Schuman Called To Form New Cabinet

Ramadier Fails To Form Government

Paris, Aug. 20 (AP).—Former premier Robert Schuman, whose government toppled last month over his opposition to cutting the French armed forces, was called upon today to form a new government.

Schuman was asked by president Vincent Auriol to try to build a coalition cabinet together after former premier Paul Ramadier made a quick weekend attempt and admitted failure.

Schuman is expected to give Auriol a definite answer by the end of the day on whether or not he can form a cabinet.

Auriol was understood to be opposing long negotiations on grounds they would open the door to the two extremes represented by the communists and the Gaullists. Schuman is a popular Republican and Ramadier is a Socialist. Ramadier announced he could not form a government because the radical Socialists, considered a middle of the road group along with the Socialists and popular Republicans, refused to give him full support.

The crisis, which sent France into her third day without a government, was considered to be the most serious in the brief life of the fourth Republic.

It has been precipitated, as was the crisis that toppled Schuman's coalition government last month, by France's severe economic and financial difficulties.

Solution of the crisis calls for drastic retrenchments in government spending and other financial and economy measures which the Socialists in the government of premier Andre Marie refused to endorse. Marie's government fell Friday night.

A strike at the Campbell, Wyant and Cannon foundry in Muskegon, Mich., had interrupted delivery of castings and caused a shutdown of the Hudson plant on July 30.

HERE IS THE SOVIET'S four-phase strategic plan for final mastery over the United States, as outlined in the unofficial Field Artillery Journal by Col. Conrad H. Lanza. He writes that the plan was made in November, 1947, and distributed confidentially to satellite states, for their guidance. Note that the phases carry Soviet pressure westward to the satellites, then to the continental "western powers"—France, Italy, Western Germany—then to Great Britain. America is the final and ultimate objective. (International) away. Rhyner said this tended to support the theory that the plane had been blown apart by a tornado or some other violent wind phenomenon.

The plane was flying from Chicago to Minneapolis and Duluth. Shortly before the crash, pilot Robert Johnson of St. Paul radioed that he was then over Lo Crosse, Wis., and flying through thunderstorms at 7,000 feet.

A few minutes later he reported to NWA headquarters in Minneapolis that he was "descending."

That was the last heard from the plane's radio.

Folks Like These... get 7/10 of all Dividends... all Interest... all Rent

You often hear:
... that a very few, very wealthy families own most of the stocks and bonds in America's vast industrial empire
... that all they do is "clip the coupons" while the money rolls in
... that they and their rich friends collect most of the rents and hold most of the mortgages
... that they sit back and collect most of the interest
... that they live off the fat of the land without lifting a finger.
But let's see what REALLY happens:
Take all the dividends from stocks
... plus all the interest from bonds and mortgages

... plus all the interest from savings accounts
... plus all the rent from real estate.
Add them all up...
And you'll find that seven-tenths (70%) of all this "income from investments" goes to people whose incomes are less than $100 a week!
Not to the wealthy few.
Not to the well-to-do.
No... not to them.
Instead... it goes to average folks who average less than $5000 a year!
People like those in the picture.
Not one of them has an income over $100 a week.

Yet, according to official U.S. tax returns, more than seven-tenths (70%) of all income from dividends, interest and rent goes to folks like these... whose incomes are less than $5000 a year!
What does this mean?
It means that the lion's share of America is owned by average men and women.
It means that these folks are the real "capitalists" of the U.S.A.
It means that they get most of the profit, because they put up most of the money that buys the tools and property that make the jobs.
It means that you don't have to be rich to share in the rewards of America's "capitalistic" system.

Many organizations and publications have reprinted the messages we usually run in these pages, so we're happy to be able to give you an excellent example of what at least one of them is saying further about the benefits of the American way of life.
