expected an arrest and formal charge of homicide would be made during the day.

The two men detained were described by police as middle-aged men engaged in the garment business.

Police commissioner Arthur W. Wallander, who took personal charge of the Mannering slaying investigation yesterday, broke off questioning early today and went home for some rest. He was expected to return to the case later today and it appeared the predicted break would come after he had resumed his investigation.

Mrs. Mannering, known professionally as Beale K. True, was found strangled in her seventh floor mid-Manhattan apartment early yesterday by her maid. Police established the time of the slaying as between 3 and 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

a blessing. Polio likes hot, dry weather. In 1946, March was extremely hot and dry, although April was cool.

While the year is half gone, there is still time for serious outbreaks of polio, and the foundation reported it and its county chapters are better prepared than ever to meet an emergency.

During the 1946 epidemic—second worst in the nation's history—the foundation and the county chapters expended more than $12,000,000 in the care of polio victims.

The foundation's funds were almost depleted at the end of 1946, but are now enriched as a result of the 1947 "March of Dimes" campaign. The donations, now exceeding $16,000,000, will be the greatest ever made by the American people. Foundation officials said the final figure would be announced within a week or 10 days.

During the last six months, the foundation has sponsored preparedness meetings in at least 18 communities, which, according to the four to six year cycle, may be susceptible to polio this year. These communities include Massachusetts, southern Illinois, North and South Carolina, Wyoming and Ohio.

If polio gets no worse during the next two weeks, it was said, then the country should escape a serious outbreak in 1947.
