Indiana Ranks Loop's Second For Offense

Chicago, Feb. 5—(UP)—Indiana's fast breaking basketball team was the paradox of the Big Nine statistical picture today.

Branch McCracken's speedy Hoosiers have won only two in six league contests, but Indiana has outscored its opponents collectively by 16 points and has netted an average of 2.7 points per game more than its rivals.

(Thus the Hoosiers, tied for seventh place, are the only second division team with a statistical edge. And the advantage can be traced to two overwhelming Indiana victories on the Hoosier floor, a 71 to 54 win over Ohio State and a 65 to 43 trimming handed Minnesota.

In their other conference games, the Hoosiers lost to Wisconsin at Bloomington by four points and on the road dropped contests to Purdue by nine, Iowa by nine and Illinois by one counter.

The other three second division teams, Minnesota, Ohio State and Northwestern have scored fewer points than their rivals, and as should be expected, all five first division clubs have the statistical edge.

In point-making Ohio State, deadlocked with Indiana, still ranks as the most powerful team with a 58.5 average. But the Bucks are still the poorest defensive quintet. Ohio's opponents have averaged 62.7 points per game.

Indiana ranks second in offense while Iowa is third and league-leading Wisconsin seventh. On defense, fourth place Michigan is the best, holding its opponents to 47.6 counters per game, Wisconsin is second and Illinois third.

In the individual scoring race Murray Wier's 20 points against Northwestern advanced him into first place in the total points column with 138 for six games. However Jim McIntyre of Minnesota, last week's leader, is still ahead of the Iowa star in average points per game. McIntyre has connected for 25.6 points in each of the five games Minnesota has played while Wier's average is 23. Bob Cook of Wisconsin, winner of the individual scoring crown last year, was idle during the week, but held on to third place with a total of 93 for seven contests.

Bill Sticklen of Northwestern made the biggest jump in the top ten scorers with 16 points against Iowa to increase his total to 81 for six games. This jumped him from ninth to fifth place. Dick Schnitker, Ohio State, counted 12 points against Michigan to go from fifth to fourth.

Two Novi Governors Entered At Speedway

Indianapolis, Feb. 5—(UP)—A pair of Novi Governor specials were entered for the 1948 500-mile race at the Indianapolis speedway today, and the track's most experienced drivers were nominated to pilot them.

One of the cars finished fourth in the 1947 Memorial Day grind. The cars were entered by W. C. (Bud) Winfield, who designed them for owner Lou Welch.

Winfield named as drivers Cliff Bergere, former Hollywood stunt man, and Chet Miller. Together, Miller and Bergere have 11,000 miles of actual competition on the Indianapolis track to their credit. Bergere hasn't missed a race since 1927 and has driven 6,417.5 miles. He and Miller rank one-two in miles of competition on the speedway among drivers still active.

The 32nd annual speedway classic is scheduled for May 31 this year, because May 30 falls on Sunday.

Winfield, announcing his entry of the two Novis, said difficulties which the cars experienced in the 1947 race had been eliminated during test runs on the speedway last fall.

In the 1947 grind, Bergere's vehicle was forced out early in the race with a broken piston. Later, Bergere took over the sister model, which was started by Herb Ardinger, and finished in fourth place. Miller did not drive last year. It was the first race he had missed since 1930.

Bergere qualified for the race last year at a speed of 124.957 miles per hour. The time placed him in the middle of the first row of starters. Ardinger qualified at 120.773 and had the pole position in the second row.

The Novis were considered chief threats to the supremacy of Lou Moore's Blue Crown Spark Plug Specials which were the first vehicles entered this year. The Moore entry finished one-two in 1947, and Moore is building a third model to enter in the impending grind.

In the 1946 time trials Ralph Hepburn drove a Novi to the track record for a single lap, 134.449 miles per hour.

German Commander Is Suicide Victim

Nuernberg, Feb. 5—(UP)—Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz, former German commander in the Netherlands, committed suicide by leaping over a guard rail in Nuernberg prison today only a few hours before he was scheduled to go on trial for war crimes with 13 other Nazi military leaders.

Blaskowitz jumped the guard rail outside his cell while on his way to breakfast. He landed in the courtyard 30 feet below and died at 9:20 a.m. of multiple injuries, including a crushed chest.

Every man needs to inspect his convictions often lest they degenerate into mere prejudices.

Linn Grove Church Names New Pastor

Berne, Feb. 5—Duane Schrock, of Gridley, Ill., a student at Taylor University, Upland, is the new pastor of the Linn Grove Congregational Christian church, effective immediately. He is studying for the ministry. He is married and he and his wife will spend their week-ends in the parsonage at Linn Grove. The parsonage is now being remodeled and made strictly modern. Schrock succeeds the Rev. J. Robert Covert, who recently accepted the pastorate of the Congregational Christian church at Cairo, Ohio.

lique reference to the "like for prestige" boom. Referring to his statement that he could not and would not accept a presidential nomination he said:

"In the last 10 days or two weeks I've lost whatever news value I ever had."

Most of his talk was devoted to the nation's security problems. This talk was followed by questions from the newsmen present.

REVISES FORECAST

today and more was expected today. An 8-inch fall was reported at Pittsburgh.

High winds drifted the snow in New York state, hampering rail and auto traffic, but flight schedules at LaGuardia and Newark airports were not disrupted.

The weather bureau said a new cold front was moving toward New York today.

Temperatures in much of the nation have been normal or below normal continuously since Jan. 12. Jacobson said, and the cold will last as far ahead as the weather bureau can predict.

Heavy rains fell in parched southern California last night for the first time in more than a month.

Lack of fuel oil and gas continued to hamper the industrial regions of southern Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Nearly 300,000 workers were without jobs in those areas because of industrial shutdowns caused by the shortages.

Minneapolis and St. Paul fuel dealers reported it was becoming more difficult to get enough oil for their customers. Minnesota fuel conservator James W. Clark said they were short 30,000 gallons each day.

A tow boat preceded by two icebreakers plowed through the ice-choked Illinois waterway yesterday bringing 350,000 gallons of oil to northern Illinois communities. The boat towed the first of seven oil barges which have been locked in the channel for the past 12 days by ice.

The barges carry an estimated 3,000,000 gallons of fuel oil, and 22 other barges frozen in the waterway contain 30,000 tons of coal destined for Chicago and other northern Illinois communities.

RECOVERY FOR

them. The UN found the world critically short of food, throttled by inflation and shortages and lacking the dollars to buy almost everything it needs.

The year 1947 is called "a year of frustrated hopes."

The world food shortage is so bad, it said, that "the word crisis is an inadequate term."

The document contained these other highlights:

1. Without naming names the report underscored the need for recovery programs like the Marshall plan, but it said the mainspring of reconstruction must be the vigor and resources of the individual nations whose economies are sick.

2. The only cure to the shortage of dollars plaguing the globe is increased production abroad and increased imports by the United States.

3. In the face of this need, American exports have climbed to one-third the whole world total while imports have gone up only slightly from mid-1945.

4. Global food production has fallen 7 percent below pre-war and this is being distributed so poorly that parts of the world get 30 percent less than before while other peoples — including Americans — are eating as much as 15 percent more.

5. The rest of the world—except perhaps for Russia—depends on the United States for machinery and materials to get production started but is so starved for dollars lars it cannot pay for them. 6. While the sum total of world production now looks fairly healthy on paper, this is so only because the United States has increased output on a tremendous level while all the rest of the world has fallen behind.

7. There have been "changes" in the world situation as a result of the immediate postwar years. Seeds of even greater changes are beginning to sprout in the developed countries of America, the middle east
